

Pass In Review

This weekend will be one of the most "occupied" free weekends in the history of the school. Under the heading of "Free Weekend" come the following required events: all graduating seniors will take Graduate Record Examinations from 8:30 a. m. until 5 p. m. Two sections of junior military science students will have a night tactics problem Friday night and a day tactics problem Saturday morning. After these events, all junior military science students get summer camp shots at the hospital.

Many of the sophomore military science students will be taking physicals for advanced contracts Saturday morning—and for some reason, a sizable number of freshman weekend passes have been cancelled, just to keep the general trend in operation.

One sophomore in the 1st Brigade signed up for guard duty this weekend to get out of drill. Three hours later, he sadly viewed the posting of the weekend order—"Free Weekend." He promptly pawned his obligation off on a sophomore buddy who hadn't seen the weekend order.

Another sophomore, (1st Brigade, also) was surprised when a delegation of juniors crowded into his room demanding an explanation of the official-looking sign on his door. The sign read, "First Corporal." Its origin was soon traced to his sophomore buddies.

A large poster advertising Carlos Montoya's performances tonight and tomorrow, set up in the Chemistry Building, says: "Appearing in Quion Hall." The poster, printed in New York, proves Yankees can't spell.

Ad in yesterday's Battalion for one of the local drive-in theatres: "Inn of the Sixth Happiness" with Polly Bergman plus "Let's Make Love" with Marilyn Monroe plus "How To Stuff A Woodpecker."

The bugler in the 2nd Brigade area has a problem. Every time he starts blowing "To The Colors," he is attacked by a gargantuan bulldog. Needless to say, the traditional bugle call has been slightly off-key, lately. (The bugle also has several new dents in it.)

And a recent visitor on the campus during High School day became rather skeptical of going to A&M after noting deplorable conditions of local pool halls.

Written on an extremely appropriate wall in one of the dorms at about eye level: "Smile, Aggie, you are on Candid Camera."

A certain Aggie Wife got quite a shock one night this week when the door at the Triangle Restaurant believed to be an exit, led to the Men's Room. A hasty exit followed!

From the just out issue of the A&M Engineer: Chemical Analysis of Women
ATOMIC WEIGHT: Reputed to be 120. Isotopes are known through 90 to 180.
OCCURRENCE: Found both free and combined. In combined state it is found with man.

PHYSICAL PROPERTIES: All colors, sizes and shapes. Seldom found in pure state. Boils at nothing and will freeze without reason. Surface is usually covered with film of paint or oxide in various colors and depths. Unpolished specimen turns green in presence of highly polished one. All varieties melt if used correctly. Density is not so great as generally supposed.

CHEMICAL PROPERTIES: Highly explosive and dangerous in inexperienced hands. Extremely active in the presence of men. Possesses great affinity for gold, silver, platinum and all precious stones. Has the ability to absorb great quantities of expensive food and drink. May explode spontaneously when left alone with man. Sometimes yields to pressure. Fresh variety has great magnetic attraction, but ages rapidly.

USE: Chiefly experimental. Efficient cleaning agent. Acts at a positive or negative catalyst in the production of fevers.

UNSOLVED PROBLEM: The thing that mystifies many engineers is that the most streamlined specimens offer the most resistance.

THE BATTALION

Opinions expressed in The Battalion are those of the student writers only. The Battalion is a non-tax-supported, non-profit, self-supporting educational enterprise edited and operated by students as a journalism laboratory and community newspaper and is under the supervision of the director of Student Publications at Texas A&M College.

Members of the Student Publications Board are L. A. Dueswall, director of Student Publications, chairman; Allen Schrader, School of Arts and Sciences; Willard I. Truetzner, School of Engineering; Otto R. Kunse, School of Agriculture; and Dr. E. D. McMurry, School of Veterinary Medicine.

The Battalion, a student newspaper at Texas A&M, is published in College Station, Texas, daily except Saturday, Sunday, and holiday periods, September through May, and once a week during summer school.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in the paper and local news of spontaneous origin published herein. Rights of republication of all other matter herein are also reserved.

 Arkansas State Board of Health—Agricultural economics and sociology, biology, chemistry, education and psychology, English and history.
 Henke and Pillot—Accounting, business administration, agricultural economics and animal husbandry.
 Hughes Tool Co.—Mechanical engineering (B.S.).
 Rockwell Valves Inc.—Industrial and mechanical engineering (B.S.).

PEANUTS

By Charles M. Schulz

Minds are different, too. You can't ink them and roll them and press them on hard-finished white paper. But you can test them, mold them, nurture them, shape them, stretch them, excite them.

And challenge them. At Cal Tech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, that's all we do. The products of these minds are spacecraft and instruments that will explore the Moon and planets and communication systems to probe outer space.

It's a big responsibility. And it requires the finest young scientific and engineering minds this country has to offer. Many, many minds that work as one. Minds such as yours, perhaps. Won't you come in and talk to us? If you have a mind to?
