

Aggie Rodeo Team Places Third In Arlington Meet

A&M's Rodeo team placed third behind McNeese State and Sam Houston at the Arlington State College Rodeo last weekend.

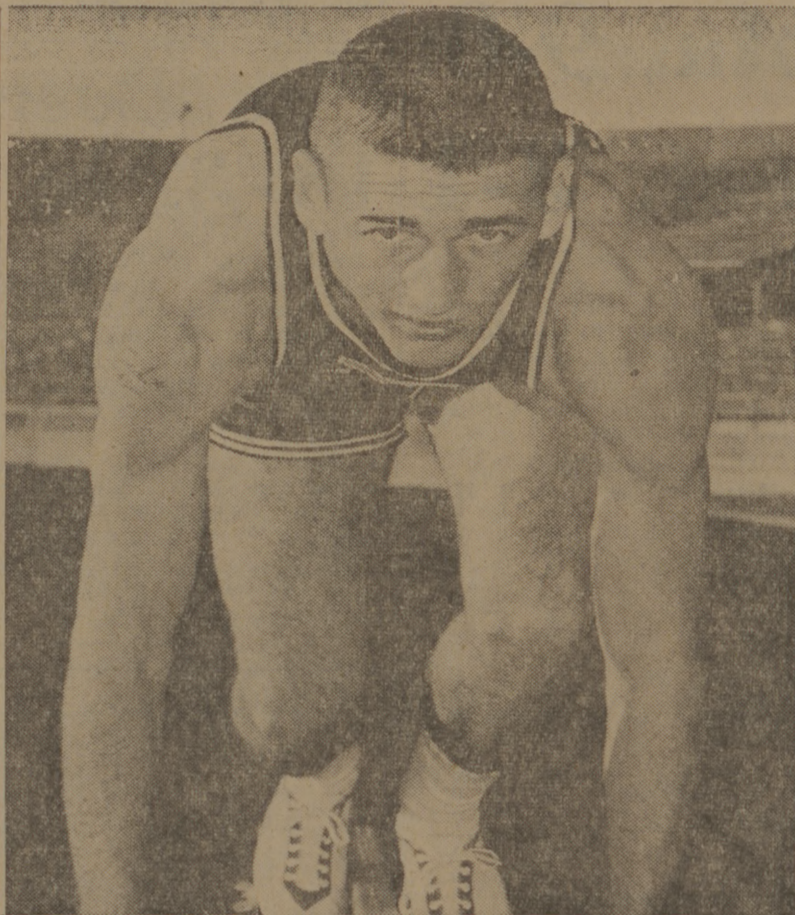

Thirteen schools were represented at the meet.

At the end of the first performance Friday night, the Aggies were leading the pack, but a series of bad breaks in the Saturday's performance pushed the Aggies down to third place.

The Champion All-Round Cowboy saddle went home with Wayne Foster of McNeese. The All-Round Cowgirl saddle was won by Karen Bland of Sam Houston.

A&M's Rodeo team will see action next in San Marcos on March 29-31 at the S.T.S.C. Rodeo.

Nine members of the 1961 Syracuse football team have signed professional contracts.

Ags To Abilene For Cinder Meet

The cream of Texas' track teams will settle in Abilene Saturday as the ACC Wildcats play host to the Aggies, Texas Tech and Houston in a quadrangular meet.

The Cougars from Houston and ACC have track teams comparable to ones of their past and the two along with the Red Raiders should prove stiff competition for Coach Charlie Thomas' corps.

ACC is studded with Olympian Earl Young and Dennis Richardson while UofH still has Barrie Almond and Pat Clohesy.

A series of bad breaks have hit the Aggies lately as the top five sprinters are suffering from pulled leg muscles. Terry Robinson, a top discus thrower, pulled a back muscle Sunday and will not compete in the meet.

Thomas indicated that several of his sprinters will run, but not in their specialties. Curtis Roberts, who has missed the majority of the season, will run the quarter while Ed Williams and Gene Dornak will run the 880.

Thirty Aggie thinclads will make the trip to the Key City with the top men being Thad Crooks, top distance runner; Danny Roberts, weightman; E. L. Ener, distances; Ihan Bilgutay, distances; Thomas Burns, hurdles; and R. E. Merritt, relayman and sprinter.

The Aggies will travel to San Angelo on March 31 for the annual San Angelo Relays which should draw top track men from around the state.

Fish Thinclads In Debut Friday With 4-Way Meet

Coach Charlie Thomas' freshman track team will make its debut at 3 p.m. Friday on Kyle Field.

They meet the frosh of Rice, Baylor and Texas in a quadrangular track and field contest.

Of interest to all will be the performance of Ted Nelson in the 100-yard dash. He is entered in that event, the 220, and two relays. Nelson took second last Saturday, turning in a 9.4 time in a special 100-yarder against former Texas star Ralph Alspaugh at the West Texas Relays in Odessa.

In the 100-yard dash and the 220, Nelson will be pitted against good men in Ralph Miller and David Colley of Texas, Sam Hawn of Rice, Stan Long of Baylor and A&M's Ronnie McNeil.

Feature Race Should Be Mile Relay

According to Thomas, the mile relay should be the feature event of the afternoon. "The Texas freshmen bring a fine relay team to the meet," he said.

All four schools will have good teams entered in the 440-yard relay.

Three men who turn the mile in close to 4:20 will be featured in that event. They are: Herby Campbell of A&M, Duncan Mason of Rice, and Preston Davis of Texas.

Jim Lancaster of Baylor will be the man to watch in the shot-put.

Lancaster, David Glover of All and Rice's Russell Wyatt are former high school state champions. In high school competition, Glover, who has finished a season of basketball for Shelby Metcalf, tossed a platter 182.5. This mark was among the five top high school throws in the country that year.

The high jump will feature John Collins and Jerry Cole of Baylor. Collins once cleared 6-7 in high school.

The pole vault will also feature three high school state champions: Warren Bratloff of Rice, Le Poland of A&M and Robert Lee of Texas.
