Three A&M agreement states such scholarships—totalling $260,000 from the Trans- Pennsylvania Golf Association—will be made to George E. Turner of Weatherford; D. P. Stalcup, Big Spring; and J. W. Ellis, Abernathy, for the association; Charles D. Berry of Jacksonville and Charles B. Curry of College Station.

The Saints, first place winners in the Wayfarers, made an in-

Regional Training
By C. F. Wootan, assistant head

A&M's Aeronautical Branch Bibliography

Two Researchers Study A&M Naval Contracts Here

Agronomy Students Win Scholarships

Two scientists from the office of the Secretary of Agriculture, Che- nery, Illinois, Chicago, still visit the Department of Agricultural Economics. They are Prof. Louis R. Kestens, associate pro- fessor of agricultural economics, and Joseph M. Krygier, assistant professor of agricultural economics and sociologist. They are interested in the progress of naval contracts awarded to A&M. They will also assist receive in coming years the contracts.

NATIONAL PROBLEMS: Topic of Meeting

Two new scientists from the Department of Agricultural Economics, Chicago, still visit the Department of Agricultural Economics. They are Prof. Louis R. Kestens, associate professor of agricultural economics, and Joseph M. Krygier, assistant professor of agricultural economics and sociologist. They are interested in the progress of naval contracts awarded to A&M. They will also assist in coming years the contracts.

NATIONAL PROBLEMS: Topic of Meeting

Two new scientists from the Department of Agricultural Economics, Chicago, still visit the Department of Agricultural Economics. They are Prof. Louis R. Kestens, associate professor of agricultural economics, and Joseph M. Krygier, assistant professor of agricultural economics and sociologist. They are interested in the progress of naval contracts awarded to A&M. They will also assist in coming years the contracts.

NATIONAL PROBLEMS: Topic of Meeting

Two new scientists from the Department of Agricultural Economics, Chicago, still visit the Department of Agricultural Economics. They are Prof. Louis R. Kestens, associate professor of agricultural economics, and Joseph M. Krygier, assistant professor of agricultural economics and sociologist. They are interested in the progress of naval contracts awarded to A&M. They will also assist in coming years the contracts.