Palace
Through Tuesday—★★★"Walk on the Wild Side" Tennessee Williams-like is perhaps the best way to describe "Walk." It's the tacked-on "like" that hurts; hurts, that is, if the viewer expects characters to exhibit an artistically conceived consistency. Granted that Jo (Barbara Stanwyck) is a humdinger of a madam-Lesbian. Granted that Hallie (Capucine) comes off well as a too-sensitive, too-reluctant prostitute. And granted that Dove (Laurence Harvey) fill satisfactorily his role as the obstacle between Jo and Hallie. But when is who what? Jo often seems only Hallie's friend; Hallie often seems a rather efficient and willing harlot; and Dove often seems a naive buffer rather than an alert separator. Had Tennessee Williams done the screenplay, the viewer would come away thinking, not wondering.

Queen
Through Saturday—"Fascination"—unreviewed—and ★★★"The Perfect Furlough" In "Furlough," Tony Curtis portrays a soldier whose attempts to Don Juanize are eventually restricted to his female chaperone.

Campus
Through Saturday—★★★★★"The Mark" Fuller (Stuart Whitman), a recently paroled sex offender, gets a job and falls for a somewhat older woman (Maria Schell) than he had previously been attracted to. Everything looks to be on the up and up. But all goes sour when a nasty old journalist writes a nasty old scandal for the nasty old minds of the nasty old townspeople. Then, of course, Fuller has troubles. Not to mention a lot of nastiness to deal with. Yet, no matter how trite the plot might sound, "Mark" still emerges as a remarkably fresh, well-founded expression of the idea that "evil is in the eye of the beholder." For the journalist is prudish, the scandal is distortive, the minds are receptive, and the townspeople are, as are most of us, typical. Struggling hard to satisfy this nation of sentimentalists, the film's makers insert, toward the end, a bit of anti-Freudian psychology. Despite this, despite anything, see this one.

Sunday through Wednesday—"The Bramble Bush"—unreviewed—and ★★★"The World By Night" "By Night is a sometimes risqué sojourn through the world's more famous nightclubs and gambling halls. New York is there, Las Vegas is there. Paris is there. Bryan, for some reason, is not there.

Skyway
Saturday—"Careless Years" and "A Private's Affair" and "Sierra Baron"—All unreviewed. Sunday through Monday week—"Whistle Down the Wind"—unreviewed—and ★"Pepe" The latter is a very long, very corny, very pretentious travelogue.

Guion Hall
Saturday—"House of Wax"—unreviewed—and ★—30—"The latter, starring Jack Webb, gives a sad, exciting, tumultuous, fake insight into a newspaperman's life.

Sunday—★★★"Bachelor in Paradise" previously reviewed.

New Government Group Organizes

The newly organized Civilian Student Government Interest Committee met Tuesday night under the sponsorship of the Civilian Student Council.

Purpose of the meeting was to present the first annual civilian student government report of civilian activities and to discuss the spring elections for all student government positions.

Doug Schwenk, president of the Civilian Student Council, in speaking at the meeting, stressed the need for civilians to accept the responsibility of student government positions.

Schwenk went on to state the objectives taken up by this year's CSC and the goals which were achieved by the Council. In closing, Schwenk urged that next year's council strive to reach new heights.

(Editor's note: The following letter was mailed to President Earl Rudder on Mar. 21, following the annual High School Career Day on the campus.)

Mr. Earl Rudder, President, A&M College: Dear Sir:

It was a real pleasure to visit A&M last Saturday. The purpose of this note is to thank you and all those responsible for making "Career Day" possible for interested boys and their parents. I realize, and appreciate, all the preparation involved in making this a successful event.

The young men in charge of our tour were most kind and courteous, and we found that to be true with every student we met. Your friendly "Howdy" made us feel right at home.

Again, thank you for your interest in future Aggies. I feel that my son has made a very wise choice.

Tareyton delivers the flavor
DUAL FILTER DOES IT!

"Tareyton's Dual Filter in duas partes divisa est!" says Ursus (Bear Foot) Sulla, popular Coliseum bear fighter. "We animal wrestlers fight tooth and claw to get to that first post-fight Tareyton," says Bear Foot. "De hoc smoke, Tareyton's one filter cigarette that really delivers de gustibus!"
