

Daniel, Whittenburg Warn Of 'Federal Encroachment'

By The Associated Press
A Democratic and a Republican candidate for Texas governor warned voters Thursday of the danger of federal encroachment.

Gov. Price Daniel told more than 300 East Texas residents in Beaumont that unless they act to form a state park in the Big Thicket Area the federal government will take over the area.

Roy Whittenburg told a San Angelo Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting that the United States is threatened with dictatorship unless federal usurpation of states rights is halted.

Whittenburg, a Republican candidate, commented that some persons think he speaks more of national issues that state issues. "We have no national issues which are not state issues," he said.

Whittenburg returned to Amarillo late Thursday.

Daniel ended his Big Thicket tour at Lufkin. He has a luncheon in San Augustine Friday and an appearance in Woodville.

Daniel's office announced his endorsement by the Victoria Advocate.

In Crockett, John Connally criticized the administration of Daniel and in Waco, Marshall Formby criticized Connally.

"We've been getting a lot of talk from the governor but no action," Connally said. Connally repeated a prediction that he could cut state governmental operating expenses 10 per cent, if elected governor.

Connally attended a reception in Houston Thursday night and continues his campaign in Harris County Friday.

"Connally, who, when asked, ranks himself above everyone else, could be termed the leap frog candidate," Formby said at a youth forum in Waco. "He has leaped over from national politics to state politics at the suggestion of Washington, undoubtedly. From a little service in the office of Secretary of Navy he is trying to leap into, and implant himself in, the office of Governor of Texas."

From Waco, Formby returned to Austin for the weekend before a campaign next week into Northeast and North Central Texas.

Don Yarborough opened his Fort Worth headquarters Thursday. Friday he heads for the Beaumont-Port Arthur area. Yarborough spoke to supporters on his campaign theme of "Make Texas First."

Will Wilson flew to Dallas late Thursday to talk with campaign workers about a heavy campaign schedule next week. He planned to remain in Dallas Friday, then go to Houston Saturday.

Edwin A. Walker was a luncheon guest Thursday at a Palestine civic club meeting. He visited Madisonville, Crockett, Elkhart, Fairfield and Mexia before reaching Corsicana for a night speech.

Republican candidate Jack Cox returned from a Wednesday night speaking engagement in Texarkana to his Breckenridge home on Thursday.

Oceanographer Continues Study In Gulf Of Mexico

Roy D. Gaul, research scientist for the Department of Oceanography and Meteorology, left Sunday to continue research on Project 286(D), an environmental study of the Gulf of Mexico off Panama City, Fla.

Sponsored by the Office of Naval Research, the project is collecting data on the meteorological, water surface and underwater aspects of the Gulf.

Three separate facilities currently used by the project are a fixed platform about 12 1/2 miles offshore from Panama City, a receiving station ashore at Panama City Beach and the Data Processing Center here.

The research collected from the offshore platform will be first sent to the onshore receiving station and then to the Data Processing Center for final recording and reduction. The data will be stored for future use.

Data collection is accomplished primarily at Stage I. The platform, 105 feet square, is sitting in a normal water depth of 100 feet. Stage I was designed to accommodate 30 persons for 30 days without shore-based support.

The meteorological and oceanographical instruments fixed on the platform collect general information on the marine environment and surface geology of the area.

Gaul, principal investigator for the project, is personally concerned with the phenomenon of internal waves. He is expected to return this week.

Advisory Group For Journalism Meets Saturday

The Journalism Advisory Council will hold its spring meeting Saturday at 10 a.m. in Nagle Hall, according to Delbert McGuire, head of the Department of Journalism.

The Council is composed of 13 professional practitioners in communications media.

Staley McBrayer, newspaper publisher from Arlington, is chairman of the council. Arthur Angrist, director of employee publications for the Ford Motor Co., will attend from Dearborn, Mich.

At a luncheon to be attended by wives of council members and members of the A&M administration and their wives, Dean Frank Hubert of the School of Arts and Sciences will speak.

A 2 p.m. Saturday the group will attend the Texas-A&M baseball game at Kyle Field.

FIGHTING TENNESSEAN

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Occupying a place of honor in the home of State Atty. Gen. George McCasless is an unsigned portrait of a Civil War veteran who never talked about his experiences.

Hints of Jake Donelson's little-known war record appear in an almost illegible note attached to the portrait:

"Jake Donelson, Co. H, 3rd Tennessee Regiment, C. S. A.

"Enlisted at Camp Cheatham, May 1961. Captured at Fort Donelson, Feb. 16, 1862. Prisoner seven months and two days at Camp Douglas, Chicago. Died at Crossville, Tenn., 1964. Buried with military honors."

Jake Donelson of the Confederate Army was a Tennessee rooster.

Baby chicks can't talk — we know that. But we wonder what this little chick would think if chicks could think? Probably he's bewildered . . . a great big world . . . great big problems . . . an orphan already . . . and hungry! Yet, there's deep meditation here. Man is often like that little baby chick; bewildered, confused, wondering . . . especially those on the threshold of a new life or venture. We don't know all the answers, of course, but we do know some! We do know how to reach our Creator (PRAYER), how He reaches us (BY HIS GRACE). We also know that the most serene place for such communion with the Creator is in church. Here you'll find many answers to many problems. It's worth a try, isn't it?

New venture

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
