

Tilt!

Pretty employes of the $10 million U. S. Science Pavilion at the Seattle World's Fair seem off kiel as they view a lop-sided Old West Town scene in one of the exhibits built to show how natural senses are fooled by optical illusions. Actually it's girls at right who are standing straight. All scenes in the exhibit are tilted. It makes you lose your balance by optical illusion. Posing as mannequin is Jeanne Wilson. Others are Judy Hanson and Mrs. Joan Peterson, right, all are of Seattle. (AP Wirephoto)

'Notable Books' At Libraries

The 1961 Notable Books List will be available at Cushing Memorial Library and its branches next week preparation for National Library Week, Apr. 8-14, said Robert A. Houze, director of the A&M library system.

The list is a selection of those books published in 1961 which contribute significantly to literature and general knowledge.

Both the list and National Library Week are designed to draw attention to the reading of good books. Books on the list were selected by the Notable Books Council, Adult Services Division of the American Library Association.

Thirty-eight libraries from all sections of the country assisted in compiling the list. Each year, the books listed win the majority of the national literary awards.

"The books are exceptionally worthwhile by virtue of their literary excellence, informational value and importance," Houze said.

This year, Cushing has all of the books except six. They are presently being ordered so that they may be on hand for next week's observance.

Houze said, "Sometimes we find that we have all of them when the list is released. This shows how efficient Cushing's methods of book selection are."

Civilians Urged To Attend Student Government Meeting

All civilian students interested in campus government and the furthering of civilian student body interests have been urged by Reed Armstrong, '62, to attend a meeting of the Civilian Student Government Interest Committee Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 229 of the Chemistry Building.

Purpose of the meeting is to encourage civilian students to file for student government positions and support the campaigns of civilian candidates already in the running.

Long-range objectives of the interest committee are stated as the recognition and representation of the civilian student body on the campus. The committee points out that civilian students comprise more than 50 per cent of the student body but are underrepresented in A&M student government.

Henry L. Scott, Piano-Humorist, To Play In Guion

Henry L. Scott, noted piano-humorist, brings his Broadway show, "Concerto For Fun," to Guion Hall Monday and Tuesday beginning at 8 p.m.

Scott, called by Life Magazine the "Will Rogers of the piano," concludes this season's scheduled Town Hall Series presentations with a one-man concert of music intermingled with his own brand of humor.

Reserve seats are $3 and general admission tickets are $2.50. Reared in Tivoli-on-Hudson, N.Y., Scott started playing the piano at the age of 4. He studied piano through high school and graduated from Syracuse University as a piano major. It was there that Scott got the idea of combining humor with concert piano.

After attending the Mannes School of Music, N.Y., he spent eight years auditioning, doing orchestral work, trouping, teaching, studying and doing odd jobs in his efforts to develop concert humor.

Since then Scott has spent the last 10 years traveling widely in the U.S. and Canada. He has appeared twice in Carnegie and Town Hall. His symphony appearances include the Toronto and Rochester Symphonies, the Buffalo Philharmonic and the Cincinnati Orchestra.

Scott has made films for Paramount and Warner Bros. and has recorded several albums.

Scott writes all of his musical sketches and arranges most of the popular compositions played on his program.

He is also a master of controlling his audiences; never temperamental, Scott finds it hard to perform before movie or television cameras. He feels the eyes, ears and laughter are essential elements that mean his audiences are having a good time.

AMONG THE PROFS

Professors Present Articles Recieve Awards, Promotion

Reservoir water resistivities in the Denver Basin, which extends from central Nebraska into central Colorado, are the subject of an article by Dr. William L. Russell professor of geology at A&M, in a recent issue of The Bulletin of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

The investigation on which the paper is based was supported by a research grant from the American Association of Petroleum Geologists and by the Texas Engineering Experiment Station. Russell is currently on leave of absence to do special work in South America.

Dr. Rudolf A. Jimenez, assistant professor of civil engineering and assistant research engineer of the Texas Transportation Institute at A&M, will present a paper at the International Conference on Structural Design of Asphalt Pavements at the University of Michigan on August 20-24, 1962.

Jimenez co-authored the paper with Bob M. Galloway, research engineer, and professor of civil engineering at Texas A&M. Its title is "Behavior of Asphaltic Concrete Diaphragms to Repetitive Loading."

The Ann Arbor conference will be a world forum for presentation of engineering concepts on the structural requirements of asphalt pavements. Speakers from France, England, India, Holland, Israel, South Africa, Argentina, Canada, and the United States are expected.

D. C. Carter, instructor in the Department of Wildlife Management, will lead a wildlife expedition to Mexico from June 4 to Aug. 31 to collect specimens of bats and frogs for use in research.

Members of the expedition will be Carter, Doug Robinson and Ronald Pine.

Dr. Earl H. Knebel, Head of the Department of Agricultural Education, was recently promoted to the rank of major in the Air Force Reserves. Knebel is education and training officer for the 9412th Air Force Reserve Recovery Squadron at Easterwood Airport.

Jack V. Walker, instructor in the Department of Nuclear Engineering, has been awarded a distinction year fellowship by the Eastern Fellowship Fund of Hills, North Carolina.

Girl Watcher's Guide

Presented by Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes

LESSON II - Where to watch girls

Although girl watching may be practiced in any place and at any time girls are encountered (see above), certain locations deserve special mention for their consistently high levels of both quality and quantity. The east side of Fifth Avenue between 51st and 59th Streets in New York City is perhaps the girl watching center of the world. Other such locations are: Via Veneto in Rome, Champs Elysees in Paris, Oude Zyds Achterburgwal in Amsterdam and Sugarbush, Vermont (January through March). Experienced girl watchers recommend these places with utter confidence (just as experienced smokers recommend Pall Mall for complete smoking pleasure).

PALL MALL

Compare all three! Smoke "traveled" through fine tobacco tastes best. See the difference! With Pall Mall, you get that famous length of the finest tobaccos money can buy. Pall Mall's famous length travels and gentles the smoke naturally... over, under, around and through Pall Mall's fine, mellow tobaccos. Makes it mild... but does not filter out that satisfying flavor!

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!

So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!
