

Water Polo Team Goes To Nationals

Coach Art Adamson's water polo team left last night for West Point, N. Y. to compete in the Jr. National Water Polo Tournament. The tourney will be contested among about 12 teams, including Army, Navy, New York Athletic Club, Princeton, Yale and other eastern schools.

A&M is the only southern team entered and the Ags will field a powerful team in an all-out effort to bring a National trophy back to College Station.

The team is undefeated in the last five years, with victories over Texas Tech, New Mexico Military Institute, Air Force Academy and the Houston-Aggie exes.

A&M team members are:

Major Leagues Trim Rosters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Major league baseball clubs were trimming their rosters Wednesday with the teams limited to 25 players after the midnight deadline.

Several teams were already down to the player limit although each had been allowed to carry 28 men for the first 30 days of the season.

Milwaukee sold Don McMahon, veteran relief pitcher, to the Houston Colts of the National League in a straight cash deal. The transaction came as no great surprise because the 32-year-old McMahon told newsmen he wanted a change of scenery while he was involved in a holdout campaign last winter.

McMahon had an 0-1 record, pitching only three innings for the Braves.

Casey Stengel pared the New York Mets' roster by optioning Sherman Roadblock Jones to the Syracuse farm of the International League. Jones, 26, had an 0-4 record with the Mets after showing promise in spring training. Last year with the Cincinnati Reds, Jones had a 1-1 record.

Baltimore farmed out Billy Short, 0-0, a left-handed pitcher, and Ossie Virgil, 29-year-old utility man, to Rochester of the IL.

The Orioles made room for the return of pitcher Jack Fisher from the disabled list by selling first baseman-outfielder Marv Throneberry to the Mets in a cash deal. Throneberry will join the Mets in New York Friday. At that time the Mets will have to cut one player.

The Cincinnati Reds cut their roster to 25 by optioning rookie pitcher Sammy Ellis to San Diego, subject to recall on 24 hours notice.

Ellis, 21, worked in four games and compiled a 1-1 record and an earned run average of 12.52.

Tunney Hunsaker Leaves Hospital

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP) — Heavyweight fighter Tunney Hunsaker, smiling and waving from an ambulance cot, left a hospital Wednesday, bound for his home at Fayetteville, W. Va. He was accompanied by his wife, Phillis. Hunsaker, 32, was hospitalized Apr. 6 after receiving a brain injury in a fight with Joe Shelton of Cleveland.

SWC Track Meet Is Friday

By VAN CONNER
Battalion Sports Editor

Southwest Conference sports for the 1961-62 season will end this weekend at Waco with the track, golf and tennis finales. The highlight of the activities will be the SWC track meet.

That no one team in the conference can be safely picked to win the track meet, is the general consensus of sports writers and coaches across the state. A few have picked Texas, perhaps the strongest contender, but others mention A&M, SMU and Baylor as teams to watch.

All things taken into consideration, Coach Charlie Thomas' thinclads will enter the season terminator with a good chance to sneak away with the top honors. They have depth, which has showed up as they placed high in all but three events last week in Austin, and top overall performances throughout the season.

And they have great performances in sophomore weightman Danny Roberts, senior 880-man Thad Crooks, junior distanceman E. L. Ener, and a 440 relay squad consisting of Curtis Roberts, Ed

Williams, Gene Dornak and George Tedford.

Roberts leads a crew of three formidable weightmen; himself, Terry Robinson and Charles Tie-mann. The trio has dominated weight events in all the intra-conference meets so far this season. Roberts has yet to lose against SWC competition. He broke the A&M shot put record this season with a 57-1 1/2 toss at the A&M-Rice-Texas triangular (old record was 57-1 1/4 by Darrow Hooper in the 1952 Olympic trials).

Crooks has spent the season shaving time off records for A&M that he set last year and this year. Last week at the Austin triangular, he turned the 880 in 2.6 seconds faster than the first record he set his junior year. He came in with a 1:50.2 behind Longhorn Loy Gunter's sizzling 1:50.0 (best SWC 880 time this season). Crooks had already set an A&M mark of 1:51.4 earlier this year.

Ener is another school record-setter in the distance events. He turned in a 9:17.9 at the Drake Relays three weeks ago. Ener finished second in the mile run last week with a 4:19.8 behind

Longhorn Steve Strickland's 4:17.5.

High jumper Don Deaver has yet to be defeated in an SWC meet this season. His best effort has been 6-4 in the Dallas Invitational, A&M-Rice-Texas triangular and the A&M quadrangular. James Daniel gives depth in the high jump, having placed high in most competition this year.

The Ags are pretty well out of the picture in the pole vault with SMU's Dexter Elkins, Rice's Fred Hanson and Texas' Baylus Bennett dominating the scene. All eyes will turn on the vaulters, however, as theirs will be one of the highlight events of the afternoon.

A&M will be a strong contender in the relays, both 4x100 and mile. Williams, Dornak, Tedford and Curtis Roberts have placed high in their events all season, and will be sure point-getters Friday.

The only safe picks for winning performance in the meet will be Longhorn Ray Cunningham in the hurdles and Rice's Ed Red in the javelin.

It's points that count for overall honors, however, and the meet will probably go to one of the consistent depth squads like A&M or Texas.

Entering the season finale, SWC track and field marks stand as follows:
