Cadet Corps Awards Feature Parent's Day

G-1 Dominates Outfit Honors

Outstanding cadets and units of the Corps of Cadets have been honored for their achievements during the 1961-62 academic year.

Academic standards, military proficiency, leadership and participation in campus activities were factors taken into consideration in making the choice. A board of officers from the School of Military Sciences made the selections.

Chosen as the winner of two awards for an outstanding cadet unit was Company G-1 commanded by Cadet Capt. John F. Imle Jr., from San Antonio. He personally won the cup and key presented to the outstanding company commander in the Corps.

Imle and his unit also received the General George F. Moore Trophy for having the highest overall general rating, the General Spender J. Buchanan Award presented to the best company of engineering students, and was named as one of the four best units in the Corps.

CSC Presents '62-63 Awards At Banquet

Civilian Student Council President Doug Schwenk was named the outstanding CSC member at the council's eighth annual banquet Monday night in the Memorial Student Center.

Schwenk, '62 business administration major, was presented the award, a walnut plaque, on the basis of a secret vote made by the members of the council. Robert O. Murray, CSC adviser, made the presentation.

Ronald Kleibrink, '63, received a plaque as the outstanding Apartment Council member for the 1961-62 school year.

Winner of the annual housing unit award, also presented by Murray, was Puryear Hall. Allen Frederick, Puryear dormitory president, and Chris Galindo, CSC representative from Puryear, accepted the award.

Outstanding service awards presented to CSC members were given to Lelve Gayle, George Blackmon and Frederick Kahn.

Appreciation awards, annually presented to non-councilmen who have worked with the CSC, were given to Charles Dyer, Mike Carlo, Bill Flynt and Robert Murray.

Eighteen council members received service keys for their work on the 1961-62 CSC.

Guest speaker at the banquet was President Earl Rudder. Rudder commended the council for its work and spoke on student life at U.S. colleges and A&M.

MCNEESE FIRST

Ags Take Second In Annual Rodeo

McNeese State College came from Lake Charles, La., and took back many of the top honors and 401 total points in the annual A&M-NIRA rodeo last weekend.

A&M's team placed second in total points with 244, followed by Sam Houston State with 187.

All-around champion cowboy for the contest was Wayne Foster of McNeese. Jeanie Joiner and Karen Bland, both of Sam Houston, tied for all-around cowgirl of the show.

Honors in the individual events went to as many people as there were events, with no person taking two events. Winners and their colleges were:

Tie-down calf roping—Donas Mathison of McNeese.

Ribbon roping—Richard Walker of Southwest Texas Junior College.

Steer wrestling—Chuck Coates

of Sam Houston.

Saddle bronc riding—John Young of A&M.

Bareback bronc riding—Bobby Rudasill of A&M.

Bull riding—Wayne Banford of McNeese.

Girl's barrel racing—Dianne Loyd of Kilgore Junior College.

Goat-tying—Jeanie Joiner of Sam Houston.

As a result of their placings, two Aggies will travel to Denver, Colo., in June for the national NIRA event. Bubba Wingate and Everett Farthing will represent A&M in the annual event in the Bronc riding competition.

Other Aggies placing in the A&M event were Brazos Varisco, who was third high in the tie-down calf roping. Lynn Turner had the second high average in the tie-down calf roping and third in one of the bulldogging contests. Eddie Farris placed fourth high in the bulldogging and took third in bull riding.

Keith Kidwell placed third in the first go-round of the bulldogging, and Tom Holiday had fourth high average in that event. Dick Withers placed first in one of the ribbon roping events, and fourth in the second go-round of the tie-down calf roping.

Tom Foster had a second place in the bulldogging. Jerry Moore was second high in the saddle bronc riding, and Paul Kiker placed fourth in that event. John Beal took first in the second go-round of bulldogging.

Saddle And Sirlain Awards Presented At Annual Banquet

The Department of Animal Husbandry presented its annual awards this weekend during the Saddle and Sirlain Club's Banquet and Cattleman's Ball.

Jimmie L. King of Monahans was the winner of two of the top awards. A senior in animal husbandry, King was presented the Ammie E. Wilson award and the Roy A. Brewer award.

Another outstanding winner at the ceremonies was John Kuykendall of Cherokee, who was presented the Jack Estes Jr. Award by Estes, and the Meat Laboratory Award by Dr. Z. L. Carpenter of the Department of Animal Husbandry.

Kuykendall won the two honors for selling more than $1,000 worth of hams in A&M's annual Little Southwestern Livestock and Ham Show. He is the incoming president of the Saddle and Sirlain Club. Kuykendall also was named its outstanding junior members at the banquet.

Two honorary members were named to the club. They were Hosa Rogers of Sterritt in Ellis County, prominent Poland-China hog raiser and past president of the Texas Swine Breeders Association, and C. Albert Martin of Menard, Delaine sheep and Hereford cattle raiser.

The Block and Bridle Merit Trophy Award went to another top student in the department, Donald R. Beervinkle of Temple. Presenting the award was Dr. G. M. Watkins, A&M's director of agricultural instruction.

Another student from Temple, C. A. Smith, was presented the T. D. Tanksley award. The honor goes to the individual in the Fish-Sophomore Judging Contest who has the high score in swine and pork judging.

In the Fish-Sophomore Judging Contest, first place among freshmen went to Franklin Reagor of Llano, who also was named the Saddle and Sirlain Club's outstanding freshman. Smith was selected as the winning sophomore. Larry Osborn of Llano presented the awards.

The club named Steve Hammack of Ferris as the outstanding sophomore member. Jim Brim of Brownwood, outgoing president of the club, was master of ceremonies at the banquet.

Ring Dance Ticket Sale Deadline Near

Tickets for the annual Senior Banquet will go off sale at the cashier's desk in the Memorial Student Center Wednesday, according to John Waddell, president of the senior class.

Ducats for the Senior Ring Dance, which will follow the banquet Saturday night, will be on sale until 4 p.m. Friday and at the door.

Ross Volunteers Name Roger John New Commander

Roger M. John, '63 from Houston, Monday was elected commanding officer of the Ross Volunteer Company for the 1962-63 school year.

John, a cadet master sergeant on the First Brigade Staff, was elected in a meeting of company juniors Monday afternoon.

The company, which serves as the honor guard for the governor of Texas, performed for the last time this year at Parents' Day activities Sunday.

Other company officers elected Monday were:

Charles Nichols of Big Lake, executive officer; Fred K. Blackard of Mount Pleasant, administrative officer; Tom Nelson of Bryan, first sergeant;

Ray Kappel of New Braunfels, first platoon leader; Sheldon Best of Miami, Fla., second platoon leader; and Windol Weaver of Del Rio, third platoon leader.

Best was named Sunday as the best drilled private for the current year.

Sportsmanship Group Asks For Lower Guest Ducat Cost

Efforts aimed at decreasing the cost of guest tickets to Southwest Conference athletic contests were initiated at the spring meeting of the Southwest Conference Sportsmanship Committee in Waco Saturday.

Delegates from seven of the eight SWC schools approved a plan for each individual school to send resolutions to the business manager of the Southwest Conference Athletic Association, asking for a uniform price of $2 for football guest tickets.

At most conference schools, football guest tickets cost $4, while students from the visiting school are admitted for $1.

The proposed resolution also called for a provision permitting only students to buy the guest tickets. According to the resolution, guests will also have to be accompanied by students before they can be admitted at the reduced price.

Resolutions from each conference-member school are expected to reach the SWC business manager by the end of the present school term, with possible action hoped for by next fall.

Delegates also discussed the possibility of informal meetings of student leaders before each SWC conference football game next fall.

The plan was approved, with each school to work out the details for the meetings, probably to be held on the field immediately prior to game time.

WORLD NEWS
JAKARTA, Indonesia—The man who failed in the latest attempt to kill President Sukarno was identified by a Sukarno aide Monday as a young member of the fanatic Darul Islam sect that wants to make this country of 90 million officially a Moslem nation. More than 90 per cent of the Indonesian people are Moslems.

The assassination attempt—the fifth against Sukarno in recent years—occurred during a Moslem prayer meeting on the lawn of Sukarno's palace.

ALGIERS, Algeria—Algerian commandos suddenly dropped their self-restraint under goading of Secret Army Organization terrorism Monday and raced through Algiers in the first major anti-European rampage since the March 18 cease-fire.

French authorities said Moslem machine-gunners firing from speeding cars killed 18 or more persons and wounded at least 54, nearly all of them Europeans.

Secret army terrorists, fighting to keep Algeria French, were blamed for 10 other deaths, including three Moslem women.

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court upheld criminal convictions of two widely known labor union figures, ex-Teamster Union President Dave Beck and Carpenter's Union President Maurice A. Hutcheson.

Appeals by both hinged on the stormy 1957-58 hearings by the Senate rackets investigating subcommittee and their repeated refusal to answer questions.

WASHINGTON—Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said Monday a woman employe of the Agriculture Department was "railroaded to a mental institution for no reason other than that she knew too much" about the Billie Sol Estes case.

Williams made the assertion in a Senate speech, asserting that the woman, Miss Mary Kimbrough Jones, was guilty of nothing "other than refusing to cooperate in covering up corruption" in that agency.
