

YoungRepublicans Watches Given To Meet Thursday To First Place Math Winners

The Young Republicans Club will hold its final meeting of the year Thursday at the Memorial Student Center in Room 2-A at 7:30 p.m., according to Joe Horn, club chairman.

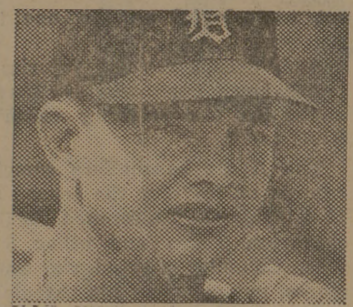

J. J. Treacy of the Department of Economics will speak on "The Fiscal Policy of the Federal Government," Horn announced. Plans for next year's membership drive will also be discussed.

John M. Fitts, '64 electrical engineering student from Midland, and Alexander H. Treadway, '63 aeronautical engineering student from Dallas, captured first place spots in the annual Mathematics Contests conducted last week by the Department of Mathematics. Both first place awards are engraved wrist watches.

Second place in the sophomore contest, with an award of $15, went to Jerry L. Burnett, mathematics major from Brownsville. John C. Holliman, chemical engineering student from Dallas, won the third sophomore prize of $10.

Winner of second place and $15 in the freshman contest was Michael E. Durbin, mathematics major from Dallas, while the third freshman prize of $10 went to David A. Borg, aeronautical engineering student from Corsicana.

The contests, each consisting of two-hour examinations, were held Tuesday, May 1, with nineteen freshmen and eleven sophomores participating. All awards in the freshman contest and the second and third sophomore awards are provided by the Robert F. Smith Memorial Fund.

HOW THE PITCHERS GANGED UP ON NORM CASH
Norm Cash is the Tiger's fair-haired boy. But to enemy pitchers, he's a prime target for bean balls. In this week's Post, you'll meet the A.L. batting champ. And learn how the pitchers put him to a grueling test last spring.

Former Fish Drill Team Members To Hold Fete At Lake

The Association of Former Fish Drill Team Members will hold a picnic Thursday evening to honor new members from the current Freshman Drill Team.

Roger John, president, advises that the picnic will be held at Hill-top Lake Thursday, at 5:30 p.m. Tickets for the picnic will cost $1 each, John stated. The tickets may be purchased from various members of the association. Barbecued beef plates and cold drinks will be served at the picnic.

Plans and ideas for the drill team competition scheduled for next December will be informally discussed at the picnic, John said. The association plans to invite drill teams from colleges and high schools throughout the southwest to this competition.

AMONG THE PROFS

Four A&M Professors Author Teaching Booklet

Four A&M professors are co-authors of a booklet just off the press, "Handbook for Student Teaching."

The authors are Dr. Paul Hensarling, head of Department of Education and Psychology; Dr. Carl Landiss, professor of health and physical education; Dr. Leslie Hawkins, professor of industrial education; and O. M. Holt, associate professor of agricultural education.

The booklet was written under the direction of the Council On Teacher Education for student teachers, co-operating teachers, school administrators and college supervisors.

Dr. Chris Groneman, head of the Department of Industrial Education and co-ordinator of the Council On Teacher Education, said the purpose of the handbook is to identify and clarify certain elements of the student-teaching process.

Dr. Raymond Reiser, professor of biochemistry and nutrition, will present a paper at the International Congress of Biochemical Problems of Lipids July 23-27 at Birmingham, England.

The scientist will spend several weeks in Europe to give papers and to study research developments at the Unilever Research Laboratories at Vlaaringen, Holland; the University of Dijon in France, and other places.

Dr. I. W. Rupel, head of the Department of Dairy Science, will be installed as president of the American Dairy Science Association at its annual meetings June 7-14 at Beltsville, Md.

Rupel will then travel to Europe by way of Eastern Asia and the Near East, visiting universities and dairy research activities enroute.

He will be a delegate to the 16th International Dairy Conference Sept. 2-7 in Copenhagen.

Dr. A. B. Wooten, associate professor in the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology, will participate in a special series of two courses sponsored by the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers June 18-July 14 at Southern Methodist University.

Two members of the Department of Education and Psychology will be commencement speakers at high schools in this area.

Dr. Paul Hensarling, head of the department, will address graduating students at Centerville May 22 and at Mexia May 29.

Dr. Walter Varvel, professor of education and psychology, will deliver commencement addresses May 24 at Thorndal and May 25 at Kennard.

Dr. Paul Hensarling, head of the Department of Education and Psychology, will serve as consultant for the Texas Education Agency at two workshops.

The workshops are set Wednesday and Thursday at Odessa College, Odessa; and May 21-22 for the Dallas School System at Dallas.

Hensarling will serve on an advisory committee on leadership training workshop programs in general adult education. The committee is appointed by the State Board of Education.
