WILLIAM H. FREIBURGER ... cut hair of 4 presidents

Barber Of Four Presidents, Two Governors Is Retiring

A barber who has shaved the heads of four college presidents and Texas governors is retiring after 43 years of clipping hair.

William H. Freiburger will hang up his clippers May 31 after serving as manager of the Memorial Student Center barber shop since the building was opened in 1950. His replacement will be Edwin L. Novosad, a co-worker and former College Station barber. Novosad also joined the MSC staff in 1950.

Freiburger, born in Illinois in 1893, came to Texas five years later and settled in Greenville, where he attended public schools.

A veteran of World War I, he became a barber in 1919 in Sulphur Springs. Four years later, he moved to Texarkana to barber for 13 years. In 1936 he purchased a shop in Hooks, near Texarkana, and remained there for four years before moving to College Station. Freiburger likes to talk about the changes that have taken place in the barber shop work during his hair clipping days.

"When I first started," Freiburger recalled with a grin, "we cut hair with shears and shaved the necks all the way around."

The whole business was revolutionized with the advent of clippers in the early 1920's, he pointed out. "But basically, the hair styles didn't change much until the crew cut and duck tails of the 1950's. During the depression, though, we cut hair pretty close," Freiburger commented.

Shaving is a lost art, he said.

Hot and cold running water in the homes and better shaving equipment are the reasons given by Freiburger for the decline in customer requests for removal of five o'clock shadows.

"We only get one or two customers a week asking for shaves," he said.

Freiburger lists some of his more prominent customers as former governors Pat Neff and Jimmy Allred, in addition to four A&M presidents since 1950.

Nurserymen Will Appeal Products Tax Problem

The Texas Nurserymen's Association plans to take its problem of ad valorem taxes on nursery products to the Texas Supreme Court through an application for Writ of Error.

Alvis Vandygriff of Austin, attorney for the nurserymen, said Monday that a recent appellate court decision from Amarillo called for "nursery products" to be lifted out of their tax-exempt agricultural classification and placed under ad valorem taxes.

Vandygriff was a speaker at the 25th annual Conference for Texas Nurserymen and Landscape Horticulturists last weekend.

The ad valorem classification, he said, would open the door for cities, counties and school districts to levy taxes on growing "nursery stock." Nurserymen want to keep their products in the agricultural category and will carry the fight to the State Supreme Court.

On other tax matters, the attorney told the nurserymen that there will be extensive state sales tax reorganization measures offered at the next regular session of the Texas Legislature, including a straight tax across the board eliminating all exemptions.

Another change to be offered will be the method of tax collecting on nursery products, Vandygriff said.

The nurserymen heard a wide variety of talks on the problems and progress of landscaping and the raising and marketing plants. They also toured research facilities.

Sponsors of the conference are the College in co-operation with the Texas Nurserymen's Association.
