Ransom Foresees 4th Win In 1963

A&M's golf coach is a professional who has the knack of teaching his collegiate proteges to play like pros.

The record of Coach Henry Ransom speaks for itself—three seasons, three Southwest Conference team championships.

Ransom's pro tour victories number many, but it appears that his coaching triumphs will some day challenge his personal wins.

Not satisfied with three conference victories in a row, Ransom declares next season as the one when he might have his best group of college linksmen to date.

"I expect to have a better team next spring than the one which took the title this year. We will have Harry Hoskins (Fort Worth), Eugene Byrd (Stephenville), and Ralph Johnston (Queens Island, N. Y.) returning, and that's a good nucleus for a winning club," Ransom said.

Byrd and Hoskins played fourth and fifth for the Aggies this year and Johnston was ineligible as a junior after first enrolling at North Carolina State to begin the term. Unbeaten in the SWC with a 7-0 record as a sophomore, Johnston later changed his mind about changing his alma mater and returned to Aggieland.

These are the returning Cadet golfers who must be beaten if any of this year's good freshmen are going to break into the lineup.

"It can be done," says Ransom, who lists nine sophomores-to-be that rank highly with him. They include Jeff Andrick of San Antonio, Don Custer of Corpus Christi, Ed Roberson of Freeport, Jay Ferguson of Dallas, Royce Roberts of Austin, Richard Ratliff of Silsbee, Bernard Hoffart of Conroe, Mike Ford of Andrews and Bobby Nichols of Monson, Mass.

Lost to the 1963 team through graduation will be John Lively, Jr. of Athens, Jim Fetters of Port Arthur and Dickie Duple of Galveston.

Lively was the 1962 Southwest Conference singles champion, carding a 72-hole total of 284 in medal play at Waco.

Lively and Duple tied for the honor in 1960.

The Aggies' team records inside the conference the past three years were 28½-13½ in 1960, 34-8 in 1961 and 28½-13½ this year. Ransom and golf became synonymous when he began to caddy at the age of seven at the old Houston Country Club. It was here, just a block and a half from Ransom's home, that the Aggie coach met one of the state's most colorful professionals, Willie Maguire, now deceased. Maguire served the club as its pro for more than 39 years.

Ransom turned professional in 1934 at the age of 23 after not having had any formal training in golf at Sam Houston High School.

He began playing in the big tourneys, and these are some of his accomplishments: Won the Texas PGA and Texas Open in 1941, St. Paul Open in 1946, Illinois PGA in 1948 (birdied eight of the last 11 holes to come from three shots back to win by three strokes), Wilmington-Azalea Open in 1949, World Championship at Chicago in 1950 (won playoff from Chick Harbert at Tam O'Shanter), River City Open in 1955 (birdied 18th hole to tie and then birdied first extra hole to win), Texas Open in 1957, Texas Senior Championship and Texas State Open in 1961.

A member of the Ryder Cup Team in 1951, Ransom has served six country clubs as a playing pro—North Moore CC at Highland Park, Ill., Pine Lake CC at Detroit, North Hills CC at North Hills, Penna., Glen Garden CC at Fort Worth, Golferest CC at Houston and the Bryan Country Club.

It was while he was at the Bryan club that Ransom taught former Aggie Bobby Nichols, one of the top-ranked golfers on the current pro tour.

Record-Setting Added Miles Too
 According to baseball news when Stan Musial got his 14th hit last week, a single against Dodgers, he not only broke Wagner's National League record but must have broken some other record too.
 The hit was his 2,100th and he has 699 doubles, 171 triples and 449 home runs. "The Post" has covered over 100 miles running out these hits.

"COLLEGE WEEK" IN BERMUDA WHERE THE GIRLS ARE!
 Each spring, thousands of well-heeled kids cut loose in Bermuda. In this week's Post, you'll find out what really goes on at these beach-house binges. And why one youngster says: "You're supposed to go home paler than you came."
