HEADS STUDENT BODY

Student Senate To Governing Group

The central governing body of students on the campus is the Student Senate.

The Senate is set up to determine and conduct matters of general student concern that may arise at various times of the year.

Objectives of the Senate are to act as the official voice of the student body, to promote the student body's general welfare and to provide a liaison between the administration of the college and the students. The Senate also provides opportunity to train students in the responsibilities and mechanics of democratic government and citizenship.

Officers Elected
The officers of the Senate are elected by the student body in a general election held at the end of each school year.

A senior, junior and sophomore representative is elected from each major school at the time that the officers are elected.

Four freshmen representatives will be elected immediately following the November mid-semester grade reports and they will take office at that time.

The Senate is divided into four standing committees.

The Student Life Committee strives to develop healthy student attitudes on such campus problems as an honor system and the purposes of a college education. They also attempt to develop better staff-student relationships.

The Student Welfare Committee recommends policies or changes concerning the College Hospital, Dining Halls, dormitories and landscaping. They also regulate all student welfare fund drives.

Issues Discussed
The Issues Committee proposes to the Senate resolutions on state,

SHELTON BEST
... Student Body President

THE AGGIE BONFIRE
... symbol of Aggie Spirit

Bonfire Symbol Of Aggies' Spirit

When that stack of logs above is ignited Wednesday before the A&M-TU game, the flame of the Spirit in Aggies' hearts glows as brightly as the fire.

It is the culmination of long, hard hours spent in the woods surrounding the school—hours of gang-hauling logs from the cutting area to the stacking area behind Duncan Hall.

The first parties hit the woods usually the weekend before the bonfire and begin cutting the logs for the stack. Then they are hauled out and loaded on flat-bed trucks that various companies have given the Aggies for that use.

Usually, two or three power cranes have also been loaned to the school, with drivers, to stack the gigantic logs on the stack. Weary and footsore, but the real spirit of A&M, Aggies gather around the stack for annual Bonfire ceremonies.

A yell practice is held, and is usually the best of all, every Aggie and many visitors their voices in the "Spirit of Aggeland" and the many yells.

The next step is either Field at A&M, or the University of Texas Memorial Stadium, for the A&M-TU game, which is a battle, regardless of either standing in the conference.

A phrase heard around school shows how far this dominates the Aggies:

"We may be outscored, but we are never beaten."
