

Remodeling Of North Gate Area Approaches Final Completion Stage

North Gate Construction

Workers are shown during reconstruction of the Houston Street entrance - exit thoroughfare to the college. When completed the work should improve the appearance and traffic flow of the North Gate area.

Work is fast nearing completion on beautifying and improving the traffic flow in the North Gate area by converting Houston Street into a major entrance-exit for the college.

W. Howard Badgett, manager of the physical plant here, said the use of Houston as the major thoroughfare would improve additional parking space near the post office and eliminate hazards involved in parking on a main street.

Previously, Houston and Bell Streets were used as double entrance-exit points from the north. Recent construction has closed Bell at the intersection of Farm Road 30, with that section of street converted into parking space. The parking area will accommodate 27 cars and will be laid out for one-way traffic in the interest of safety, Badgett said.

They receive their first view of A&M at the North Gate, Badgett pointed out.

"The overall plan is to eliminate traffic turning into a moving lane of vehicles," he said. Badgett added the college hoped that in cooperation with the City of College Station a traffic signal synchronized with the existing one at FM 60 and Main could be installed at the New Houston intersection with FM 60.

Projects under study by the Texas Highway Department and Board Backing Plans Plans for improving the appearance of this section of the campus have the enthusiastic backing of the A&M Board of Directors.

the city to develop an underpass to carry FM 60 traffic under the railroad tracks west of the new thoroughfare would add to the program, Badgett said.

Intensive development of Houston Street is underway now that the underpass development seems certain, he said.

CRACK SHOT AT 77 CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Adam Helzer of Sheridan broke 100 straight targets to tie for the championship in the Wyoming state trapshoot.

He added the hectic pace of trap shooting "doesn't bother me a bit." Helzer is 7 years old.

INCREASED OPPORTUNITIES

Interviews By Employers Will Be More Numerous

More companies than ever before will send representatives to the campus this year to interview graduating seniors and other students.

This forecast for the '62-63 academic year is contained in the annual review issued by Wendell R. Horsley, director of the Placement Office.

Visits to A&M already have been scheduled by 172 employers, as compared with 151 firms who sent representatives the past college year.

Horsley also reported all available graduates of the Class of 1962 have found employment.

"The demand for college-trained people continues strong," Horsley wrote in his summary, "especially in such areas as electronics, computer science, accounting, and physics. This year also has seen a return of demand for petroleum engineers and geologists."

He also noted "a steadily increasing call" for people who have studied at levels beyond the bachelor's degree.

Some firms send representatives during the fall, starting about Oct. 15, while others visit in the spring. Many concerns are represented at both seasons. Three hundred and thirty-eight visits to the campus have been scheduled for the new year.

Experience shows some firms interview only a handful of young men, many firms interview dozens of students with varied academic training, and a few major firms talk with as many as 240 prospective employees.

On-campus personal interviews during 1961-62 totaled 5,410.

Deadline For Fulbright Scholarships Set Oct. 20

Applications for Fulbright scholarships for the 1963-64 academic year will be received here until Oct. 20. The deadline notice came from Dr. J. M. Nance, campus Fulbright adviser.

"The Fulbright program offers an excellent opportunity for graduate study abroad to those students who have demonstrated in their undergraduate careers and through graduate work already begun, the ability to pursue advantageously advanced study," Nance said.

Two awards are available for graduate study abroad under the Fulbright-Hayes Act. One is a complete award and the other is a partial award for travel only.

Each is paid in the currency of the participating country and is made for no less than one full academic year. During that time, grants are required to be affiliated with an approved educational institution abroad.

A limited number of grants for graduate study in certain Latin American countries also are available under the Smith-Mundt Act. These awards provide travel, maintenance and tuition.

The basic requirements are United States citizenship, bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the beginning date of grant, language proficiency sufficient to carry out the proposed study and to communicate with the people of the host country, a good academic record, and good health.

Available in 34 Countries The announcement by Nance states 1963-64 Fulbright awards for graduate study are available in 34 participating countries, and the Inter-American Cultural Convention awards are available in 20 Latin American countries. Supplementary travel grants have been established for 10 countries.

Information concerning countries to which grants are available, recommended fields of study for a country, application blanks, and procedures for making application may be obtained from Nance at the Department of History and Government office, 203 Nagle Hall.

Competitions for the 1963-64 academic year opened May 1.

Seniors Plan Steak Fry For Gridders

Plans have been completed for a senior class steak fry next Thursday for members of this fall's football squad.

Class President Charles Blaschke said Wednesday as many as 250 members of the senior class will be able to attend the event at Hensel Park at 6 p.m. Admission will be $1.25 per person, with space limitations holding the number of guests to around the 250 level.

Tickets may be purchased from Blaschke or any other senior class officers. The deadline for purchasing tickets will be next Tuesday.

Other class officers are Chuck Nichols, vice president; Jimmy Scott, secretary-treasurer; Brooks Bader, historian; Reggie Richardson, social secretary; Randy Jones, student entertainment manager; and Bill Brashears, head yell leader.

Blaschke added, "Not only will the steak fry offer the opportunity for both the senior class and the football team to become acquainted personally, but it should be a good kick-off for what we hope will be a successful season. We hope the kick-off will become a tradition in following years."

New Statistics Course Opens

The first two courses to be offered by the newly-established Graduate Institute of Statistics have been announced. Details of the new master's program in statistics are expected by the middle of this semester.

The new program will be extended through the Doctor of Philosophy degree in statistics as quickly as possible, Dean Wayne C. Hall of the Graduate School said.

A&M long has offered both undergraduate and graduate work in statistics, which is an applied mathematical science. The new degree programs and related developments eventually will bring together all courses in the subject, increasing the scope of courses and research in statistics.

Courses offered in the fall semester will be Statistics 406, formerly Genetics 406, and Statistics 605, formerly Genetics 605. Dr. Rudolph J. Freund will teach the 605 course, and Dr. John D. Williams, assistant professor of genetics, will teach the 406 course this semester.

The new Graduate Institute is the first of its type in Texas. It will have a close working relationship with the A&M Data Processing Center, where Freund's office is located.

Stars On Tap For October Prison Rodeo

SPECIAL TO THE BATTALION HUNTSVILLE — A star-studded cast of the nation's entertainment and sports personalities will make personal appearances at the 31st Annual Texas Prison Rodeo here in the prison's $1 million stadium each Sunday in October.

On Oct. 7, the star attraction will be Rex Allen and his famous horse, Koko. The celebrities to be featured Oct. 14 include Anita Bryant, recording artist who rose to fame with Bob Hope; and Ann Marston, a nationally-famous archer.

For the Oct. 21 show, the star will be Willie Mays, stellar baseball mainstay of the National League's San Francisco Giants.

For the final showing of the rodeo Oct. 28, Dan Blocker, who portrays the role of "Hoss" Cartwright in the weekly Bonanza television series, will be here to round out a two-hour show, beginning at 2 p.m.

Aside from the stars, there will be inmate riders contesting prison-produced rodeo stock in a number of events. These include the mad scramble, bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, Brahman bull riding, wild horse race and the closing chariot race.

Prison musical groups will also be on hand to entertain the crowds expected at this year's rodeo. One of the groups is the Goree Girls, featuring Candy Barr, former Dallas night club entertainer.

Outside attractions will feature calf roping, quadrilles, Cecil Cornish and a Girls' barrel race.

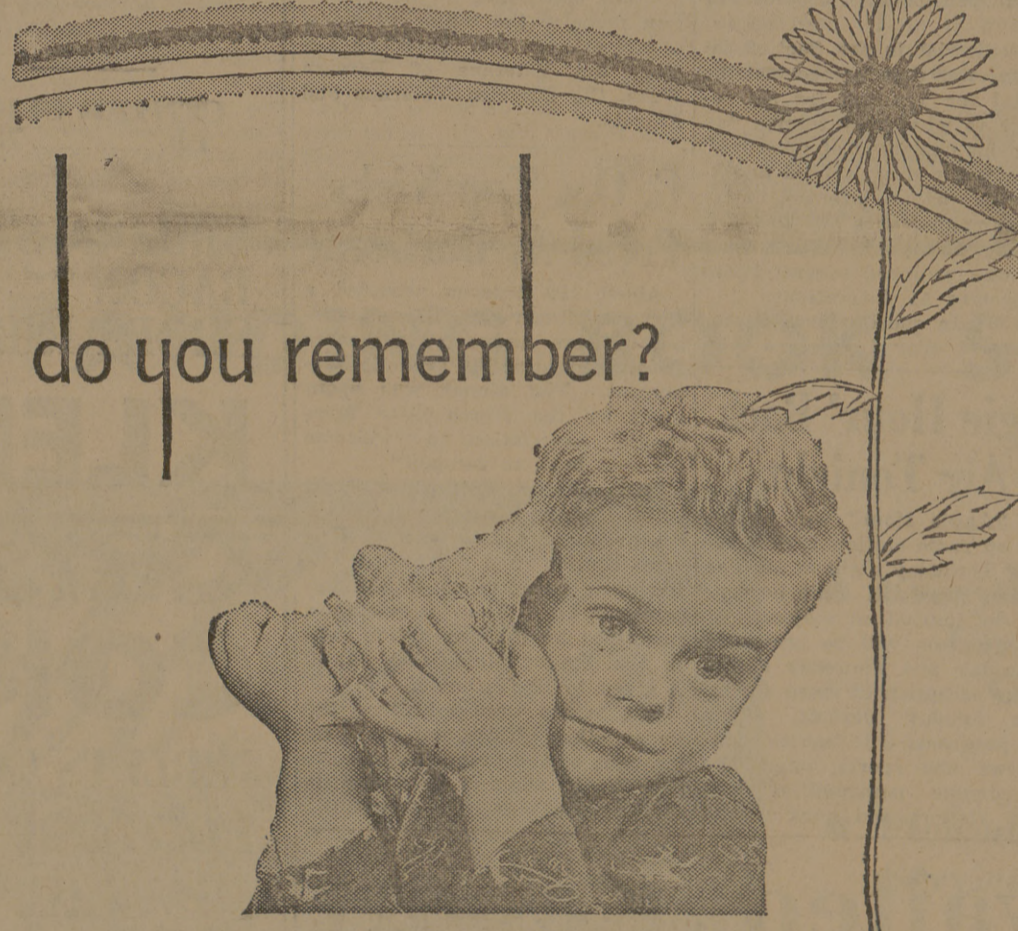

Net proceeds from ticket sales go to pay for educational, recreational and medical services not provided by the state.

Reserved seat tickets, at $2.40, $3.75 and $4.40 each, may be obtained by writing the Rodeo Ticket Office, Huntsville, enclosing check or money order.

do you remember? Do you remember the first time you listened to a sea shell? And when you watched a sunflower turn toward the sun? And when you tried to guess where the pot of gold was at the end of the rainbow? Life is full of sweet mysteries for the young. Do you remember?

In fact, life reveals even more sweet mysteries as we grow older. When we think of these things, the mysteries of life, of God's care of us, of the wonders of the universe—you know, that's a way of praying! Yes, just thinking about God.

Fortunately, too, we have the Church—your church—a place to contemplate such things, to pray, to ask questions, and give thanks to Almighty God. Go to the church of your choice this Sunday. There you will find some of the answers . . . to some of these wondrous mysteries.
