

FROM THE Sidelines

By Jim Butler

Though the old saying about winning and losing and playing the game doesn't apply to A&M, it is encouraging that the Aggies played a good game against U. of H. last Saturday. Only a few questionable penalties kept the Cadets from emerging on the long end of the score.

Coach Hank Foldberg had particular praise for quarterback Jim Keller and center Ray Kubala. Keller completed 10 of 15 passes for 115 yards and recovered a Cougar fumble on the Houston 28 early in the third quarter. Kubala played a sparkling defensive game, making several key tackles and almost single-handedly stopped a Cougar drive on the Ag 38 midway in the third period.

Aggie fans will be happy to hear that fullback Jerry Rogers' knee injury, sustained late in the first quarter of the Houston game, was not serious and that he'll be ready for service against Texas Tech.

The Aggie-Tech game this coming weekend will have three SWC statistic leaders—two from Tech and one from A&M. Cadet quarterback Jim Keller stands third in passing and total offense while Tech's Coolidge Hunt and Johnny Lovelace are third and fourth respectively in rushing.

Fish Open Against Wogs Wednesday in Fort Worth

The A&M freshman football team will open its 1962 season against the TCU Wogs at Fort Worth Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The contest marks the debut of Dick Johnson as fish coach. He came to Aggieland from Wichita University with A&M Athletic Director Hank Foldberg last January.

A crowd of more than 20,000 is expected at TCU's Amon Carter Stadium for the season's opener for both teams. The game is sponsored by the TCU Ex-Letterman's Association and draws big attendance every two years.

Names synonymous with Aggie varsity football the past few seasons dot the Aggie fish roster. Johnson can call on fullback Thomas Byer (brother of Sam), halfback Ken Caffey (brother of Lee Roy), quarterback Charles LaGrange (brother of Ross) and halfback Ted Sparling (brother of John).

Hotly contested battles for the starting quarterback and fullback posts have prompted Johnson to list three possible openers at both slots.

Bob Doshier of Hobbs, N. M., Glynn Lindsey of Mineral Wells or Eddie McKaughan of San Benito will be the man-under. Fullback duty goes to Byer of Marlin, Jerry Kachtik of Rio Hondo or Bill McBryde of Shamrock.

Other starters are Ed Breding
