

Billy Moore Heads All-America Slate

DALLAS (AP)—Billy Moore, the versatile Arkansas quarterback, acclaimed Tuesday as the top All-America prospect from the Southwest.

Members of the regional committee were ecstatic in their praise of the running, passing star of the Razorbacks, who has taken his team to three smashing victories.

Moore's showing against Texas Christian last Saturday night nailed down his designation as the leading candidate in the first report of the committee.

The group is composed of Orville Henry, Arkansas Gazette, Little Rock; Bill Van Fleet, Fort Worth Star-Telegram; Ves Box, KRLD-TV, Dallas; Walter Robertson, Dallas Morning News; Leroy Bearman, Albuquerque Journal, Dick Peebles, Houston Chronicle.

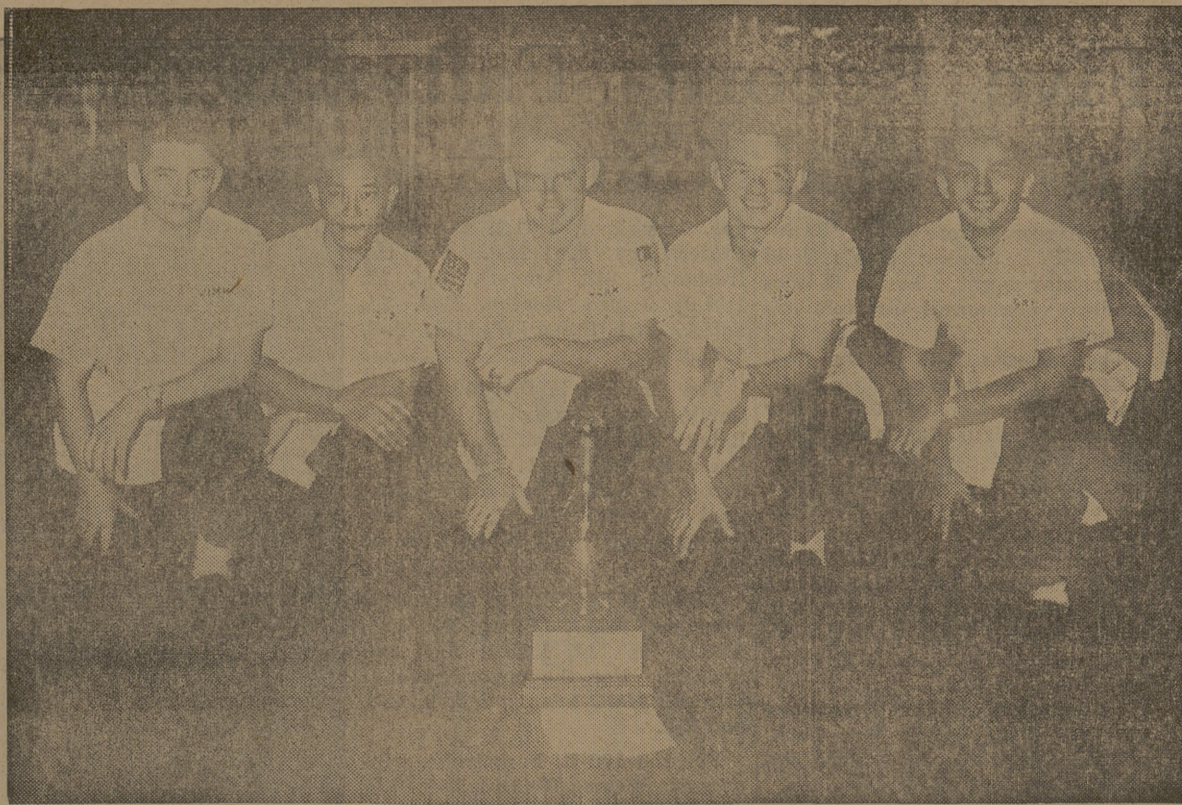

Robertson said Moore's development as a fine passer had made him the heart of the Arkansas team. "We knew he could run but never figured him to be a great passer, too," said Robertson. "He makes himself and the Arkansas team dangerous every down on the run-option."

Henry said Moore the past three weeks had been the most outstanding quarterback "I have seen in 20 years of writing football." Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas told Henry that Moore was "the greatest threat I've ever had—he opens up everything for us."

Pete Pedro, the wild running halfback of West Texas State; Bobby Santiago, New Mexico's talented runner; Ray Poage, versatile Texas fullback, and Jim (Preacher) Pilot, New Mexico State's great yard-gainer, were others getting strong backing from the regional board.

Van Fleet strongly backed Moore as the top All-America prospect, but he also mentioned Scott Appleton, the Texas tackle; Pedro, who does nothing but run "but he sure can do that," and Gene Raesz, Rice's brilliant end.

Aggie Match Team

A&M match team bowlers exhibit the trophy for winning the Texas Intercollegiate Bowling Association last season. The keggers shoot for their fourth straight title starting

Ag Kegglers Open Season Saturday

A&M's match bowling team opens its league season Saturday on the Memorial Student Center bowling lanes.

This is the fourth season for the Texas Intercollegiate Bowling Association, having been inaugurated by A&M in 1959. Members are San Antonio College, Sam Houston State, Arlington State, the University of Texas, Texas Christian University and A&M.

Cadet kegglers have won the conference every year since its inception. Prospects for a fourth consecutive win are good with two out of five top lettermen returning. They are John Tinney, senior from Longview, and Tony Servello, senior from Anaco, Venezuela. One letterman was lost through graduation, one was snagged by grades and one dropped bowling in favor of academics.

Filling out positions for the Aggies will be Button Webb, senior from San Antonio; Taylor Wong, senior from Houston; and Jimmie Guy, senior from Snyder.

Competition promises to be sharper this year, with Texas given the best chance to upset the Farmers. Texas finished second last year, getting as close as three games from the top.

The T.I.B.C. meets once a month, with each school getting the host role at least one time. At the session, each team shoots three 3-game matches against different opponents.

Bowling will start at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Alabama Ranks Number 1 As Buckeyes Fall To 10th

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

The game of musical chairs between Alabama and Ohio State in the football rankings has ended.

It may be a long time before the highly touted Buckeyes again are in the running for the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press's weekly football poll.

Unbeaten Alabama (3-0) moved up from second place to first by squeaking past weak Vanderbilt, 17-7, while Ohio State (1-1) was the victim of a resounding 9-7 upset by UCLA.

Ohio State, the solid pick in the pre-season poll and the No. 1 team a week ago, fell all the way to 10th place.

TEXAS (3-0) crushed Tulane 35-8 and advanced to second place giving Alabama run for the top position. Penn State (3-0), the pride of the East, topped Rice 18-7 and was a strong third.

Then came Southern California (4th), Mississippi (5th), Louisiana State (6th), Washington (7th), Arkansas (8th), Purdue (9th) and Ohio State (10th).

On a point basis, Alabama collected 445, Texas 422 and Penn State 321.

Only four of the top 10—Texas, Penn State, LSU and Washington—appear to be in for any kind of trouble this weekend. Southern California, which edged Iowa 7-0, and Mississippi, which walloped Houston 40-7, are not scheduled this week.

Texas takes on rising Oklahoma (1-1) at Dallas. The Sooners, who beat Syracuse 7-3 and lost 13-7 to Notre Dame, didn't play last Saturday.

PENN STATE'S Nittany Lions, who have rolled over Navy, Air Force and Rice take on Army (2-1).

LSU (2-0-1), fresh from its 10-7 triumph over Georgia Tech, entertains potent Miami of Florida (3-0) Saturday night. The Hurricanes just got by Florida State, 7-6.

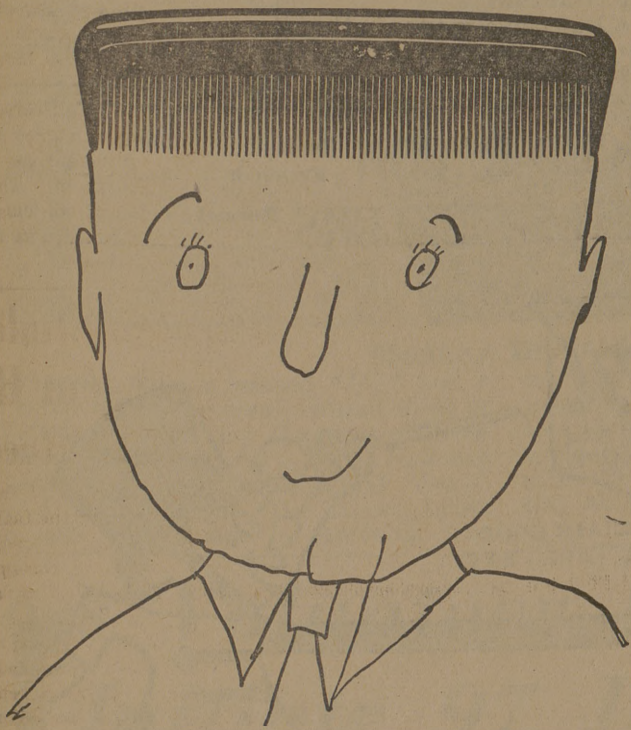

Washington (2-0-1), which slaughtered Kansas State 41-0, may have more than it bargained for in Oregon State (2-1) at Portland.

Mississippi (3-0) plays Tulane (0-3) at Jackson, Miss.; Arkansas (3-0) hosts Baylor (0-2); Purdue (1-0-1), after its 24-6 conquest of Notre Dame, is at home to Miami of Ohio (4-0), and smoldering Ohio State (1-1) visits Illinois (1-2).

The Top Ten, based on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 point system, season records and first place votes in parentheses:

1. Alabama 23 3-0 (445)
2. Texas 20 3-0 (422)
3. Penn State 3 3-0 (321)
4. Southern Cal 1 3-0 (271)
5. Mississippi 1 3-0 (218)
6. Louisiana State 2-0-1 (159)
7. Washington 2-0-1 (141)
8. Arkansas 1 3-0 (135)
9. Purdue 1-0-1 (133)
10. Ohio State 1-1 (126)
