U. S. D. A. Official Named Speaker

Dr. M. R. Clarkson, associate administrator of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service, will be one of the main speakers at the A&M Century Study Convocation here Nov. 16.

Clarkson will talk on "Veterinary Medicine — Our Responsibility to the Future" during the School of Veterinary Medicine portion of the overall convocation program.

The convocation will honor former students and members of the Century Council. The Century Council is a group of 100 Texans who recently completed recommendations for A&M's future objectives.

Clarkson is a native of Ferndale, Wash. He holds BS and DVM degrees from Washington State University and an LLB degree from Georgetown University. He is a recipient of the USDA's Distinguished Service Award and the 12th International Veterinary Congress Prize.

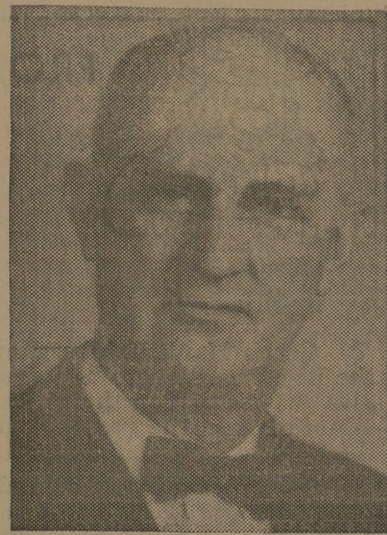

The veterinarian is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and a member of the American Veterinary Medical Association and other scientific and professional societies.

Morning sessions of the Convocation will include an open house and speakers in the schools of engineering, agriculture, arts and sciences and veterinary medicine.

The afternoon program includes the main convocation, at which James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will be the principal speaker.

Also on the program will be a report from the A&M Board of Directors. The document will present goals and aspirations of the college through its 100th year of service in 1976.

Groneman Asked To Pen References

Dr. Chris H. Groneman, head of the Department of Industrial Education has been invited to serve as a contributing author for the "Encyclopedia Americana."

He will provide materials in the fields of woodwork, plywood and veneer for a revision of the "Americana." Groneman has prepared materials on these three topics, supplemented with suitable illustrative and photographic materials.

Dr. I. W. Rupel, head of the Department of Dairy Science, is attending the annual Dairy Industries Exposition at Atlantic City, N. J.

President of the American Dairy Science Association, Rupel is visiting the exposition's annual conventions of the Milk Industry Foundation, International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, National Association of Retail Ice Cream Manufacturers and the Dairy Industries Supply Association.

Rupel said more than 20,000 persons from every state and many foreign countries are participating in the event. The huge show displays the latest developments in milk and dairy product processing equipment. It occupies all three levels of Atlantic City's Convention Hall.

Rupel attended the Dairy Society International luncheon program at which Dr. William B. Walsh, founder director of Project HOPE, was the main speaker. HOPE is an abbreviation for Health, Opportunities for People Everywhere, a people-to-people medical training mission now stationed in a Peruvian port.

Ten members of the Department of English plan to attend the annual meeting of the South Central Modern Language Association at Texas Christian University Friday and Saturday.

The Maryland State House in Annapolis is the oldest state house now in use in the United States. It was first used in 1779, while the Revolutionary War was in progress.

Four Students Win Grants From Petroleum Companies

Three winners of American Oil Co. scholarships have been announced by Dr. James D. Lindsay, head of the Department of Chemical Engineering.

Recipients of the $250 awards to chemical engineering students are:

Larry Maddox, sophomore from College Station, who is a member of Squadron 15. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Maddox Jr., 1002 Munson. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma and has been designated a distinguished student two semesters.

Gary D. Schroeder, of Grand Prairie is also among the winners. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Schroeder and a member of Tau Beta Pi, national engineering scholastic society. He is also a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Richard E. Rubac of Temple is the other winner. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil M. Rubac and a member of Phi Eta Sigma and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. He has been designated a distinguished student two semesters.

LONDON (UP)—Air Chief Marshal Sir Philip Joubert, author of a cookery book titled "One Man's Meat," deprecates the American way of eating. He describes this as "gulping down a couple of frozen cocktails, then smothering your food with ketchup and galloping through it."

Another chemical engineering major, John C. Holliman of Dallas, has been named recipient of the $500 Lubrizol Corp. scholarship.

Holliman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Holliman, has been named a distinguished student four semesters and is a member of Phi Eta Sigma. He is also a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and Squadron 9.

Seminars For Two Schools Planned

Seminars for students in the School of Engineering and the School of Arts and Sciences are being planned, Dr. Wayne C. Hall, dean of the Graduate School, said Tuesday.

The seminar for engineering students will be held Nov. 8 at 4:30 p.m. in the lecture room of the Geology Building. The arts and sciences seminar will be conducted Dec. 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the Ball Room of the MSC.

Houston Chamber To Hear Dr. Timm

Dr. Tyrus R. Timm, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology, discussed the European Common Market at a luncheon meeting Wednesday in Houston.

The Houston Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee and guests heard the economist talk on probable ECM effects upon Gulf Coast production of cattle, cotton, feed grains and rice.

Timm is an international authority on agricultural economics. Last summer, he headed a task force of American economists on a tour of Europe to study the Common Market.

BALTIMORE (UP)—Demolition of a building for urban renewal revealed a hand-lettered message beneath a false ceiling regarding the presidential campaign—the campaign of 1868, that is.

It read: "Vote for Ulysses S. Grant."
