Senate Thumbs Down Power Transfer Tries

By DAN LOUIS JR.
Battalion News Editor

The Student Senate twice voted on proposals for amendments to transfer powers presently in the hands of the Academic Council to the President's Office in action last night. Discussion of amendments among senators called forth a variety of arguments and applied logic on both sides before the questions were decided.

The powers in question concern the modification of the Senate's constitution and amendments to the constitution. At present the Academic Council acts on such changes.

The issues committee, chaired by Doug Hotchkiss, proposed the transfer of power.

"THE COMMITTEE feels that this will expedite action on proposals," said John Tibbels, representing the Issues Committee during the session.

Howard Head, Memorial Student Center Council representative, pointed out during discussion that action taken by the Senate last spring is presently held up in the office of President Rudder, and not in the Academic Council.

James P. Hannigan, dean of students, explained:

"It is President Rudder's duty to make up the agenda for Academic Council meetings."

SENATORS in favor of the proposals argued that the Senate is one of few organizations on campus that still provides for ratification by the Academic Council.

James Carter, Senate parliamentarian, said amendments now have to be ratified twice; once by President Rudder and then by the Academic Council. He expressed the opinion the process would be speeded up if only the president had to act on Senate proposals.

Opponents of the amendments urged that powers should be left in the hands of the Academic Council because while they are primarily concerned with the academic life of the student, the Council should have an insight of the workings of the student government.

Opposition also pointed out that legislation was seldom delayed by the Academic Council after it was placed on its agenda.

IN OTHER business at the regular meeting Jerry Vion, chairman of the student life committee, reported that his committee had met and studied procedures for the selection of the Aggie Sweetheart.

Vion said the Magna Carta had been examined and that further analysis would be made at meeting to be held Wednesday.

The study of the selection system was prompted by a joint meeting between A&M and Texas Woman's University representatives Oct. 20.

It was revealed in the meeting that polls at both schools have shown dissatisfaction with the present selection method.

As a special guest to the meeting, Dr. Dan Russell, professor of sociology, introduced Paul Daly, Peace Corps representative from Washington, on campus until next Tuesday. Daly spoke to the Senate on the goals of the Corps and the opportunities it offered.

Two Musicals Set Town Hall Scene

Town Hall will present two musical programs within the next few days as their 1962-63 season gets into full swing.

The first presentation will be Dick Schory's Percussion Pops Orchestra. Schory's 19 musicians will present their "new sound" at 8 p.m. tonight in the G. Rollie White Coliseum.

The percussionists will present a variety of tunes, original works and favorite light classics.

THE PERCUSSION ensemble, unique in musical circles, makes use of such instruments as sirens, brake drums and an ancient Chevrolet manifold.

Musicians are kept busy providing more conventional background as well as the "unusual" sounds.

Normal instruments are trumpets, trombones, French horns, a tuba and guitars.

Reviewers have noted in the past that half the fun is watching musicians leaping and stumbling around the cluttered stage to make the correct "clank" or "clunk" at the proper time.

THE SECOND presentation by

Town Hall will be the Leonard Bernstein Gala which will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the G. Rollie White Coliseum.

The three-part production features music of Bernstein for opera, ballet and Broadway, along with the American Ballet Theatre production of Jerome Robbins' "Fancy Free."

Presented by S. Hurok, the Gala will begin with "Trouble in Tahiti," a one act satirical opera, followed by "Fancy Free," Bernstein's first big success.

SELECTIONS from "West Side Story," "On the Town," "Candide," "Wonderful Town" and "Peter Pan" will also be presented.

Accompanied by a full orchestra, the show will feature Robert Rounseville, star of the original "Candide," and Claire Alexander, coloratura soprano.

John Kriza, one of America's leading dancers, leads the cast in "Fancy Free."

Tickets for these performances will go on sale the day of the show at the Student Programs Office in the MSC or at the door.

Silver Taps For Gilbreath To Be Held Monday Night

Silver Taps for Bobby Gilbreath, '65, will be held Monday night at 10:30 according to the office of Student Affairs.

Gilbreath, a star member of the Aggie track team, died yesterday in a Houston hospital. He was being treated for encephalitis after being stricken last Friday.

Services for the Iowa Park hurdler are pending at the Tanner Funeral Home in Iowa Park. A funeral home spokesman said his body was brought from Houston to the North Texas town last night.

Gilbreath, who clocked the fastest time in the nation last year for freshman 400-meter low hurdles, was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Gilbreath. In 1960 he led Iowa Park High School to the state Class A track championship, winning a total of eight gold medals during his high school career.

He was a member of Company H-3 and lived in Hart Hall.

Campus Chest Goal Missed, Only $300 In By Thursday

Second Wing Staff yesterday became the eighth campus organization to make a 100 per cent contribution to the Campus Chest drive. Four army outfits and two civilian dormitories also turned in money, several of them expecting to collect more, but the drive is far short of its goal according to deposit records.

Reporting to the Student Senate last night, Ken Stanton, chairman of the welfare committee, said, "Even though only approximately $300 has been turned in so far, we must remember that the majority of the military outfits and civilian dorms haven't let us know how much they have collected."

The Campus Chest is a fund made up almost entirely from Aggie contributions. Seventy per cent of the money is used as an emergency assistance fund. It is reserved for students who need help because of an accident or loss of property.

The fund has a goal of $8,000. The amount of contributions received from each organization is shown on a bar chart in the Memorial Student Center.

"I'm disappointed that everyone has waited this long to turn in their money," Stanton said.

He stated that only one-tenth of the campus organizations have made deposits and that there is more money collected but as yet unreported.

STATE CAMPAIGN WRAP-UP

Candidates Hustling Votes As Claims, Charges Fly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The candidates for Texas governor are trying to impress voters with the importance of voting Tuesday.

Republican Jack Cox said in a campaign speech that Texas voters are seeing "a pitiful display of desperation" by his Democratic opponent John Connally.

THURSDAY night Cox was in Dallas for a state-wide 30-minute television talk.

Connally spoke at a rally in San Antonio.

Connally started a new club after reaching the San Antonio airport. Calling it the "Connally 48 Club," special souvenir membership cards were given out to the audience.

In his Borger luncheon talk, Cox said, "John Connally, in his bewilderment, has thrown all caution to the winds."

HE SAID he felt safe in predicting that "we will not hear even one really constructive idea from him in the few remaining days before election."

"If we get a strong Democratic vote, Connally and the Democratic ticket will win the election by a decisive margin," Connally said.

"I wish it were possible to stop at every airport in Texas, but that is physically impossible. There will be a stop near every voter, however, and I hope to see a great many of them during the course of the tour."

Connally is flying to 31 Texas cities in a 48-hour period which started Thursday night. It will end Saturday night in Corpus Christi.

COX, at the Borger Chamber of Commerce luncheon, called Connally the "acknowledged master of political smear."

"He couldn't bluff his way into office... he could not buy his way into office... now he is trying to blast his way in with smear tactics," Cox said.

"I will continue to be as constructive as ever and offer a positive program which I know that Texans want," Cox said.

Connally said the primary purpose of the flying campaign is to meet voters and campaign workers to appeal to them to get out the vote for the Tuesday general election.

Type II Sabin Oral Vaccine Drive On Campus Sunday

By KENT JOHNSTON
Battalion Staff Writer

A&M students and Bryan-College Station residents will be offered Sabin Type II oral polio vaccine Sunday on the campus and in the area public schools from 1-5 p.m.

A station will be set up in the front lobby of the G. Rollie White Coliseum for the convenience of students.

"But," Dr. Charles R. Lyons, director of student health services, stressed, "all stations will be open to everyone who wishes to be immunized."

FRESHMEN and all future students are required by the college to have either Salk or Sabin immunization.

Students under 21 years of age will not be required to have written permission from their parents to receive vaccine Sunday.

Dr. Lyons said each person immunized will receive a slip of paper which states he has taken Type II oral vaccine. The slips may be given to the person's physician or to the college health clinic to keep in a permanent health record.

"If it has been less than six weeks since a person has taken Type I, I don't recommend his taking Type II," Dr. Lyons said.

He explained that when the two vaccines are taken without observing the six-week period, assurance of immunization may be reduced owing to an "antagonistic effect" between the two drugs.

THE DOCTOR added that taking Type III does not require a waiting period before taking Type II. These two drugs, sometimes mixed together for one dose, will not nullify each other. Although it has been offered elsewhere, Type III has not as yet been made available in Brazos County.

Sunday's immunization will be administered by placing vaccine on sugar cubes which are then swallowed. However, many request that the tasteless droplets be placed directly in their mouth.

Dr. Lyons said that the Junior Chamber of Commerce has guaranteed payment for all vaccines used Sunday. For this reason, voluntary contribution of 25 cents or more are requested. If not enough money is collected, the Jaycees will be billed for the deficit.

Health officials recommend that persons take Sabin vaccine for added immunity even though they may have already received Salk vaccine, the physician said.
