

Second Film In Adventure Series To Be Shown Monday

The Great Issues Committee present Mrs. Bettina Shaw as second speaker in the International Adventure Series Monday at 8 in the Ballroom of the Memorial Student Center.

Mrs. Shaw will narrate her color film "Czechoslovakia—Torn Between Two Worlds." This is "the completely uncensored" color film of Czechoslovakia as a Communist satellite, according to Great Issues Chairman Bob Wimbish.

Together with her husband, Don Shaw, Mrs. Shaw has spent 16 months of the last three years in Europe and has traveled over 900,000 miles for filming purposes. Czechoslovakia has been under Communist control since 1948.

The film pictures the country, its people and its customs. Her report will include Communist city hall weddings, life on a communal farm and the wonders of the town with a hundred spires.

The report is the first to escape the Communist dominated nation and reach a free audience, Wimbish said.

Bosomy Blond In Bikini Raises British Eyebrows

LONDON (P)—A bosomy blonde who posed in a bikini for Prince Albert of Belgium discovered Thursday questions are being raised about her in the House of Commons.

Shapely subject of Parliament's curiosity is model Malise Menzies, 19.

Labor legislator Reginald Paget, his party's expert on army affairs, wants to know what duties she performs for the War Office.

"The answer," chuckled Malise, "is none. I'm not on the government payroll."

It all began when the bikini-clad British girl posed on an Italian beach. Prince Albert, who happened to be on the same stretch of sand, raised his camera to the ready. An Italian press photographer snapped them both. His picture appeared in British newspapers and was spotted by War Minister John Profumo.

When, by chance, they met later at a London party, the minister teased Malise about it. He laughingly suggested she should pose for a recruiting poster for Britain's Women's Royal Army Corps.

Malise took it as a joke. So did the minister's wife, ex-actress Valerie Hobson.

But an eavesdropper believed she really had been given a job. So once again Malise was in the newspapers.

The WRAC was up in arms. Malise's long blonde hair would never go under a service cap, they protested. And there were plenty of genuine army girls who would look just as fetching on a recruiting poster.

Thursday on her return from another Italian trip, Malise assured newsmen she was not going into uniform.

Baget, however, will press on with his probe. He expects an answer in Parliament next week.

"I am still going to ask the question," he said. "I understood she was employed as a War Office poster girl. If she's not, then I want the minister to explain that. It's a matter that needs a little probing."

Air Force Cadets To See Film On 'Appeals Of Democracy'

Col. James F. Starkey, professor of Air Science, has announced that Chaplain Lt. Col. John A. Carlin, a member of the Air University Command Chaplain's Office at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama, will give a lecture to Air Force ROTC cadets in Guion Hall at 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

His lecture, "The Appeals of Democracy," will be a positive analysis of the ideological conflict between democracy and communism, Col. Starkey said.

Col. Carlin has given many lectures on communism and democracy to students of the Air War College, and many other Air Force schools, he commented.

Col. Carlin has appeared before the Stennis Congressional committee, presenting Air Force views and programs for teaching Air Force members about communism.

He collaborated on the script for a film entitled "Communism and You," in 1961. Col. Carlin has also written many articles about communism, the most recent appearing in the September 1961 issue of Airman Magazine.

The film will be a part of the colonel's presentation Saturday morning, featuring Lt. Gen. Joseph F. Carroll, the inspecting general of the Air Force.

Board Of Visitors To View Maritime Academy Progress

The Board of Visitors of the Texas Maritime Academy will meet Saturday to discuss the progress and development of the academy, Capt. Bennett M. Dodson, superintendent of the academy, said today.

The board was appointed by the Board of Directors last April to advise the president of the college on maritime affairs, Dodson said.

Functions of the board include the following: developing a long-range program in connection with a permanent site in the Galveston area for the academy, raising funds for scholarships for students of the academy and aiding A&M in the progress and development of the academy.

Through the efforts of the Board of Visitors, the academy has now received $75,000 from the federal government and funds which will provide $50 per month for each student enrolled.

Howard Whitney Day Proclaimed By Ag Economists

Next Tuesday has been designated "Howard Whitney Appreciation Day" in the Department of Agricultural Economics. Everyone in the department has been urged to attend the regular meeting of the Agricultural Economics Club Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 228 of the Chemistry Building to say "good-bye" to Whitney.

Whitney, a professor in the department, is leaving A&M to assume a position at the University of Wisconsin.

The program will be a speech about United States foreign trade politics by V. M. Bryant, international relations director of the Port of Houston.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: ROY MOORE

Roy Moore (B.B.A., 1958) is responsible for 51,000 telephone customers served from Southwestern Bell's San Antonio office. To efficiently keep tabs on the nearly $700,000 monthly billing, Roy has a staff of 24 people including four supervisors.

A lot of responsibility, but Roy showed he could handle it right from his first assignment as a Staff Assistant in the Houston Sales Department. From there, he progressed to Commercial Assistant, and then to Group Manager for ten exchanges around Cuero, Texas.

Roy Moore and other young men like him in Bell Telephone Companies throughout the country help bring the finest communications service in the world to the homes and businesses of a growing America.
