

1962 Cage Season Starts Saturday

Two All-Staters Are Fish Cagers

Shelby Metcalf, freshman basketball coach and Sports Illustrated's bread-and-butter man, has come up with another top-notch Fish cage team.

The team features two all-state players and two captains of state champions.

All-staters are John Beasley, 6-7, 236-pound center, who averaged 29 points a game for Linden-Kildare, and Dicky Stringfellow, 6-4, 190-pound guard, who averaged 25 points per game for Cooper.

Billy Atkinson, 5-10, 160-pound guard, was captain of Dallas Jefferson's Class 4-A state champions. Dick Rector is the other captain, playing for Dumas' Class 3-A champs. Rector stands 6-1 and plays forward.

Rounding out the Fish team are: Lance Cobb, G, 5-10, 160; Bob Craig, F, 6-4, 170; Bill McQueary, G, 6-0, 168; Charles Patterson, C, 6-5, 195; John Reynolds, F, 6-3, 195; Joe Roberts, F, 6-2, 195; and Keith Thompson, F, 6-0, 175.

Rogers' Hopes Bolstered Despite Personnel Losses

Coach Bob Rogers, who is now in his sixth season as boss of G. Rollie White Coliseum, is optimistic as the Aggies start a new era of basketball against Centenary Saturday night at home. Despite the loss of record-writing Carroll Broussard and a raft of standout seniors last season, the Ags are still in good shape personnel-wise.

Says Rogers, "Our hopes are bolstered mostly because of the improved play of our three big boys—Lewis Qualls, Jerry Windham and Lee Walker. Furthermore, Bennie Lenox never looked better, and I believe Gerald Woodard will add scoring punch."

Windham is a two-letterman with a lot of experience under his belt and a history of standout rebounding and defense. Lenox got off to a rousing start as a sophomore last year and managed a full-season average of 10.6 points per game.

SEVEN-FOOT Qualls is the tallest cager in the SWC and both he and 6-7 Walker have the benefit of two years seasoning. Teamed with Windham, they will probably make the Ags one of the top rebounding clubs again.

Woodard, a junior college transfer, is the former "Mr. Basketball of Louisiana." Rogers says he "has great hands and is a good scorer." Other promising newcomers are junior college transfer Cliff Hankins, 6-5, a forward "with good speed and spring," and soph Paul Timmins, an all-SWC freshman performer last year who is "real quick and good at shooting."

Woodard and Hankins come from Kilgore Junior College and they appear capable of furthering Rogers' success with JC grads.

SWC Basketball Outlook Is One Big Question Mark

Basketball's outlook in the Southwest Conference this season is hard to figure. Rebuilding seems to be the theme at most of the eight member schools. Arkansas, Texas, SMU and A&M have been given the nod as most likely to succeed, with Rice breathing down their necks.

At Fayetteville, Coach Glen Rose foresees improvement this year despite the loss of Jerry Carlton, the team's leading scorer and all-SWC performer. "We lack team speed and an outstanding post man," says Rose, "but the squad will be more experienced, which will help, especially defensively."

Senior Tommy Boyer, a 6-6 forward, who was one of the league leaders at foul shooting last year, will probably spark the Hogs. Other experienced Razorbacks returning are Jim Wilson, a 6-6 rebounding star; Larry Wofford, also 6-6; and 6-2 Jerry Rogers.

Coach Harold Bradley has as many lettermen as the next coach, but there's a feeling around the circuit that as sophs go, so goes Texas.

The Steers lost only Jimmy Brown and Butch Skeete from their starting crew, but Bradley points out, "most of our veterans split time last year and did not play a lot." He terms Jimmy Gilbert his only returning regular, but rival coaches claim more players gained experience through Bradley's substitution plan.

The Longhorns return good, seasoned height in 6-8 Mike Humphrey, Joe Fisher (6-7) and 6-7 Jack Dugan, all lettermen. Dugan played more than either of the other two and topped them in scoring and rebounding with averages of 9.8 and 6.9, respectively.

Three starters return to the SMU team that won its last nine SWC games last season and gained a share of the title with Tech. Missing, however, are league-leading scorer Jan Loudermilk, and Jim Hammond, the 6-4 captain who figured high in the late-season surge.

"We lack height and speed," Coach Doc Hayes points out as he prepares for his 16th season as head coach of the Ponies. "At this time of year we always hope to be a contender but a lot depends on our sophomores. Jim Smith (6-7), Bill Ward (6-5) and Hank Wendorf (6-4) are three sophomores who have shown promise in our early practices."

Not one of Rice Coach Johnnie Frankie's leading candidates is of voting age, but at least one of them may run strong at the polls when the year's top players are selected. Heading the Owls' thin but impressive cast of veterans is Kendall Rhine, a 6-9 center who led the league in rebounding as an 18-year-old soph last season.

Larry Phillips and Herb Steinkamp are two others who were teen-age stars with the 1962 club that finished 7-7 last year. Johnny Womack, another junior, is the only other letterman. "We hope to have a good starting unit built around these returning lettermen," says Frankie, "but lack of proven depth will be a serious handicap."
