

Turkey Shoot Slated By Club

The Range & Forestry Club will sponsor a turkey shoot at the Research & Development Annex Dec. 15-16.

Tickets for the shoot, available at the Department of Range & Forestry or at the shoot, will sell for 75 cents. A ticket gives the holder a chance in drawing, and allows him to participate in the shoot.

Turkeys weighing 12-15 pounds will be given to marksmen in the large rifle and shotgun division. Hams will be awarded winners in the .22 caliber rifle and pistol classes.

THE TURKEY head shoot will be 80 yards for rifles with open sights and 125 yards for rifles with scopes. Safety will be emphasized during the shoot and failure to comply with safety rules will disqualify the participant.

In addition to tickets, the group is also selling turkeys for $7.50.

Proceeds of the shoot will be used for such club activities as sending the Plant Judging Team to the national meeting of the American Society of Range Management in South Dakota.

The shoot will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday and at 1 p.m. Sunday. Both sessions will last until dark.

APPLICATION DEADLINE NEARS

National Science Foundation Offers Teaching Fellowships

Friday is the deadline for applications for the National Science Foundation Summer Graduate Teaching Assistants' Fellowships, according to Coleman M. Loyd, coordinator of the A&M NSF program.

One thousand fellowships will be awarded to selected graduate teaching assistants by the NSF for tenures of eight to 12 weeks. The fellowships offered for this summer will be tenable only during 1963.

Fellowship winners will receive a stipend not to exceed $85 per week and not less than $50 per week. In addition, the NSF will pay the fellowship institution tuition and fees for each fellow.

IN ORDER to be eligible for a fellowship, the student must be a citizen or national of the United States (or will be by March 1, 1963), must have demonstrated ability and special aptitude for advanced training in his field and will have had, at the beginning of tenure, not less than one academic year of experience as a graduate teaching assistant, Loyd stated.

Also, he must be a graduate student under A&M regulations and be engaged in substantially full-time work in fields of study covered in the program.

AWARDS of these fellowships will be made for study or work in the mathematical, physical, medical biological and engineering sciences; anthropology; economics (excluding business administration); geography, the history and philosophy of science; psychology (excluding clinical psychology); and sociology.

Awards will not be made to individuals for study in a program leading to the M.D. degree or for courses of study designed to prepare for careers in medical practice or other clinical fields.

Award winners will be required to devote full time to advanced scientific study and work in their field. They may not teach or perform any assistantship services while on tenure. The results of research carried out will be made available to the public.

Service Group Offers Variety Of 'Essentials'

Do you need a laxative or a 'No Doz' pill?.. Perhaps you could use some shampoo or pipe tobacco. Or maybe you are in dire need of a cold tablet. What you need is a Campus Pac, such as the Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, will be selling Wednesday night, according to Tommy Wright, fraternity officer.

The variety kit, which sells for 35 cents, includes many of the items that students often find themselves wishing they had.

Also included in the collection of incidentals are after-shave lotion, razor blades and Tums. Customers will have their choice of a laxative — regular, adult chocolate or junior chocolate.

Representatives of the society will take orders in every dorm Wednesday night, with delivery of the Campus Pac to be made Thursday and Friday afternoons.

A&M Firemen Get Early Call

The A&M Fire Department extinguished an early morning fire at a home in College Station Tuesday, but not before it had done considerable damage to the home of George H. Draper, 1013 Walton Drive.

Thomas F. Rice, Draper's father-in-law, reported the blaze to the local fire department.

College Station police stated that a vast amount of damage was done to the living room and kitchen, and that other rooms received smoke and water damage. They said the fire apparently was started by a floor furnace.

The Drapers are presently in California.
