

Tonight's The Nite For Clay To Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay faces the severest test of his brief but spectacular boxing career Wednesday night when he takes on dead-panned, strong-jawed Doug Jones before a capacity crowd at Madison Square Garden.

The all-conquering, 21-year-old Louisville Lip is a 13-5 to 3-1 choice to make the 26-year-old New York heavyweight contender his 18th straight victim in the 10-rounder. "They all must fall in the round I call," trumpets brash Cassius. He first predicted Jones would fall in six but has since warned the unaved Jones he must go in four.

"Let him talk," has been the Jones' reply to all of Clay's boasting. "He's making me a lot of money. But I feel I can beat him." Clay's talkathon in the streets, in the gyms, in the Garden and on several television shows has drummed up the most interest in a heavyweight personality since Joe Louis and Madcap Maxie Baer came up in the early thirties.

"I might ever take him out in one but then it wouldn't be any fun," proclaimed boxing's bard. Starting time is 10 p.m., EST.

Rice Cage Coach Claimed Tuesday By Liver Ailment

HOUSTON (AP)—Johnnie Frankie, head basketball coach at Rice University since 1959, died Tuesday of a liver ailment.

Frankie, 50, had been ill only a week but St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital spokesman said the ailment—hepatitis—led to complications that included viral encephalitis, an infection of the brain.

A knee injury suffered while playing football at Rice prevented Frankie from playing basketball but he coached the sport successfully 26 years in high school, junior college, and college.

His 1952 team at Wharton, Tex., Junior College won a national championship. The athletic dormitory at Wharton, where Frankie was athletic director 11 years, is named Frankie Hall.

Frankie was ill when his fourth and best Rice team ended its season last Tuesday night by defeating Texas A&M for a 9-5 record that clinched a second place tie with A&M in final Southwest Conference standings.

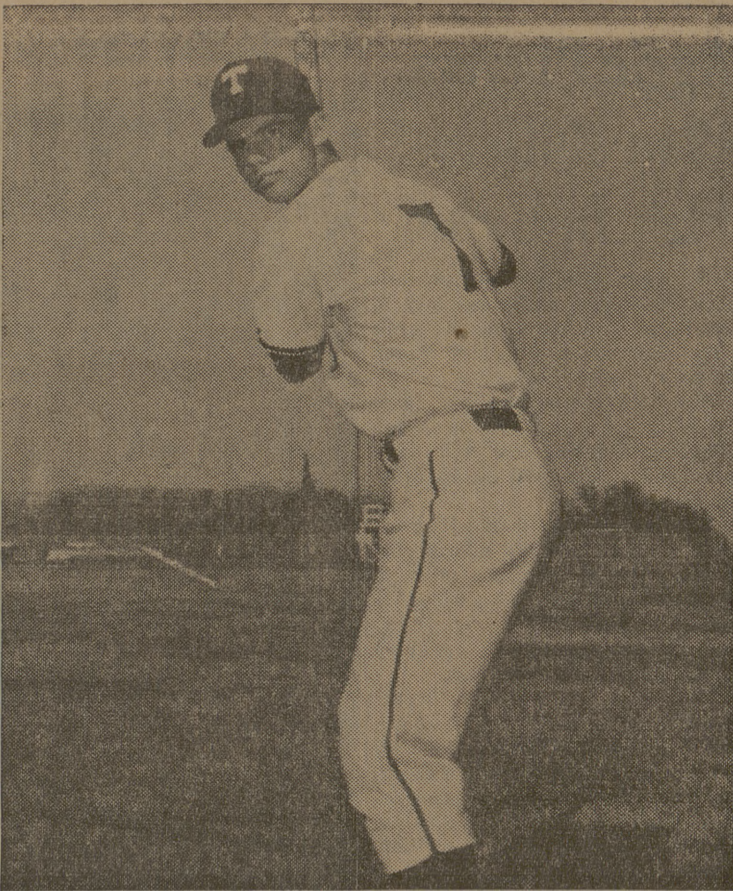

Fish Top Allen For First Win

A&M's Fish baseball team started off its season on the winning trail by defeating the Allen Academy Ramblers 5-4 Tuesday afternoon.

The Cadets took an early lead on a three-run first inning homer by outfielder Allen Koonce and held on for the victory.

Steve Hillhouse opened on the mound for the frosh and went five innings before Ed Eickman took over. Eickman finished out for the undefeated Fish.

Texas' Shorthorns furnish the next opposition as the Fish host the baby Steers Saturday on Kyle Field. The varsity travels to Austin to start its conference season against the 'Horns on the same day.

Junior Slugger

First baseman Frank Stark hit his second home run of the 1963 season in the Ags' second game Saturday against the University of Houston. A native of Davenport, Iowa, Stark hit .338 last season and was among the top ten batters in the Southwest Conference. He is 6-1 and weighs 190 pounds.

Ag Netters Open At Home Against Corpus On Friday

The Aggie tennis team plays its first home matches of the season Friday at 1:30 p.m. against the University of Corpus Christi and Saturday at 1 p.m. against the University of Houston.

Coach Omar Smith's A&M netters stand 3-3 for the year, having beaten East Texas, 5-1, Oklahoma, 4-3, and St. Edward's of Austin, 7-2; and losing to Houston, 5-2, Lamar Tech, 5-2, and Trinity of San Antonio, 7-0.

A feature of Friday's action will be the match between Richard Barker of San Saba, A&M's number one player, and Antonio Palafox of UCC, a member of the Mexico Davis Cup team.

Barker, a sophomore, sports a

2-4 won-lost record but dropped three of his matches to internationally ranked players.

Carroll Kell of San Antonio, number two Aggie with a 3-1 record, will trade shots with Gabino Palafox, brother of Antonio.

Barker and Kell won singles matches over Houston's Joe Kuykendall and Cliff Tyree, respectively, in the first meeting but the Cougars took three singles and both doubles matches.

Houston's Ronnie Woods beat Ricky Williams, Gene Peebles topped Doug Sassman and Billy Gover stopped Ray Salazar.

45 SIGNED SO FAR

A&M Inks Rymkus Twins As Recruit Total Mounts

With Saturday's inking of the Rymkus twins, A&M's total of football signees for the 1963 season mounted to 45. So far the Aggies are second in the Southwest Conference recruiting race as far as numbers are concerned, with Texas Tech a couple of men ahead.

Pat and Mike, the sons of ex-coach Lou Rymkus of the Houston Oilers, were signed by Head Coach Hank Foldberg after the Cadets' first scrimmage during spring drills.

Both lads were accomplished linebackers for Coach Joe McDonald at St. Thomas. They served as team co-captains their senior season.
