Outdoor Pool Will Be Tested As Meet Site

A&M's outdoor olympic style swimming pool will get its first test Aug. 22-24 as a place for meets.

That's the date an estimated 1,000 youngsters will participate in the state's first championship swim meet, labeled the Water Olympics of Texas.

Since this is the first state-wide championship meet, officials are uncertain about the attendance, but estimates indicate the enrollment will climb to 1,000 and higher.

SWIMMING HAS INCREASED

100 times in the last 15 years," Tex Robertson of Burnet said, "considering the number of youngsters who participate. Today there are over 3,000 swimmers in the state."

"If we had this meet 15 years ago," he added, "we would have only 30 or 40 participants."

Robertson, a member of Texas Age Group Swimming advisory committee, is one of several persons making plans for the meet.

Participants will be winners from eight Texas districts, plus eight youngsters over the state with fastest times. Their ages will range from 11 to 17 years.

MANAGERS OF the eight districts will help screen contestants. A&M swimming coach Art Adamson and Emil Mamaliga will serve as honorary referee and meet manager.

Synchronized swimming and water polo events will be limited to the top teams in each district. Water polo judging will be done on the same basis as the international olympics.

The entire meet, in fact, will be conducted in olympic fashion. Students will be housed in dormitories and eat in campus dining halls by teams.

EVENTS FOR juniors (ages 11 and 12) include 50 and 100 meter free-style, 50 meter backstroke, 50 meter breaststroke, 50 meter butterfly, one meter diving and synchronized swimming.

Intermediates, ages 13 and 14, will compete in 100 and 200 free-style, 100 meter backstroke, 100 meter breaststroke, 100 meter butterfly, one and three meter diving and synchronized swimming.

Seniors, 15 through 17, will be the same as intermediate events plus 400 meter freestyle competition.

WATER POLO and synchronized swimming events will also have open divisions for youngsters 11 and older.

Grid Brochure For Newsmen Now Off Press

A&M's press-radio-tv football brochure for 1963 came off the press late last week. The 72-page booklet is now being mailed to staff of various communications media across the state.

The cover of this year's brochure pictures senior center Ray Mahala, who will be the Aggie captain this season, and senior Ronnie Carpenter, who will serve as alternate captain.

Inside the booklet is information about coaches, players and the A&M athletic program. Team records since the beginning of football here in 1894 are also provided.

A short review of each game on upcoming schedule, general information on the college itself, and game schedules for the next three years are also included.

The press guide was compiled by members of the athletic department and edited by Spec Gammon, sports information director.

The sports information staff of A&M also prints similar brochures for basketball and spring sports each year.
