Industrial Growth Meet Set On 26th

Subjects ranging from agribusiness to small business loans will be discussed here during the 13th annual Texas Industrial Development Conference, Sept. 26-27.

The event is sponsored by the Industrial Economics Research Division of A&M University's Engineering Experiment Station and is co-sponsored by the Texas Industrial Development Council.

James R. Bradley, head of the Industrial Economics Research Division and conference chairman, said registration starts at 8 a.m. the first day in the Memorial Student Center. President Earl Rudder will give an address of welcome at 9:15.

SUBJECTS AND speakers are "Texas Industrial Development" by E. B. Germany of Austin, chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission; and "Agribusiness," Millard Shivers of Waco, Texas Farm Bureau director of organization.

A panel of discussion on industrial financing is set for 1 p.m., with John Schuelke of Houston, manager of industrial development for the Bank of the Southwest, as moderator. Small business administration loans, small business investment corporations, commercial banking and mortgage banking will be covered.

Panel members are Hall T. Martin of Dallas, financial assistance division, Small Business Administration; Dan R. Mahoney of Houston, assistant vice president of the Gulf Southwest Capital Corporation; R. G. Sneed Jr., of Houston, vice president of the First City National Bank; and G. Speights Ballard Jr., of Houston, manager of the corporation department of Underwood, Neuhaus and Company, Inc.

A TEXAS Industrial Development Council business meeting will be held at 3:25 p.m. Raymond W. Hedges, executive vice president of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce, is president.

Sept. 27 sessions start at 9 a.m. Subjects and speakers are "All Prospects Art Not Legitimate," William M. King of Austin, commissioner of the State Securities Board; "Man Power, Automation and Training," Sam W. King of Dallas, field director for the Office of Man Power, Automation and Training, U. S. Department of Labor; and "Industrial Outlook in Texas," E. H. Danner of San Angelo, president of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Funeral Services For G. E. Fridel Held Here Tuesday

Funeral services for George Edward Fridel, 32, an A&M mathematics instructor who died Sunday night, were held here Tuesday with burial in Mount Calvary Cemetery.

Fridel, a member of the A&M faculty since 1957, died in a Brenham hospital of what doctors termed a rare allergic reaction to a skin test for tetanus. He had been taken to the hospital for treatment of a cut sustained when a horse bit him on the lip at a rodeo, it was reported here. The skin test is a routine procedure before administering a tetanus shot to a person who has never received it previously.

Fridel was active in youth work. He served as regional faculty advisor for the Interscholastic Rodeo Club, secretary-treasurer of the 4-H Adult Leaders, and sponsor of the 4-H Horse Club.

Fridel received his bachelor's degree from the University of Houston and the master's degree from A&M.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. A. A. Webb of Bryan and six brothers, August A. of Bryan; Louis D. and Julius J. of Benchley; Frank A. of Hearne; Robert of Galveston; and R. J. Fridel of Houston.

Born at Benchley, Fridel was a lifelong resident of Brazos County.

The rosary was recited Monday night at Hillier Funeral Home. Services were held at 9 a.m. Tuesday at Hillier's followed by second services at St. Joseph's Catholic Church with the Rev. T. J. Valenta officiating.

FOR STUDY IN 50 COUNTRIES

Fulbright Applications Due Oct. 25

Applications are now being received for Fulbright Scholarships and other U. S. Government Grants under the Fulbright-Hays Act for study abroad in 1964-65. Dr. J. M. Nance, head of the Department of History and Government and the campus Fulbright Program Advisor, said the deadline for filing such applications is Oct. 25.

About 710 Fulbright Grants, 45 Joint U. S.-Other Government Grants and 89 Travel-Only Grants will be available to scholars who wish to pursue graduate study in 50 foreign countries, Nance said.

For many of these countries a working knowledge of the language of the country is required, but for others only English is necessary.

Other general eligibility requirements are: U. S. citizenship, a bachelor's degree or its equivalent in professional training and good health. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age.

Nance said any student enrolled in A&M University desiring to apply must do so through him in Room 203, Nagle Hall. Competition is open to both men and women on the same terms and qualifications.

The Fulbright Advisor said all U. S. Government scholarship programs for graduate study abroad now come under the Fulbright-Hays Act. The three types of awards available under this act are as follows:

1. A U. S. Government Full Grant provides round-trip transportation, maintenance, language or orientation course (where appropriate), tuition and books.

Full grants are now available for study in Argentina, Australia, Belgium-Luxembourg, Brazil, Burma, Ceylon, Chile, Republic of China, Denmark, Ecuador, Finland, France, Federal Republic of Germany, Greece.

Also Iceland, India, Iran, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Korea, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Peru, Philippines, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Turkey, United Arab Republic and the United Kingdom (including overseas territories.)

2. A Joint-U.S.-Other Government Grant is one offered cooperatively by the United States and another government. The travel portion of the grant is offered by the U. S. Government while the portion providing tuition and full or partial maintenance is offered by the foreign government.

Joint U. S.-Other Government grants are now available for study in Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Poland, Rumania and Venezuela.

3. A U.S. Government-Travel-Only Grant supplements a scholarship the candidate receives from a foreign government, university or private donor and is the equivalent of the former "Travel Grant."

Travel-Only grants are now available for study in Austria, Denmark, France, Germany, Israel, Italy and the Netherlands.

Nance said for 1964-65 there will be a limited number of teaching assistantships available in France, Italy and India.

"The teaching assistantships in French schools provide an excellent opportunity for students to become acquainted with life in the French provinces and to carry on independent academic work of their own," the professor pointed out. If assigned to a lycée at a university, the assistant's schedule will be arranged to permit him to attend classes at the university, he added.

Openings are available in Italy to students holding a master's degree in American studies, law, history or philosophy, and who have a good command of Italian. Nance said they would assist Italian professors at the Universities of Rome, Florence, Milan, Pisa or Naples.

Graduate students interested in teaching English as a foreign language may apply for tutorships available at Indian universities. Nance said majors in English and/or those with trainings in linguistics are especially desired, but others will be considered.
