COLLEGE STATION, TEXAS THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1963

Number 134

Cindy Brings Foul Weather

An unwelcome lady name Cindy has brought nearly one-inch of misty rain to the campus as she heads inland from the Texas-Louisiana Coast. The weatherman predicts more of the same and freshmen, left to right, Mike Boydston, Ray George and Buddy Kleemeir don't seem to approve.

FOR A&M STUDENTS, OTHERS

National Grad Record Tests Will Be Administered Here

The A&M campus within coming months will be the site for the national Graduate Record Examinations both for Aggies and others.

An increasing number of graduate and professional schools and some major firms require prospective students or employees to complete the tests. More than 57,000 candidates took the examinations the past year.

A&M SENIORS now are required to take the test in meeting graduation requirements established by the Academic Council of the University.

Seniors planning to graduate in January or who plan to seek early admission to graduate school may take the Graduate Record Examinations the afternoon of Nov. 1 and morning of Nov. 2, Dean of Instruction W. J. Graff announced. A makeup testing period will be held the following Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, Nov. 8 and 9.

Dean Graff said registration dates for these tests will be in October and will be announced later.

Dates for administering the examination to seniors planning to graduate in May or August will be set later.

The Graduate Record Examinations, both the aptitude and advanced tests, will be given next week to all graduate students who have not previously taken the tests. The test will be administered Sept. 28.

Graduate students who will take the Sept. 28 examination must pay the $5 fee before Friday and present the receipt at the Graduate College Office to register and select the advanced tests of their choice.

THE GRE TESTS consist of a general scholastic ability or aptitude test, plus advance level tests of achievement in 17 fields of study.

The fee for A&M students to take the examination at times announced by university officials under the institutional testing plan is $5. On the national testing dates, the fee set by Educational Testing Service is $12.

The national test dates are Nov. 16, Jan. 18, March 7, April 25 and July 11.

The Counseling and Testing Center staff administers the GRE here.

Kennedy Pleads With Nation For His $11 Billion Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy carried to the people Wednesday night his plea for an $11-billion tax cut as "insurance for prosperity"—free from what he termed ruinous amendments to curb spending.

In a nationwide radio and television address Kennedy pleaded "true fiscal responsibility, leading to a balanced budget in a balanced full-employment economy."

But he rejected—and called on the public to support his stand—a Republican plan unveiled a few hours earlier to make the two-stage reduction conditional upon congressionally fixed budget ceilings.

THE REPUBLICAN National Committee quickly announced it will demand of the networks equal time for a reply.

"If we are to make the most of what this bill has to offer in creating jobs, fighting recession and balancing our international payments and internal budgets, it must not be diluted by amendments or conditions," Kennedy said.

"This nation needs a tax cut now—not a tax cut 'if'—not a tax cut 'when'—not a tax cut in the future or a tax cut for the few."

THE PRESIDENT'S tone was conciliatory, in that he gave full heed to congressional sentiment against piling tax reduction on higher federal "pump-primer" spending. Kennedy promised that "no wasteful, inefficient or unnecessary government activity will be tolerated" to boost employment. But he refused to accept the harness which the Republican House leadership sought to impose as the price of its support—White House-certified ceilings of $97 billion on this fiscal year's spending and $98 billion on next year's before the tax reduction could take effect.

With the House due to vote on history's biggest tax cut only a week from now, the President told his nationwide audience that the bill "needs your help, your voice."

AND HE CLOSED his 20-minute appeal: "As the Congress prepares to vote on this issue, I strongly urge you to support this bill for your family's sake and for your country's sake."

And with apparent reference to recent Republican charges that the tax bill is vote-getting bait for the 1946 presidential election, Kennedy replied that Americans "should not be petty or partisan on matters such as this."

Rudder Urges Exes To Back Fund Drive

Thirty-Two Aggies Enter Med School

Thirty-two students who completed premedical and pre-dental studies at A&M are members of the 1963 entering classes at medical and dental colleges in Texas and elsewhere, a faculty committee reported Wednesday.

This total establishes a record except for one year when veterans returned from the services, committee chairman Howard L. Gravett said.

"We are very pleased at the steady increase in enrollment in this program," he said.

THE RECORDS SHOW that 96.5 per cent of the Aggies recommended for acceptance by a medical or dental college successfully completed advanced studies. Those who abandon their studies usually do so for other than scholastic reasons," he reported.

Ten, or about one-third of the students, were accepted for the 1963 classes at the University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston. These students include Billy D. Alexander, Gene F. Brossman, Richard G. Castanon, George James Collins, William H. Fisherman, William W. Follett, Ted S. Novosad, Harve D. Pearson, William R. Rector and Ira Tunnel.

FOUR OF THE students were accepted by the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, Dallas. They are Thomas D. Easley, Luis N. Pena, William K. Rundell and Barry N. Silberg.

Accepted by the Baylor University College of Medicine, Houston, were James A. Dotson and Ralph D. Loyd.

Three of the students earlier this year entered the University of Tennessee College of Medicine at Memphis. They are Harvey D. Barber, John H. Harrington and Harry H. Pendery.

Accepted by the University of Texas Dental Branch, Houston, were John P. Cassidy, Thomas M. Little, Mackey D. Morgan, Ronald R. Novosad and Colbert W. Trawhon.

Students Now Use Checks, Not Cash Statistics Report

College students apparently carry checkbooks nowadays, not cash.

At least that's what statistics indicate at the Memorial Student Center, where a total of $1,330,819.23 worth were exchanged for cash during the 1962-63 school year.

This is $9,319.35 more than the previous year, although the number of checks cashed dropped from 208,989 to 148,980. The reason 60,000 fewer checks in 1962-63 is attributed to a $10 minimum amount adopted last year.

The greatest number of checks were taken in October—22,750—although the checks were fatter in November—$169,272.23 worth. The number and amount were reduced approximately 50 per cent during summer months.

Rudders To Hold Faculty Reception

President and Mrs. Earl Rudder will hold a faculty and staff reception Tuesday to honor deans and their new senior staff members.

The event is set for 7 to 9 p.m. in the ballroom of the Memorial Student Center. Invited are faculty and staff and their wives and husbands.

"We look forward to this meeting with the faculty and staff and we feel such fellowship contributes significantly to our university," Rudder said.

Locals Challenged To Beat Abilene

About 75 key workers for the A&M Development Fund campaign accepted a challenge from President Earl Rudder Wednesday morning to "prove that Bryan-College Station has greater loyalty to A&M than any other Texas community."

Addressing a kickoff breakfast meeting at the Triangle Restaurant, Rudder noted that in past campaigns several cities in the state had contributed proportionally more than A&M's hometown.

"Let's take on Abilene where 98 per cent of our former students contributed this year," the president said. "We should shoot for 100 per cent here to prove our loyalty is greater."

The A&M president emphasized contributions to the Development Fund from Brazos County residents were in their own self interest.

"The money is spent for improving faculty salaries, providing assistance to graduate students and improving university programs which will attract visitors and new residents to our community," he said.

GOAL OF the two-week local drive is $6,000 according to drive co-chairmen Sen. W. T. (Bill) Moore and Dorsey McCrory. McCrory heads College Station solicitation. The Bryan team is led by Moore.

Key workers will make contacts with individuals this week and give a preliminary report on gifts early next week.

GIFTS TO THE FUND come from individual Aggie-exes all over the world.

J. B. Hervey, executive secretary of the Association of Former Students, has outlined the 1963 Development Fund program as follows:

- $130,000 to the fund for academic excellence. This fund allots money for salary supplementation, graduate fellowships, faculty research projects, a university emergency fund and an unrestricted fund for departmental, college and university improvement.
- $8,000 for eight $1,000 faculty achievement awards.
- $10,000 for ten $1,000 Opportunity Award Scholarships.
- $10,000 for the first installment of the 1967 Directory of Former Students.
- $10,000 to a special fund for conversion of former student records to magnetic tape.
