

Boy Scouts Honor Information Office

The Boy Scouts of America have honored the A&M University Department of University Information and Publications for "outstanding cooperation" in a recent patriotic campaign.

The office released widely a news story and photograph of local Scouts and the Liberty Bell replica on the A&M campus. This was in conjunction with the Scout's "Make Freedom Ring" program July 4.

A tape recording of the pealing of the bell was made at the same time by Station WTAW. Copies of this tape were made in Houston and distributed widely with 21 radio and TV stations reporting extensive use of the recording.

Stations KBTX-TV and KORA, on the basis of reports which they submitted to the Sam Houston Area Council of the Boy Scouts, were among those cited for their use of the "Make Freedom Ring" materials.

The Central Texas Poster Advertising Co. of Wheelock was among the outdoor advertising firms cited for their cooperation in publicizing the Boy Scouts.

Aggie Band To Try New Maneuver; 1st Marching Unit To Attempt Move

The Texas Aggie Band will be marching in five different directions at once during halftime of the A&M University-Texas Tech football game Saturday night.

The maneuver, called a multiple continuous counter march, has never been attempted before by a marching band, according to Lt. Col. E. V. Adams, band director.

Colonel Adams, who began his 18th year with the unit this fall, directs music for the band and plans its drills.

The band, billed as the nation's largest of its kind, will travel to Lubbock by special Santa Fe train. They are scheduled to arrive at 4 p. m. Saturday.

Bandsmen will be honored at a trainside reception in Brownwood Saturday morning while train crews change. The event is sponsored by the Brownwood A&M Mothers' Club.

In Lubbock the band will be guests at a barbecue sponsored by the Lubbock A&M Former Students' Club.

USDA Aids Visiting Indians Poultry Study

Four Indian agricultural officials are visiting A&M University for a five-month period to study poultry production methods.

They are Vasudeva Narsingrao Harapanhalli of the Bombay Veterinary College, Kochikar Nagappa Pai of the Veterinary Hospital at Mangalore, Puthiya Purayil Rajagopalan of Seetha Vilas, Muzhattham, Cannanore in Kerala State, and Venguvir Rama Chandran of Central Poultry Farm, Saroornagar, Hyderabad-Dn, Andhra Pradesh.

Their stay in the United States is sponsored by the Agency for International Development, with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and land-grant institutions cooperating.

The Indians are employed as officers in poultry development programs in their respective states.

New CD School Started Here

Establishment of a new program to train key civil defense personnel of Texas towns and cities has been announced by H. D. Bearden, director of the Texas Engineering Extension Service.

Head of the new school is Dr. Willis R. Bodine, who previously served as training and education officer of statewide programs of the Division of Defense and Disaster Relief in Austin.

Present schedule of the new school calls for 24 conferences for mayors, county judges and other city officials regarding their civil defense duties.

Also on the agenda are 10 conferences, which will qualify persons to serve as shelter managers and to instruct others in similar positions with local CD agencies.

SERVING with Dr. Bodine will be Clark Titus, a member of the Texas Education Association's civil defense education program for adults for the last four years.

Saddle And Sirloin Clubbers Schedule Barbecue Tuesday

The A&M University Saddle and Sirloin Club will hold its annual fall barbecue at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Animal Industries Building Lecture Room.

Joe Sagebiel of Willow City, club president, said a special feature of the program will be the honoring of members of the 1913 A&M Livestock Judging Team.

He said the coach of the 1913 team, J. C. Burns of Fort Worth, will make a short talk.

Also on the program will be introduction of members of current judging teams. These include junior and senior livestock, junior and senior wool, and junior and senior meats.
