

Decisive Games Face SWC Teams

Texas Christian turns its power down the middle loose on Arkansas Saturday in one of the Southwest Conference's most meaningful games. It matches two of the "Big Four" in a battle that can well shape the entire season. This one always figures strongly in where the championship is to go.

Arkansas is favored to beat Texas Christian despite its loss last week to Missouri while the Christians were downing Florida State 13-0. But it ought to be a great battle with the No. 1 and No. 2 conference rushers — Jim Lindsey of Arkansas and Tommy Crutcher of Texas Christian—in a thunderous duel.

SOUTHERN METHODIST, with its new star Danny Thomas, a passer and kicker of sensational proportions, is hopeful against Air Force. But no one expects the Methodists to halt Terry Isaacson, who is a fine passer and runner and a brilliant quarterback.

Baylor and Oregon State are due to wage an aerial duel and if so the Bears ought to have as good a chance as anybody with its Don Trull.

IN THESE three games the conference representatives will be playing outfits that are unbeaten and untied in two tests thus far. Air Force may be the toughest of the group. The Fly Boys whipped Washington and crushed Colorado State.

TEXAS, the defending champion and rated No. 3 in the nation, stays at home to entertain Oklahoma State. It will be the first test from Oklahomans since the Longhorns play Oklahoma at Dallas next week in the big one.

Oklahoma State never has beaten Texas and doesn't appear capable of making it very interesting this time. But the game will furnish a comparison between Texas and Arkansas, another of the Big Four. Arkansas beat the Sooner Aggies 21-0 in opening the season.

RICE, the fourth member of the Big Four, has its work cut out for it against a Penn State team that features the blistering aerial maneuvers of Pete Liske. The Owls might match him in brilliance with their Walt Mc-

Reynolds, who shot down LSU last week.

Ags Face 1st SWC Football

One year and 19 seconds ago, the Texas Tech Red Raiders were preparing to kickoff to A&M following a field goal that gave them a 3-0 lead and what seemed to be a rousing upset victory.

But 19 seconds and 100 yards later, the Aggies marched off the field with an unbelievable 7-3 win.

Danny McIlhany took that kickoff and skittered and scampered from end zone to end zone to snatch the decision away from Tech, breaking their back and ruining their season.

THIS SAME speedster will open at halfback Saturday night against Tech in Lubbock holding the No. 1 spot on the Raiders' Most Unpopular list.

If the Aggies win the toss, McIlhany most likely will be the choice to receive the 7:30 p.m. opening kickoff. Coach Hank Foldsberg's squad will be hoping that history does repeat itself.

The Cadets are a slim one touchdown favorite in its conference opener. Tech started SWC play last Saturday with a 49-7 loss to Texas. A&M stands 0-2 for the season while the Raiders are 1-1.

TECH COACH J. T. King has a much improved crew with a bona fide all-America candidate in end David Parks and a highly touted halfback in Donny Anderson.

Parks was all-SWC last year while leading the conference in pass receptions and doing the kicking chores for Tech.

Anderson is just a sophomore but has drawn high compliments from Aggie scout Craig Randall. Randall calls the Stinnett flash the best runner the Cadets will face. This includes Paul Warfield of Ohio State and Joe Labruzzo of LSU.

The Farmers' starting line-up will be the same as the one that won the game against Ohio State with the exception of McIlhany at right half in place of injured George Hargett.

Wogs Defeat Fish In Opener

By MARVIN SCHULZ, Battalion Ass't. Sports Editor. Igniting for a second explosion, the TCU Wogs defeated the A&M Fish, 10-0 in the opener at Kyle Field.

An exchange of punts between the two squads highlighted the first half.

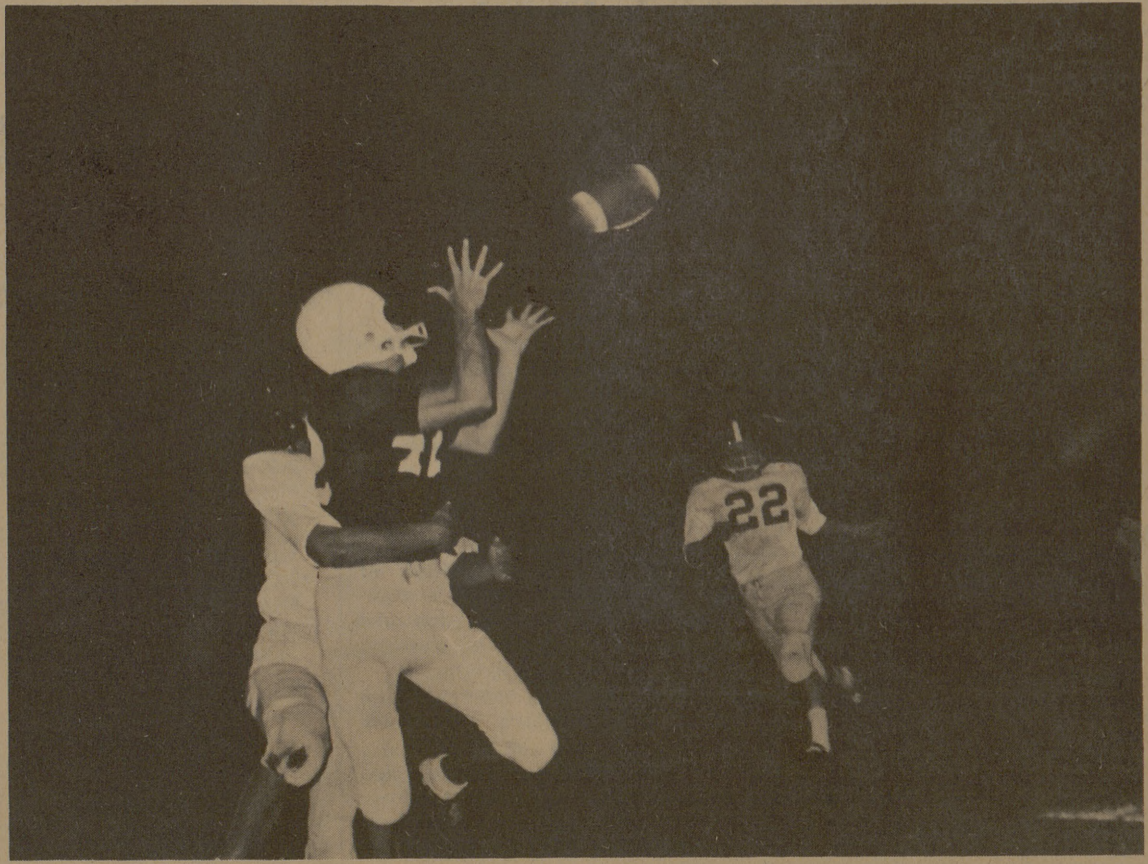

Toeing the pigskin into the John Poss, the towering end, started the 60-minute game. Cuppy Hudler, the Wog left back camped under the ball on the 7-yard line and scampered 29 yards before Joe Weiss, the fullback halted his progress. Unable to move against the Aggie defense, TCU elected to punt the first time. Thus, started a series of exchanges which came right on up to the final minutes of the first half.

A miscue in the Aggie backfield by left halfback Ronnie Lindsey set up TCU's eventual field goal in the third period. The ball jarred free from Lindsey's 29-yard line and Wog right halfback Jimmie DiCuffa was the one to kick it off the stack.

After an unsuccessful first down, TCU called in Bruce Alford to kick the field goal. Alford's boot from 40 yards was good and the Wogs were in the lead, 3-0 with 6:49 remaining in the third quarter.

TCU punched across the field in the final frame. Quarterback Jimmy Duffey threw a pass to right end Bob Lindsey for 11 yards and a snap back from the Aggie center on a punting situation. The team a loss of 38 yards and again the Wogs were in the lead, 6-0.

A&M finished with six downs and 145 total yards of ground and in the air lanes.

Progress in the Bell System...

AND LIVES AND BREATHES...

Progress takes many shapes in the Bell System. And among the shapers are young men, not unlike yourself, impatient to make things happen for their companies and themselves. There are few places where such restlessness is more welcomed or rewarded than in the fast-growing phone business.
