With the football season heading into a fourth week of action, prognosticators across the country watch its entry with a cautious eye. Last week's games were high-lighted by a string of upsets which made picking the Yankees seem mild in comparison.

So, with this in mind here are this corner's picks (unguaranteed) for the big weekend ahead.

A&M 14, HOUSTON 6: Catching the Cougars in the friendly confines of Kyle Field plus the fact that Houston has never won here will keep them winless.

OKLAHOMA 13, TEXAS 10; AFter the smoke has cleared in Big D, Oklahoma will still reign as the country's best.

ARKANSAS 20, BAYLOR 12: The Razorbacks have too much for Baylor and even Don Trull.

TCU 26, TEXAS TECH 7: Tech's victory over A&M will be short-lived.

RICE 21, STANFORD 6: The Owls will get back on the victory trail behind McReynolds.

NAVY 28, SMU 8: The Midshipmen will practice in sinking the enemy. Staubach will be the commander.

LSU 14, MIAMI 8: Riding high on last week's upset victory over Georgia Tech, the Tigers will edge Mira and Co.

ALABAMA 27, FLORIDA 7: The Crimson Tide will drown the Gators with a smooth running offense guided by Joe Namath.

USC 21, NOTRE DAME 7: Notre Dame will get another tough opponent in the Trojans and Pete Breathard.

NEBRASKA 19, AIR FORCE 6: Still dazed by last week's nightmare in Dallas, the Falcons will fall to a good Cornhusker team.

Cadets Get Ready For Houston Game

The Aggies alternated on defensive and offensive drills Wednesday as they continued preparations for their first home game of the 1963 football season, a Saturday night date with the Houston Cougars.

Travis Reagan, senior halfback from Wichita Falls who hurt a shoulder in the Texas Tech game last Saturday, likely will see action against the Cougars.

Starting Right Tackle
Bill Ward, 6-3, 202, moved up to first string tackle for the UH-A&M game. Ward, soph from Austin, was an outstanding performer for the freshman.

Jim Stabler

Stabler, sophomore from Dallas Hillcrest, will be in the second unit backfield at left half when the Aggies meet the University of Houston Saturday night. Standing 5-11, 178, Stabler was the leading rusher on the 1962 Fish team with a 4.4 average.

'Bud For Senator' Says Oklahomans

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Bud Wilkinson will retire in January as University of Oklahoma football coach to run for the U. S. Senate as a Republican, the Tulsa Tribune said Wednesday in a copyrighted story.

The Tribune did not identify its sources. There have been recurring rumors Wilkinson planned to enter politics.

"I don't care to make any comment whatsoever," Wilkinson said of the Tribune's story.

The Tribune said Wilkinson "will have an amply financed campaign and the backing of some of the wealthiest men in Oklahoma, including several who are Democrats. In case of defeat, he has been assured of a top job."

Wilkinson is reported to be a registered Democrat, but previous rumors about his Senate ambitions also claimed he would run on the Republican ticket.

The post the Tribune says Wilkinson will seek is now held by J. Hoard Edmonson, who was appointed to the Senate when Robert S. Kerr died last January. Edmonson, a Democrat and former governor, will seek to be elected next year to the remaining year of Kerr's term.

Wilkinson has been one of the nation's most successful coaches in his 17 seasons at Oklahoma. His current team is rated No. 1 in the country.

Cardinals' Keane Wins Honor As 'Manager Of Year' In NL

HOUSTON (AP) — "The only thing that could have made me happier would have been winning the pennant," said Johnny Keane while talking about his selection as National League Manager-of-Year for 1963 and the prospects of his St. Louis Cardinals for next season.

Keane, who never played major league baseball, made a runaway of the annual Associated press poll Wednesday by collecting 53 of the 71 votes cast by baseball writers.

"THIS IS really great," Keane said when told he had received more than three times the number of votes collected by Walter Alston, pilot of the champion Los Angeles Dodgers. Alston was named on 15 ballots and Bobby Bragan of Milwaukee on the remaining three.

Pre-season forecasts had indicated Keane did not have a contender for his second full season as a major league manager. However, with only two weeks remaining in the campaign the Cards were only one game behind the Dodgers.

KEANE, 51, chatted about the 1963 season—and 1964—while enjoying a favorite pastime—playing catch with a plastic baseball with his grandchildren, Kelly, 2, and Johnny Keane Masterson, 3.

His thoughts centered on Dodger pitchers and on Stan Musial, the Cardinal great, who decided to make 1963 his final season.

Keane knows how it feels to be tormented by the Dodger pitching staff that took four straight from the New York Yankees.
