

A&M Sciences, Agriculture Grads Will Present Papers

A&M University undergraduates in the sciences and agriculture who are willing to present papers in the Collegiate Division of the Texas Academy of Sciences meetings at Abilene Dec. 6-7 are asked to contact Dr. Charles LaMotte. His office is Room 217, Plant Sciences Building.

"We have regularly had several students from A&M giving papers in the years past and they have contributed substantially to the favorable image A&M has among the other colleges which participate in Texas Academy of Science programs," Dr. LaMotte said.

He reported the early response this year has been good with prospects of eight or 10 students presenting papers.

Undergraduates who have participated in National Science Foundation research projects especially should consider presenting papers, Dr. LaMotte said.

A&M Prof's Study Magazine Prints

"Mexico: 'Neutralist' Neighbor" is the title of an article by Dr. John C. Merrill of the Department of Journalism in the current issue of "Nieman Reports," a quarterly publication of Harvard University.

The article stems from Dr. Merrill's study of attitudes of the Mexican press toward the United States. Details of the study were included in a monograph printed by the University of Florida.

Workmen Come From Many Cities For A&M Project

Workmen from electric firms as far away as Spur, Comanche and Merkel in West Texas dug holes and strung wires at one of A&M University's newest facilities, the Electric Distribution and Tele-Communication Training Center.

Sponsored by the Engineering Extension Service, the new school will provide laboratory type training to qualify personnel to use existing and new equipment in the electric and telephone industry.

"Labor and equipment donated by various firms and individuals made this facility possible," Ed W. Kerlick, chief instructor, said. Workmen this week completed another phase with the installation of poles, transformers, wire and other equipment needed for the training field.

M. Smith of Big Lake and Roger D. Gippert of Lacoate. The scholarships are based on scholastic achievement and need. The Moorman Manufacturing Company, produces various livestock supplements.

Dairy Team Trains For Judging Meets

The A&M University Dairy Products Judging Team is training for two major contests in November. First on the circuit is a southern regional contest Nov. 2 at Ardmore, Okla., where the Aggies match taste test talents with teams from eight to ten other schools.

The main event come Nov. 4 when A&M competes with 27 other colleges and universities at the Students Intercollegiate National Dairy Products Judging Contest in Dallas.

On the A&M team are Gordon Irvin of Milford, Jerry McFarland of College Station, Mike Wuensche of Houston, and Jim Dollins of Waco. Dr. A. V. Moore, Dairy Science Department professor, coaches the group.

GOP Hopefuls Blast Kennedy Administration

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller hit President Kennedy's handling of the Cuban situation Thursday night and said the security of the Western Hemisphere "has been seriously jeopardized."

The potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year said "two momentous opportunities to rid the hemisphere of communism in Cuba have already been lost."

Rockefeller, guest of honor at a dinner sponsored by the Avenue of the Americas Association, said in a prepared address:

"The failure of President Kennedy to prevent or at least retrieve the Bay of Pigs disaster has left us with a legacy of lost faith on the part of the peoples of Latin America."

HERSHE, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater accused President Kennedy Thursday night of joining a "cynical alliance" with the men who boss political machines. The Arizona Republican said this means Democratic candidates can't win without the backing of the bosses "and their corruption-ridden machines."

Goldwater told Pennsylvania Republicans "a party and an administrative so beholden to the bosses must be prepared also to hopes of the whole world."

Because of that, he said, "the vitality of American leadership in the cold war has waned to the vanishing point."

Financial Times Says Soviets Give Cubans A Choice

LONDON (AP) — The Financial Times reported Thursday the Soviet bloc has handed Cuba an ultimatum demanding that it ramp up its struggling economy and restore normal relations with the United States.

If Cuba doesn't bow to these demands, the paper said, it will cease receiving economic aid from Soviet bloc countries.

The Financial Times, quoting unofficial reports, said the show-down with the Cubans developed at this month's Prague meeting of Comecon-the Soviet-led Eastern bloc economic organization.

It said the ultimatum will call on Cuba to receive a powerful European which will reform the Caribbean island's economy and even part of its political system.

AUSA Plans 9th Annual Meeting For Washington

WASHINGTON (ANF) — The Association of the U. S. Army will hold its Ninth Annual Meeting October 21-23 at the Sheraton-Park Hotel in Washington, D. C. More than 3,000 members are expected to attend.

AUSA has scheduled a full program of objectives of the national gram encompassing the world-defense system in general, and the Army's missions more specifically.

Among the guest speakers at the convention will be Vice President of the United States Lyndon

B. Johnson, Secretary of the Army Chief of Staff General Earle G. Wheeler.

There will be special exhibits stressing the accomplishments of the Army in the fields of electronics, battlefield technology and other facets of the Army's defense objectives.

The George Catlett Marshall Dinner, a highlight of the yearly AUSA event, will be held October 23. At the dinner, the Marshall Memorial Medal will be awarded to Gordon Gray.

Some Educational Expenses Are Legal Tax Deductions

With the fall term under way, the Internal Revenue Service is getting questions about educational expenses as Federal income tax deductions. Many inquiries are from teachers.

"Expenses for education," said Clarence E. Carlson, administrative officer for the Bryan Internal Revenue Office, "are deductible if the course or courses are for maintaining or improving skills required by the person in his job, or in meeting express requirements set by the employer."

"Expenses," he continued, "are not deductible if the education or training is undertaken primarily to obtain a new position or attain one's general educational improvement for personal purposes."

Tom Thomsen wanted challenging work

He found it at Western Electric

T. R. Thomsen, B.S.M.E., University of Nebraska, '58, came to Western Electric for several reasons. Important to him was the fact that our young engineers play vital roles right from the start, working on exciting engineering projects in communications including: electronic switching, thin film circuitry, microwave systems and optical masers.

Western Electric's wide variety of challenging assignments appealed to Tom, as did the idea of advanced study through full-time graduate engineering training, numerous management courses and a company-paid Tuition Refund Plan.

Tom knows, too, that we'll need thousands of experienced engineers for supervisory positions within the next few years. And he's getting the solid experience necessary to qualify. Right now, Tom is developing new and improved inspection and process control techniques to reduce manufacturing costs of telephone switching equipment. Tom is sure that Western Electric is the right place for him. What about you?

If you set the highest standards for yourself, enjoy a challenge, and have the qualifications we're looking for—we want to talk to you! Opportunities for fast-moving careers exist now for electrical, mechanical and industrial engineers, and also for physical science, liberal arts and business majors. For more detailed information, get your copy of the Western Electric Career Opportunities booklet from your Placement Officer. Or write: Western Electric Company, Room 6405, 222 Broadway, New York 38, N. Y. And be sure to arrange for a personal interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.
