

Heck No, There's None Left

Senate To Promote Dorm Sign Contest

Competition Due To Begin Monday

In an effort to eliminate obscene signs from campus dormitories, the Student Senate resolved Thursday night to conduct weekly football sign contests for the remainder of the grid season.

The contest will begin Monday, with judging scheduled for Wednesday.

Competition will be campus-wide, with Corps dorms and civilian dorms competing in the same contest.

Upon suggestion of Larry Garrett, a minimum prize of $5 will be awarded to the outfit or civilian dorm with the winning sign. Signs will be judged on the bases of originality, humor and satire.

Bob Miller, chairman of the Senate's student life committee, is in charge of arranging and conducting the contest.

COMMENTING on the appearance of signs constructed so far this year, junior Senator Frank Muller said, "They are crude, let's face it; some of them are lewd."

Corps commander Paul Dresser said that sign regulating had been originally delegated to the Corps chaplains. "We didn't want our chaplains to act as a police force," Dresser noted.

"Many of the signs are not symbols of outfit spirit," Dresser added. "It's not good Aggie bull."

He went on to say that the purpose of the football signs in the past has not been to see "just who can cut a picture out of play-boy magazine and put in into writing."

Contest winners will be announced in The Battalion every Friday following Wednesday's judging. Deadline for displaying signs will be Wednesday noon, the Senate decided.

IN OTHER Senate business, Allan Peterson, chairman of the student welfare committee, announced plans for the Campus Chest drive.

The drive actually began the night of the University of Houston football game, when buckets were placed at various points to solicit contributions.

The drive's kickoff banquet is scheduled for Oct. 24 at 7 p.m. At this banquet Peterson will encourage senior leadership in conducting dorm campaigns. With the seniors behind the drive, Peterson noted, "We could top $5,000 or $8,000, and that would be more than this college ever collected."

A PLAQUE won by Sqd. 1 last year, will be presented to the outfit or civilian dorm leading in contributions. To be eligible for the award, a dorm organization must have 100 per cent contribution, Peterson added.

Seniors Advised To Chant By Ex

By DAN LOUIS JR.

Approximately 125 A&M seniors heard Derrell N. Chandler, '62, of Dallas, advise Thursday night that they lead the Corps of Cadets in a chant of opposition to the A&M Board of Directors during the TCU-A&M football game this weekend.

Chandler suggested for the chant: "To Hell With The Board of Directors."

Bob Rowland '57 of Houston, and Chandler met with the seniors in a Bryan city park at about 8:30 Thursday. The two said they had been asked to come to the meeting because some of the Cadets on campus wanted to know what they could do "to save the Corps of Cadets at Texas A&M."

THE MEETING came on the heels of swearing in ceremonies of the Cadet officers of the Corps Thursday afternoon at which time Col. Denzil L. Baker explained the position of commandant's officer in relationship to the Corps of Cadets. However, the meeting of the group with Chandler and Rowland had been scheduled prior to the 5 p.m. swearing-in ceremonies.

Rowland and Chandler told the students that if they really wanted to fight co-education at A&M (which they contend is causing lack of Spirit in the Corps of Cadets) they must organize and get themselves a leader.

THE STUDENTS then decided that they should form a committee made up of representatives of the Corps units which were present at the meeting. This committee was instructed by the group to organize a concentrated fight for its goals and organize the frame work for Chandler's suggested chant at the TCU-A&M game.

Rowland promised the group that if they would draw up a resolution stating their purposes, he would see to it that "it gets into all the papers in the state."

United Chest Fund Moves Into Extra Day

The College Station United Chest fund campaign moved Friday into an extra day with hopes high that the $18,000 goal would be reached before the 4:30 p.m. report meeting of the Chest directors.

Chest officials applauded volunteer workers whose receipts for the 10-day campaign totaled $16,393.19, or 91 per cent of the goal.

"This response is most encouraging," declared Chris H. Groneman, campaign director. "It indicates College Station citizens and A&M University are interested in the 15 participating agencies which meet community needs."

Groneman reported five other groups had joined the Silver Certificate list. Reporting 100 per cent giving were Chemurgic laboratory of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station, Counseling and Testing Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Agricultural Marketing Service, FBI, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, and the Department of Industrial Education.

The campaign director noted the ASC agency employs more than 70 persons. Groneman also pointed out the work of E. E. Vezey who solicited College Station citizens. The College Station gifts this year far exceeded previous drive totals in this category.

"We are most grateful to all those who have worked and contributed," Groneman said. "I feel sure the goal will be attained this weekend."

Raymond V. Hite Dies After Illness

Raymond V. Hite, 47, supervisor and record keeper at the A&M Data Processing Center, died Thursday night at his home.

He had been suffering from a respiratory ailment. The body was taken to the Memorial Funeral Home in Bryan, where arrangements were pending Friday morning.

Hite came to A&M in 1953 from private practice in public accounting. He was supervisor of tabulating equipment in Fiscal Department before going to the Data Processing Center in 1958.

He was an active member of the Saint Thomas Episcopal Church in College Station and lived at 1004 Winding Road.

Today's Thought

What is the truth? The truth is that few Americans know what Communism is, what its goals are, and how these goals are being accomplished.

FOOD, FUN, FELLOWSHIP

Band Carnival Brightens A&M Consolidated Picture

Saturday night is the time for family fun at A&M Consolidated School, when the annual band carnival gets underway. Mrs. Frank Brown III, chairman, believes that this year's carnival promises to be the biggest and best ever.

"There will be a lot of new games, wonderful prizes and excellent food for all participants to enjoy," said Mrs. Brown. Proceeds from the carnival will be used to purchase band instruments, music and for other band expenses.

FOOD SERVING begins promptly at 5:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Mrs. George Huebner, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. W. L. Braddy, Mrs. G. A. Schaefer, Mrs. W. H. Sefcik, Mrs. A. C. Dean and Mrs. W. E. Eckles. Chillburgers, coffee, cold drinks and home baked goods will be sold in the cafeteria. Hot dogs, popcorn, cold drinks, coffee, snow cones and candy will be available on the slab.

Others assisting with food sales are Mrs. Marvin Butler, Mrs. B. F. Liles, Mrs. C. K. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brannon, John Shipley, Bill Moore, Mrs. Fletcher German, Mrs. E. O. Hefti, Mrs. R. L. Hanna, Mrs. J. W. Alexander and Mrs. L. A. Duewall. Along the "midway" will be a fortune teller (a professional who prefers to remain anonymous), and just back from a two-year stay in Africa in Tom W. Bishop, who will head up the tattoo booth. Mrs. Marjorie TheBerge will assist him. The fish pond will be directed by Mrs. W. D. Hardesty, Mrs. Charles Davis, Mrs. A. A. Price, Mrs. C. L. Leinweber, Mrs. R. W. Kelly and Mrs. O. D. Sittler.

THE COUNTRY STORE will feature house plants, cuttings, regular bazaar items and home canned food products. There will also be an array of "white elephants." Directing the country store will be Mrs. Joe Brusse, Mrs. Bill Moore, Mrs. W. K. Henry and Mrs. I. O. Linger. A make-up "beauty bar" will be operated by Mrs. Lee J. Martin and Mrs. H. P. Murray.

The spook house is under the direction of George Huebner, and Robert Marcotte will supervise the hay ride. Senior band members will stake a variety show in the school auditorium. Chairmen for this event are Margaret Brown and Sonny Brown, assisted by L. A. Maddox. Ticket salesmen on the slab will be B. F. Liles and Joe Brusse. Announcements will be made by Bill Gard.

A "DUCK FLOAT" and a football snapping contest are two new games to be introduced at the carnival this year, according to Robert Schleider, Lions Club representative. Other favorites will be loop-the-canons, shooting gallery, coke ring pits, dunking, cake walk and a basketball free throw contest. Prizes may be claimed at a central booth on the slab and smaller prizes will be given at every station each round.

"We are proud of the prizes we are offering this year," says Schleider. "Two of them will be a camera and a transistor radio."

Penberthy Named Foundation Fellow

A&M University has named Walter L. Penberthy, Jr., of Bryan as the 1963-64 Pan American Petroleum Foundation fellow in petroleum engineering.

The fellowship program is designed to encourage advanced study by outstanding students in those fields of science upon which petroleum exploration and production depend. Fellows are selected solely by the institutions concerned and are under no obligation of any kind to the sponsor.

PAN AMERICAN Petroleum Foundation is supported by Pam American Petroleum Corporation, the producing subsidiary of Standard Oil Company.

The fellowship covers all tuition and fees for the academic year and provides a substantial stipend for the fellow.

A candidate for the master of science degree, Penberthy will conduct research studies in petroleum reservoir mechanics under the direction of Professor R. L. Whitling.

PENBERTHY received a number of honors as an undergraduate, including outstanding freshman, outstanding sophomore, outstanding junior, and distinguished student. He was a captain in the Corps of Cadets and lettered in swimming.

Since his graduation in 1958 he has been employed as an engineer with a major oil company in Louisiana and Texas.

White To Discuss African Projects

Lindsey White, assistant director of "Operation Crossroads Africa," will be on campus 12-5 p.m. Monday, in the director's office of the Memorial Student Center.

White is available to discuss next year's summer projects with any interested students, regardless of their financial capacity to undertake such assignments.

Two A&M students recently returned from African assignments under last summer program.

More students are needed to represent A&M in this project.
