Almond Cookies Tea

ALMOND COOKIES

- 1 and one-third cups sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup each vegetable shortening and margarine
- 1/2 cup superfine granulated sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- 1 egg, separated
- 24 whole balanced almonds

Sift together the flour and salt. Cream shortening, margarine and sugar; beat in almond extract and egg yolk extra well. Gradually stir in flour mixture. Using about 1 tablespoon for each, roll dough into balls and flatten slightly; mixture will be dry. Place 1 inch apart on greased cookie sheet; press an almond in the center of each, lightly presing together the edges that crack. Beat the egg white (less than half of it will be needed) until foamy through-out; brush over top of cookies. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly tinged with brown, 15 to 20 minutes. Remove with spatula to wire rack to cool. Store in tightly covered container. Makes 2 dozen.

WORKING FOR MASTERS
Egyptian woman is first poultry science co-ed.
Egyptian Woman Is Number One

An Egyptian woman is the first co-ed to enroll in the Department of Poultry Science. She is Mrs. Ferial A. Abd El-Magnid, who is completing her masters degree in poultry production. Her husband, a graduate student in horticulture, is working on his doctorate. Mr. and Mrs. Abd El-Magnid received their undergraduate degrees at Alexandria University in Alexandria, Egypt. Abd El-Magnid came to the United States for the spring semester of 1960. He was enrolled in the University of California, where she joined him as a student in the spring of 1961. In June, 1962, Abd El-Magnid received his masters degree. Mr. and Mrs. Abd El-Magnid moved to College Station during the summer of 1962 and he started work on his doctors degree. This fall Mrs. Abd El-Magnid was accepted into the Department of Poultry Science as a graduate student. When they receive their degrees, they plan to return to Egypt. Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, head of the department, indicated that he was very pleased with his first co-ed.

Maitre D'hotel To Discuss Methods Of Entertaining

Oleg Gofman, maitre D'hotel at Houston's Sheraton-Lincoln, will give his views on entertaining at the Friday's meeting of the A&M Women's Social Club. Gofman, who came to this country five years ago from France, will try to show how it is possible to be a cook and a hostess at the same time. The meeting will begin at 2:45 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center Ballroom. Gofman's presentation will include table settings, party and menu settings, and the preparation of a flaming entree. The entree, probably will consist of a steak dienne and a wine sauce that a hostess can prepare right in the dining room.

Gofman has been in the restaurant business since he was 15. He worked in hotels in New York and Boston before coming to Houston in January. He speaks five languages, which is very helpful in his type of work. In addition to Gofman's presentation, the program will include an exhibition of books on foods, wines, and entertainment from the Cushing Memorial Library. Mrs. John Seely Caldwell of Caldwell's Jewelry Store will display table settings for Thanksgiving and Christmas. All members have been invited to bring guests to this program, said a club spokesman. Tea will precede the program.

Foreign Students' Reception Planned

A reception for all foreign students attending A&M University will be held Tuesday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the Birch Room of the Memorial Student Center. Invitations have been issued to approximately 500 persons, including foreign students, exchange visitors and guests. The yearly reception is cosponsored by the American Association of University Women, the Campus Study Club, the Pan - American Club and the Agricultural Extension Club. The guests will be greeted by President and Mrs. Earl Rudder and by the Chancellor and Mrs. M. T. Harrington.
