

Vet College Dean Named To Board

Dr. A. A. Price, dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine, has been named chairman of the Interdivisional Committee on Instruction for the Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.

The appointment came at the association's recent meeting in Chicago.

Dr. Price said the Committee on Instruction studies quality of instruction in preparing young college students to meet challenges in the years ahead.

Committee membership is composed of university presidents and deans representing each of the divisions and Council of Presidents in the national association, he said.

Civil Defense Conferences Planned For Texas Officials

More than 150 persons from the Lubbock area are expected to attend the first of several civil defense conferences planned for federal, state, county and city officials over Texas.

The one-day conference began at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday with registration, followed by welcome addresses by Col. Harry N. Tower, Lubbock civil defense director and Mayor Jack F. Strong.

"These conferences are designed to help make government officials more aware of their civil defense responsibilities and duties," Dr. Willis R. Bodine of A&M University said.

The new training program was established at A&M this fall under a contract with the Office of Civil Defense, Department of Defense.

Bodine and Don Timberlake, both members of the University Engineering Extension Service, will be among the speakers at the Lubbock conference.

C. O. Layne of Austin, deputy director of the Office of Defense and Disaster Relief of the Texas Department of Public Safety, will discuss "Why Civil Defense?" following the welcome talks.

Other speakers include Don Decker, radiological health specialist with the Texas State Department of Health; Bill Parker of Denton, Region 5 CD director, and Frank T. Cox of Austin, DPS communications officer.

The meetings will be held in the Garden and Art Center in Lubbock.

While in Washington, Uvacek will meet with the Western Livestock Marketing Information Committee, of which he is co-chairman.

The committee provides livestock and meat information to the livestock industry in western regions. It is composed of marketing specialists in each of the western states.

A special session with the livestock section of the Marketing Economic Division is also planned by Uvacek to discuss tentative research proposals in the field of wholesale and livestock price reporting.

Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist at A&M University, will attend the National Agricultural Outlook Conferences this week in Washington, D. C.

The meetings are sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

$75,000 Given In Prominent Will

A&M University has received $75,000 from the estate of the late Mrs. Zepha L. Miller of Mathis, a member of a prominent South Texas family.

A&M President Earl Rudder accepted the bequest from Richard Wade Miller of Mathis, a great-nephew of Mrs. Miller who she named in her will as independent executor of her estate.

Mrs. Miller directed in her will that the money be used to establish a student loan fund in memory of her husband, Demrie B. Miller, who attended A&M in the early 1900's. She specified that income from the fund should provide loans to help needy, Texas-born students get an education at A&M. Mrs. Miller died in July of last year. Her husband died in 1958.

"Texas A&M is most grateful to Mrs. Zepha Miller for her generosity and thoughtfulness in leaving this large loan fund in memory of husband, a distinguished former student of this university," Rudder said. "This is one of the largest bequests in A&M's history. It will be put to good use in providing assistance to deserving students."

Richard Wade Miller, a member of the A&M class of 1953, is the son of Richard C. Miller of Orange Grove, a member of the class of 1926 at A&M.

37 Kiwanians Hold Officer Training Course In MSC

Thirty-seven Kiwanians from Huntsville, Brenham, Conroe, Navasota, College Station and Bryan held their divisional officer training course at the Memorial Student Center Sunday afternoon.

Dr. W. F. Krueger, Lt. Governor elect, presented the goals for 1964 and the theme "Freedom-A Call to Personal Service." He said there were six patterns for personal service and three general areas for committee service in every Kiwanis Club.

Retiring Lt. Governor, Gus Lampe, reviewed the organization, activities and ratings of the 6-club division during the past year. Past Lt. Governor conducted panel discussion training programs for new presidents and directors in one group and secretaries and committee chairmen in the other group.
