without a point, but the Aggies could manage only four in the same space.

TEXAS HELD a five-point margin with five minutes to play in the first half but saw it dwindle to one at intermission. A&M led by five with less than a minute to play.

Thursday night's game marked the last appearance of Bennie Lenox and Bill Robinette in G. Rollie White. Lenox dropped in 13 points for runner-up scoring honors. Robinette pulled down five rebounds before fouling out in the last minute.

Paul Timmins was the big gun trying for top scoring honors and matching Bill Gasway for the leading Aggie rebounder. Timmins had 14 points and seven rebounds.

John Paul Fultz scored 14 for Texas and pulled off 14 rebounds.

THE WIN CLOSED A&M's season schedule with a 13-1 record in conference play and 18-6 overall. Texas is 8-6. The Aggies have now won seven in a row.

Shelby Metcalf's crew will try for their eighth straight Monday night against Texas Western in Dallas. The winner will go to Wichita for the NCAA regional tournament.

Russell said four or more persons will form the recruiting team which will talk with students and administer the Peace Placement Test.

The next Placement Test scheduled here will be given March 14, beginning at 8:30 a.m. at the Post Office in Bryan. Applications forms may be obtained from Russell in Room 317 of the Agricultural Building.

For the past 11 years, Aggies have chuckled at the predicaments of The Battalion's own comic strip character, "Cadet Slouch" and his buddies. This easy-going, well-meaning Aggie always has the best of intentions but, no matter how hard he tries, the cruel hand of fate usually works against him.

Slouch's career at A&M began back in 1953 when his creator, Jim Earle, then a senior architecture major, started drawing daily cartoons for The Battalion.

"I had always drawn silly pictures as a hobby," said Earle. "During my fourth year I decided to try cartooning. I talked to the editors of The Batt., Ed Holder and Jerry Bennett, and they put me on as a cartoonist. I started drawing gags depicting life at A&M that fall. Soon there was an obvious need for a central character to build the cartoons around so, about Thanksgiving of that year, Cadet Slouch was created."

SLOUCH and his buddies have changed considerably since then. The present Slouch, although still a far cry from the "Cookie-pusher" category, has made quite an evolution. He now has a fuller neck, smaller ears, a better haircut, a sharper uniform and, a good deal more intelligence than did his earlier counterpart. His language and his manners have improved considerably since then. So has his behavior.

But, like most Aggies, Slouch still has his same old problems recurring time and again — women, grades, "bulls," profs and money, as well as his favorite past times — water fighting, "sack-time," his favorite cigar stub, and practically anything coming under that broad Aggie heading of "Good Bull."

MANY OF THE "imaginary" faculty members that appear in the Slouch cartoons bear a remarkable resemblance to actual members. Yet, despite these frequent more-than-coincidental resemblances, Earle has never been reprimanded for his gags.

THE POWER TO STAY

An anchor seems like dead weight, doesn't it? But what mariner would sail without it? For an anchor is not dead weight. It commands the tremendous force of gravity in a wild, raging sea. It can grip solid land to fight driving wind or swirling current!

A few men have thought they could go farther faster without religious faith . . . until the squalls found them drifting helplessly on bitter shoals!

God gave us forces of motion and progress. We see . . . aspire . . . achieve.

But the power to go is treacherous without the power to stay.

So God gave us the Truth our churches offer every human heart.

That Truth is man's spiritual grip on the enduring . . . the eternal.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
