Pan Am Week Schedules Dance, Soccer Tourney

Tomas Pastoriza Featured Speaker

The annual A&M Pan American Week will be celebrated April 12-18, with speakers, movies, latin American food, a dance, free coffee and a soccer tournament to be featured during the week.

The main speaker for the week will be Tomas Pastoriza of the Dominican Republic. He will speak at an informal dinner Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Memorial Student Center cafeteria.

Pastoriza is the vice president and general manager of a major textile firm in Santiago de Los Caballeros. He has been responsible for new industry established in his native land as president of various development groups.

PASTORIZA IS president of a commission in the Dominican Republic which promoted the establishment of a regional development agency in that country similar to the Tennessee Valley Authority.

He is a graduate of George Washington University and received a degree in civil engineering at the University of Santo Domingo.

THE FIRST ACTIVITY scheduled for the week will be the showing of documentary films on Mexico and Argentina. The films will be shown in the Ballroom of the MSC Wednesday evening at 7:30.

A wide variety of foods will be served at the Latin American smorgasbord Friday evening. The dinner will be held in the Ballroom of the MSC from 5:30 to 7 p. m. Tickets will cost $2.25.

Following the smorgasbord, at 8 p. m., will be a film and lecture by Dwight Nichols. The film on Central America is co-sponsored by the MSC Great Issues Committee.

A DANCE SATURDAY evening will feature Tony Amador of Dallas and his Latin American music. The dance will be at 8:30 p. m. in the Ballroom of the MSC.

The government of Mexico is sending a special art exhibit which will be displayed throughout the week in the MSC. Latin American music will be played over the MSC's central sound system.

Thursday and Friday there will be free coffee from Colombia served in the coffee shop.

In an associated event Saturday, A&M will be the host team in the Southwest Intercollegiate Soccer Tournament. The three other teams competing will be the University of Texas, Southwestern University, and St. Mary's University.

MSC Slates Trip To Alley Theatre Play Production

The Memorial Student Center Council has made arrangements to charter a bus for any Aggie interested in going to see "The Best Man."

The play is being presented in Houston at the Alley Theatre. The bus will leave Saturday evening at 5:45 and return to College Station after the presentation.

Cost of the trip will be $4.60, including a reduced rate ticket to the play and $1 for transportation and insurance. The tickets may be purchased before April 15 in the Cashier's Office in the MSC.

The tickets will be sold on a first come first serve basis and space is limited.

Civilians Plan To Pick Queen, Host Skydivers

If tickets sales are any indication, the Civilian Student Week-end, will be a rousing success this coming weekend, and if old mother nature cooperates a sky-diving event will kick off the highlight of the civilian year with a three-man delay drop, with smoke to the Civil Engineering Field at 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

FOLLOWING THE SKYDIVING event there will be an open air barbecue at 5:30 p. m. in the Grove. In case of bad weather the barbecue will be held in DeWare Field House. During the barbecue, 14 nominees for Civilian Sweet-heart will be presented to the students and their dates. Richard Moore, president of the Civilian Student Council said that 1,200 persons are expected to turn out for the feast.

Later in the evening, at 9:00 p. m., there will be a semi-formal dance at the Ramada Inn that will last till 1:30 a. m. Around 700 persons are expected to turn out for the ball which will be the climax of the weekend activities.

THE THEME of the dance will be "Casino Royal."

At 10 p. m. the candidates for queen will again be presented to the students and their dates by MC Gardner Parker. Chips with numbers one through 14 will be distributed to each couple and voting will take place by each couple placing in the ballot box the number of the girl of their choice. After the winner has been announced the emcee will formally present her to the audience as the '64-'65 Civilian Queen of Aggeland.

Directors, Faculty, Staff To Dine Dutch In Sbsia

An informal dinner for the A&M University Board of Directors, faculty and staff members will be held at 7 p. m. April 24. A&M President Earl Rudder announced.

The dinner will be served in the banquet room of Sbsia Dining Hall, and tickets are now on sale through department heads.

Board members will form a receiving line at 6:45 p. m. to greet faculty and staff attending. The steak dinner will be served at 7:30.

The event will be dutch-treat, with women members of the staff invited on the same basis as men.

Reservations must be made by April 22.

CSC Adopts Protest Letter For Two Groups

A letter was adopted to send to the Ring and Silver Taps Committees Thursday night outlining the protest of the Civilian Student Council concerning the decision of the Student Senate concerning Silver taps and co-ed rings. The CSC had earlier voiced unanimous opinion that the decision of the Student Senate was not truly representative of the student body.

The CSC also finalized last minute details for the Civilian Student Weekend, discussed the results of the Safety Belt Campaign and were shown the final design of the civilian distinguished student pin.

ROBERT O. MURRAY, Faculty Advisor to the Civilian Student Council said that thus far ticket sales had totaled 336. These are mostly for couples and a near capacity crowd is expected at the Civilian Ball scheduled for 9:30 p. m. Saturday at the Ramada. Music will be provided by Jimmy Heap and the Melody Masters. The ball will last until 1:00 a. m.

During the meeting of the Civilian Student Council Thursday night it was announced that the seat belt company that is supplying the belts to students as a result of the Safety Campaign Sale conducted by the Council, will forward the belts to the campus by Tuesday of next week. It is planned to distribute the belts to the students as soon as possible. A notice will be posted in the Battalion to this effect as soon as they arrive.

OTHER BUSINESS discussed at the Council meeting Thursday night was about civilian distinguished student pins. The Council had previously approved of having a pin designed and presented to the Executive Committee for approval.

English Profs Schedule Talks On 2 Plays By Shakespeare

Lectures by A&M University English professors are scheduled Tuesday and Friday as features of the second week of the Shakespeare Commemoration.

Dr. Stewart Morgan, professor of English, will speak Tuesday on "The Themes of 'King Lear.'"

ON FRIDAY Dr. John Paul Abbott, distinguished professor of English, will discuss "The Mingled Fortunes of Antony and Cleopatra."

Both lectures are scheduled at 4 p. m. in Room 3 B-C of the Memorial Student Center.

Performances of "Dr. Faustus" are scheduled at 8 p. m. Monday through Saturday in Guion Hall.

"Each age since Shakespeare has had its own interpretations of 'King Lear,' and some of the periods have had their own adaptations," Dr. Morgan said.

"MY LECTURE will look at some of these interpretations and try to find one that is in harmony with thinking in the 1960s," he continued.

Abbott proposes to "undertake a reexamination of Shakespeare's use of the story as he found it in Sir Thomas North's translations

SECOND TO SHAKESPEARE

Aggie Players To Present Marlowe's 'Doctor Faustus'

The Aggie Players, in cooperation with the Shakespeare commemoration, will present Christopher Marlowe's "Dr. Faustus" April 13-18 in Guion Hall. The play will be presented at 8 p. m. daily.

Marlowe, who was born the same year as Shakespeare (1564), is ranked second only to the master himself by experts on the Shakespearean era.

MARLOWE PRODUCED what most critics call his greatest work and is often mentioned as being the equal of Shakespeare's "Macbeth," "Hamlet" and "Othello."

"Dr. Faustus" is set in Medieval Germany and is the tragic story of a man who is gifted with great intellect and learning, yet strives to seek powers forbidden to man. Faustus calls on the power of "necromancy," a form of witchcraft, to summon Mephistophilis, a devil from hell.

Faustus, who seeks material riches, sensual pleasures and absolute powers, explains to Mephistophilis that in return for all these things, he will sacrifice his soul at the end of 24 years.

DURING THIS TIME, Faustus is constantly reminded by his conscience (Good Angel) of his wrong doings. The good doctor is unable to repent, and after 24 years have passed, he is escorted by two gorgeous devils to eternal hell and damnation.

"Dr. Faustus," which director Vic Eiening calls the feature production of the year, will combine the largest Aggie Player cast of the season with a zany bit of costuming.

BOB HIPPI, an old favorite as leading man, will play the part of Dr. Faustus. The rest of the cast, in order of appearance will be Rhea Smith for the chorus; Kipp Blair as Wagner; Charles Kuykendahl as Valdes; Terry Mayfield as Cornelius; Carl Vanderhider as the first scholar; George Lindsey as the second scholar; George Long as Mephistophilis; Jack Brooks as the clown; Carol Schultz and Doris Whiteclock as the two devils; Selma Clack as the good angel; Lee Hance as the evil angel; Terry Mayfield as Lucifer; Paul Bleau as Belzebub; Sally Wynn as Pride; Richard Jenkins as Covetousness; Jack Brooks as Wrath; Judith Nobles as Envy; Clifford Fry as Gluttony, and Selma Clack as Sloth.

Also on the cast are Don Carter as Lechery; John Wynn, Jim Kneisler and Don Carter as the three friars; Lee Hance as Robin, Clifford Fry as Ralph; Paul Bleau as Vintner; Terry Mayfield as the Emperor of Germany; John Wynn as Alexander; Sally Wynn as Paramour; Paul Bleau as Horse Courser; Richard Jenkins as Vanholt; Judith Nobles as the duchess; Rhea Smith as Helen of Troy and Jim Kneisler as the old man.

Carol Schultz is the choreographer, Stanley Couvillon is the stage manager, and C. K. Esten is the producer.

Johnson Gets 15 Day Delay On Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson requested Thursday night a 20-day postponement in the national rail work stoppage scheduled for 12:01 a. m. Friday but received only a 15-day delay.

The news came in a bizarre fashion when a television technician mounted a prompting device atop a waiting camera in a White House office.

ACROSS A SCREEN on this piece of equipment was written the start of Johnson's statement in large letters. In mounting the device on the camera, the technician turned it so newsmen waiting to hear the President, could read it even before Johnson entered the room.

Negotiators for more than 200 railroads and five operating unions met briefly with Johnson at the White House a little after 6 p. m. EST to hear his appeal for a 20-day delay and a request that they give him their decision by 8 o'clock.

Johnson made the announcement after a four-hour meeting with representatives of both sides. He said "railroad service will continue," and that negotiations will resume at 10 a. m. Friday in the White House.

Wayne Johnston, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, said on behalf of management: "We pledge ourselves to continue our efforts to reach a fair settlement in the national interest."

Roy Davidson, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, AFL-CIO, said telegrams were being sent to members of all unions to suspend the strike against the Illinois Central, which precipitated the national crisis Wednesday.

TWU Panel To Present Discussion In First 'Man Your Manners' Series

A panel of four Texas Woman's University students will present the first of two programs on "Man Your Manners" in the YMCA Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

This year's program will be presented in two separate meetings, said Lannie D. Jackson, YMCA president. Jackson said four different girls will appear in the two meetings which will be held Tuesday and April 21.

The first panel will discuss letter writing for blind dates, thank you notes, and asking for a date; when and when not to send flowers; housing and transportation for the girl; introductions and telephone manners; dance manners; car manners; P.D.A. (Public Display of Affection); "Thanks for a nice time," and other problems where help is need.

The four girls appearing Tuesday are Johanna Leister, a speech education major; Paula Rich, Elementary Education major; Charlene Mabry, Speech Therapy major and Lynne Parks, 1962-63 Aggie Sweetheart.

This is the second year for the "Man Your Manners" series to be sponsored by the YMCA.

Gertrude Gibson of TWU, will moderate the panel.
