

CE Society Makes Technology Study

Delegates to the Texas Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers were warned Thursday to keep pace with new technology by the national ASCE president.

Waldo G. Bowman, speaking at an awards luncheon, also encouraged the 200 engineers present in civil engineering is a profession second to none, considering the importance of its task not only here but in outer space.

"But the civil engineer needs to become better known for his services, and we must approach this business of continuing education in serious manner," Bowman declared.

Keith W. Kimmel of Beaumont, a senior at Lamar State College, was announced earlier as winner of the student research paper competition. Runner-up was William Solomon, a junior civil engineering major from Southern Methodist University.

Kimmel's paper involved a built-in safety factor, which, he said, most engineers do not realize exist in construction of various structures. Both papers will be entered in national competition.

Also at the luncheon, Marvin C. Nichols of Fort Worth, veteran civil engineer, was honored by the society for his outstanding service to the profession. The award was presented by his two sons, Robert and James Nichols, A&M engineering graduates.

The meeting will continue through Friday with a variety of technical subjects being discussed in group sessions. Talks by prominent engineers will cover highway, sanitation, water supply and other problems confronting the profession.

Bowman, editor of the "Engineering News Journal," outlined outstanding construction projects underway throughout the world.

"The American engineers and contractors are making it possible for these people to live better," the national president commented. "We are turning deserts into farm areas through construction of better dams."

"But we must keep our competence alive with continued education," Bowman concluded.

Class Slates TV Program

Four A&M students will have their chance to be television "stars" Monday.

The Students, members of R. P. Knight's Journalism 102 class, are Ray Harris, B. E. (Phil) Place, David Risinger and Tommy DeFrank. The entire class had part in setting up the show.

They will appear on "Town Talk" Monday morning at 11:30. The hostess of the KBTX-TV interview show is Mrs. Billie Jean Barron.

The presentation, centering around the Century Council Study, will be on A&M, past, present, and future. The class's two coeds, Linda McGuire and Suanne Davis, will be featured in a three-minute film sequence filmed around the campus.

The program also will present material which is surrounded around student life, academics and facilities at A&M. The program will be divided into a film sequence and a panel interview conducted by Mrs. Barron.

The student coordinator of the program is Ray Harris.

Brazos County Hosts Rivalry

Corpus Christi, Waco, Ft. Worth, and Amarillo are the latest cities which have accepted the challenge issued by Bryan and Brazos County to a reading contest, said Dr. Paul B. Crawford Thursday.

The challenge, issued to 17 Texas cities, will match the cities against each other to crown the top city whose public library has the greatest per capita book circulation during library week, explained Crawford, chairman of Brazos Co. Library week.

Rupel Selected

Dr. I. W. Rupel has been listed in Volume 33 (1964-65) "Who's Who in America." Rupel is the head of the A&M Department of Dairy Science.

Petroleum Engineers Club To Host Student Chapters

The A&M Student Chapter of the Society of Petroleum Engineers will host the eighth annual student chapter meeting and paper contest in the Memorial Student Center April 24-25.

Students participating in the paper contest have gained valuable experience in writing and presenting technical papers. Distinguished Society members from the petroleum industry will judge the paper contest and preside over the technical meetings. Judges have been chosen at large from Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi.

Students in both the graduate and undergraduate divisions from A&M, the University of Texas, Texas Tech, the University of Houston, Texas A&I, Mississippi State University, Louisiana Polytechnical Institute, and the University of Southwestern Louisiana will present papers on various phases of drilling, production and reservoir engineering.

All interested persons have been invited to attend any of the technical sessions, especially students planning to enter the petroleum industry.

The Money Rolls In

Roy L. McClung, right, a senior agronomy major from Seymour, was awarded a $200 scholarship by the Trans-Mississippi Golf Association. Making the presentation is Dr. Morris Bloodworth, head of the Department of Soil and Crop Sciences at A&M. The scholarship was in recognition of McClung's interest in turf management.

7 Journalism Students Plan To Attend Dallas Ad Forum

Seven journalism students and their sponsor are expected to make a trip to Dallas this Sunday as A&M delegates to the Dallas Ad Forum which is being sponsored by the Dallas Ad League.

The Ad Forum, which runs for three days, will begin with a banquet Sunday evening. During the following two days, the students will make field trips to the advertising departments of Neiman-Marcus, Dallas Power & Light Co., Lone Star Boat Co., Republic National Bank and several other major businesses in the Dallas area.

Attending the Ad Forum will be John Shields, sponsor; Ted Jablonski, Ray Chappelle, Marvin Schultz, all members of Alpha Delta Sigma, the professional advertising society, as well as James Willenborg, Dennis Glenewinkel, Jerry Vick and Dave Stiles.

Range, Forestry Slates Barbecue For Mother's Day

Approximately 150 students and guests are expected at the annual Range and Forestry Club's Mothers Day Barbecue May 9.

Jim Bone of Houston, senior range and forestry major and committee chairman, said the fare will feature lamb and salad made from rice instead of the usual beef barbecue and potato salad.

Bone, said the rice will be provided by the Rice Council in Houston. The council also will supply rice recipes.

He said the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, through courtesy of the American Sheep Producers Council, will have lamb recipes on hand.

Co-chairmen on the committee with Bone are Jack Cunningham of Kerrville, and Marvin Ratliff Jr., of Del Rio.

Don Huss, committee advisor and assistant professor of range management, said activities start at 2 p.m. in Hensel Park. Meal time is 6 p.m.

A&M Scientist Sailing Gulf To Sample Water Content

A&M University scientists sailing the Gulf of Mexico aboard the Research Vessel Alaminos seek the equivalent of a needle in a haystack—minute quantities of certain chemicals found in seawater.

The mission is to gather samples from various depths of the Gulf and analyze them for such trace materials as zinc and manganese.

"The trace metals are found at a ratio of only one or so parts for a billion parts of seawater," Ted Thomas, an administrative scientist, said.

The Atomic Energy Commission sponsors the research now in its third year. The findings interest scientists for several reasons.

The scientific party headed by Frank Slowey will pump thousands of gallons of water from great depths of the Gulf of Mexico before putting in at Gulfport, Miss., April 26. The cruise began Thursday at Galveston. Other A&M researchers will board the Alaminos at Gulfport and start a cruise with a different goal.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Every gardener knows human ingenuity cannot be substituted for the miracle of growth. God's secret is God's! But he knows, too, that wild growth means wilderness. Only cultivation makes a garden. So he works with God. And the result is beauty, fruitfulness, abundance. What the man with the green thumb practices in his back yard, the Church inspires across the whole expanse of human effort . . . the cultivation of souls . . . the realization of our spiritual potential. Working with God! What do YOU think life is meant to be? Wilderness? Or the Garden of God? Join us at Church next Sunday!
