Dr. John Nuttall, a Cambridge University graduate in theoretical physics, will come to A&M University in September under National Science Foundation sponsorship as Senior Foreign Scientist Fellow, Graduate Dean Wayne C. Hall announced.

AMONG THE PROFS A&M - Baylor Group Hears Florida Chemist, Co-Author

Dr. Harry H. Sisler, head of the University of Florida's chemistry department, addressed a joint meeting of A&M-Baylor University American Chemical Society members at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Dr. Sisler, a co-patenter of a new process for the synthesis of hydrazine, describes production materials used as a catalyst in producing plastics.

The meeting was held in Room 231 of the Chemistry Building. Dr. Sisler also attended a banquet of the A&M chapter of Sigma Xi Wednesday night.

Dr. Sisler has published more than 100 papers. He is co-author of nine textbooks in the fields of general, analytical and inorganic chemistry.

In 1960, Dr. Sisler received the outstanding Southeastern Chemist Award, given by the Florida Section of the American Chemical Society. He has been head of the chemistry department at Florida since 1956.

W. B. Mansfield of the A&M's Engineering Extension Service is author of a two-part series in the "Meat Processing Journal."

Circulated nationally, the journal carries the article entitled, "Communications, Better Personnel Relations."

Mansfield is head of the Engineering Extension Service's supervisory training department.

Raymond A. Dietrich of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been assigned to cooperative research with the staff of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology.

Dietrich is attached to the Marketing Economics Division of USDA's Economics Research Service. His research field is livestock.

The economist is an agricultural economics graduate of A&M, and expects to complete requirements for a doctoral degree this spring at Oklahoma State University.

Dietrich began work with the USDA after receiving his MS degree in 1957 at A&M.

Election of officers will highlight the 35th annual meeting of the Federation of A&M Mothers' Club at Texas A&M University Saturday.

A coffee sponsored by the Brazos County Mothers' Club will be held from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. in the Memorial Student Center.

Committee reports and history book displays of 54 clubs will follow, Mrs. John G. Frank of Houston, president, announced.

Henry D. Smith, chief of A&M's Firemen's Training School, will participate in two national meetings in Dallas this month.

Physicist Belittles Laser Weapons

Industrial physicist Herbert Trotter Jr., who developed one of America's most important weapons of World War II, said at A&M University Wednesday that laser-ray guns as weapons are strictly for the funny papers.

"Rifles are much more effective than Buck Rogers' weapons," Dr. Trotter told a Graduate Lecture audience.

The chairman of the board of General Telephone and Electronics Laboratories, Inc., developed the V-T or proximity fuze in 1945.

He said it would take half of this country's electrical generating plants to produce a light beam to melt the nuclear warhead of one ballistic missile.
