Comeback-of-the-year honors on the 1964 Aggie football squad well may go to Melvin Simmons, senior tackle from Odessa.

Simmons was named "sophomore of the year" in SWC two seasons ago when he was a standout tackle for the Aggies.

Last year, just before fall drills began he injured a knee during a conditioning drill in Odessa. Consequently, he was unable to start serious work when the Aggies opened fall practice. He never did catch up.

Due to various injuries in the line, he was shifted to guard but was just another lineman in the Aggie picture.

"I had that late start, got behind and became discouraged. The harder I tried, the more mistakes I made. I should have known better. Had I relaxed I might have worked my way back to the top."

This past spring he was moved back to tackle, a position where he had won super all-state honors while performing for the Odessa High Broncos. He had a good spring and reported for fall practice this year at 212 pounds and in the best condition of his football life.

He's listed to start on the offensive unit of A&M's two-platoon system when the Aggies line up against LSU in Baton Rouge Saturday night.

What does Simmons think about the 1964 Aggies?
"I feel real good about it. We have a lot of senior lettermen (16) who have a lot of playing experience and that's very important in the Southwest Conference. The spirit is higher among the players now than at any time since I've been here. We're hungry for some football victories."

Ags Work For LSU

The Aggies went through another spirited workout closed to the public Tuesday evening in preparation for their season opener against the LSU Tigers Saturday in Baton Rouge.

Coach Hank Foldberg watched over the Cadets as they went through their defensive and offensive formations they will use when they line up against the Tigers.

The Aggies also worked against the LSU offensive and defensive formations in their final week of rehearsals.

Foldberg said there have been few injuries on the squad during the past week and that the Aggies have been progressing on schedule.

"I've been well pleased with their performance so far," Foldberg said. "I thought they did well in the scrimmage Saturday night once they got started. We have been lucky in our progress in that we have had no rain or bad weather to slow us down."

Ag Parachute Club To Meet Thursday

The A&M University Parachute Club will hold an organizational meeting Thursday night at 7:30 in the YMCA, club spokesman Don Deviny announced Tuesday.

John Finks, last year's club president, will be in charge of the meeting. All present members are urged to attend.

S. M. (MONK) MEEKS IN HIS FIELD OFFICE
... named "Out House Poet Laureate"

Monk Gives More Than Top Service

By TEX ROGERS
Sports Editor
S. M. (Monk) Meeks, Aggies equipment manager, is said to be—or to have been—a man of many things, thoughts and experiences.
And if you ask him he will probably tell you the same thing.

Since the bespectacled, smiling Meeks came to A&M in 1958 he has been known more or less around Kyle Field as a second father to the players and a man in which the coaches and athletes could confide.

He has used his experience to guide and direct those whom he has come in contact. Through his wisdom and wit those associated with have gotten at least one thing out of him—a laugh.

Monk is a man of a definite philosophy, more along the line of hard knocks. This is shown when you enter his office under the stadium and a handful of signs and plaques loaded with quotations hits you right in the face.

One reads: "Don't tell me what you can do or have done— show me." On the other hand, Monk states: "They said it couldn't be done—so I didn't even try."
"I use that little comment to show the boys how not to think," he said.

Then he will always come back with the advice:
"Learn from the mistakes of others—you can't live long enough to make them all yourself."

ARE ALL GREAT CHEFS TEMPERAMENTAL?

We can't really say if they're all temperamental... but we know about the chef at Ramada Inn! His disposition is so miserable... his voice so loud and abusive... if his food wasn't so spectacular he'd be out of work tomorrow!
Temperamental isn't the word for him. But the way he prepares a steak! Easily angered?
Salads like you've dreamed off! Mean and sassy? Well, we didn't hire him because he was a nice guy.
