

Rainfall Moves Aggies Inside For Workouts

A steady rain Wednesday afternoon forced the Aggie grid team indoors where they continued preparations for their season opener against LSU Saturday.

"I was satisfied with the workout," commented Head Coach Hank Foldberg. "We just had them reviewing the things we've been working on all fall. It was a polishing session."

"One thing in our favor is a lack of serious injuries. We're doing real fine from that standpoint."

The Cadet mentor had his charges running through their play routine and defending against formations likely to be used by the Bengals Saturday night.

The squad suited up in their regular football uniforms but substituted tennis shoes for their standard footwear. The hardwood floor of G. Rollie White Coliseum was the scene of the workout.

Reports of rainy weather throughout the South have caused some concern on campus about the playing conditions for Saturday's contest.

Foldberg expressed confidence that the turf in Tiger Stadium would be protected by a tarpaulin covering.

SENIOR SIGNAL-CALLER DANNY McILHANY ... to open against LSU Tigers Saturday.

Dan's Not Scared Of 'Ragin' Cajuns'

Dan McIlhany, a senior with two varsity letters, will be starting his first collegiate football game as a quarterback Saturday night when he mans the A&M offensive throttle.

It won't be his first experience as a collegiate quarterback, just his first starting assignment at that spot.

Some contend that Tiger Stadium in Baton Rouge is no place for such baptism but McIlhany isn't worried about it.

"I remember when I was a sophomore there and I was scared to death. But now I realize that those fans (sometimes referred to as 'ragin' Cajuns') can't get down on the field and play. LSU isn't invincible and we're going down there to play them the best game we can."

At six-feet, 190-pounds, McIlhany has the size to play quarterback. He is quick, both with his hands and feet and a field general who has the entire Aggie squad solidly behind him.

Last season he finished as a defensive halfback and was one of the best in the SWC. At the outset this year he'll specialize on offense.

McIlhany is best remembered for his 103-yard touchdown run on a kickoff return which beat Texas Tech, 7-3, when he was a sophomore.

Aggie Coach Hank Foldberg is confident that McIlhany can get the job done as his quarterback this season. "His experience as a defensive halfback gives him a working knowledge of what to expect from the defenses he'll face."

'Steers Picked Again; Ags Climb In Ratings

DALLAS—Fifteen sports writers and sports announcers, after completing a 2,000-mile trip to training camps of all eight Southwest Conference teams, have selected Texas to repeat as 1964 football champion.

The tour-ending poll is backed-up by approximately 300 man-hours of interviews with the coaches and top players at the schools. Of the 15 persons participating in the poll, eight picked Texas to win and two picked the Longhorns to tie for the title.

Joe Heiling, Austin Statesman: 1-Texas ("Never bet against the champion. Texas has the talent to win it again—not the national title, but good enough to win the SWC"); 2-Baylor; 3-Rice; 4-Arkansas; 5-Texas Tech; 6-A&M; 7-SMU; 8-TCU.

Jim Browder, Ft. Worth Press: 1-Baylor ("Probably will come up with best quarterback and thus a winning offense. Tie for first with Rice and Texas is strong possibility"); 2-Rice; 3-Texas; 4-Arkansas; 5-TCU; 6-Texas Tech; 7-SMU; 8-A&M.

Blackie Sherrod, Dallas Times-Herald: 1-Rice ("Biggest possibility is for Rice, Texas to tie"); 2-Texas; 3-Arkansas; 4-Baylor; 5-Texas Tech; 6-SMU; 7-A&M; 8-TCU.

Frank Boggs, Dallas Times-Herald: 1-Texas ("And if Baylor can work out what it now considers its problems, the drought may be at an end"); 2-Baylor; 3-Arkansas; 4-Texas Tech; 5-Rice; 6-SMU; 7-A&M; 8-TCU.

Sam Payne, Amarillo Globe-News: 1-Texas ("Far be it from me to be different; Texas has tradition. Rice looks best on paper but seldom does well when picked. I have a hunch it may be Baylor but it's a major risk to pick a team that hasn't won since 1924"); 2-Baylor; 3-Rice; 4-Arkansas; 5-Texas Tech; 6-SMU; 7-A&M; 8-TCU.

Bill Van Fleet, Ft. Worth Star-Telegram: 1-Rice ("Experienced quarterback and balance in attack"); 2-Texas; 3-Tie Baylor & Arkansas; 5-Tie Texas Tech & A&M; 7-TCU; 8-SMU.

Jim Trinkle, Ft. Worth Star-Telegram: 1-Rice ("Better quarterback, with other qualities of major contenders about equal"); 2-Texas; 3-Baylor; 4-A&M; 5-Arkansas; 6-Texas Tech; 7-TCU; 8-SMU.

Burle Pettit, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal: 1-Texas ("Texas, although not as strong as last year, has fewer critical question marks than other contenders"); 2-Arkansas; 3-Baylor; 4-Rice; 5-Texas Tech; 6-A&M; 7-SMU; 8-TCU.

Sam Blair, Dallas Morning News: 1-Texas ("Top-quality personnel may not be quite as abundant as last year, but there's still that tremendous pride and coaching. CBS may try to buy this team next"); 2-Rice; 3-Texas Tech; 4-

Baylor; 5-Arkansas; 6-A&M; 7-SMU; 8-TCU.

Roy Edwards, Dallas Morning News: 1-Texas; 2-Rice; 3-Tie SMU & Arkansas; 5-Tie Baylor & Texas Tech; 7-TCU; 8-A&M.

Bill Mercer, KRLL-TV Dallas: 1-Texas ("Texas impressed me by its obvious filling of the graded holes and its winning desire. Texas Tech may surprise with size and fine backfield. I see Texas A&M as the sleeper"); 2-Baylor; 3-Arkansas; 4-Texas Tech; 5-A&M; 6-Rice; 7-SMU; 8-TCU.

Fred Sanner, Austin American: 1-Texas ("If Baylor quarterback comes through, Bears could follow Moses out of the wilderness. Texas and Rice appear to have equal personnel but tradition and winning record will have carry-over advantages for Texas TCU only team I would count out of race at this stage"); 2-Rice; 3-Baylor; 4-Arkansas; 5-Texas Tech; 6-A&M; 7-SMU; 8-TCU.
