Ags Go Cougar Hunting Friday Night

By LANI PRESSWOOD
Assistant Sports Editor

The same Aggie team that almost snagged a tiger by the tail last weekend goes on another safari Friday night with hopes of bagging a University of Houston Cougar in Jeppesen Stadium. The 8 p.m. kickoff will see both clubs trying to rebound from losses inflicted by Southeastern Conference foes Saturday.

A blocked punt and a 34-yard field goal provided LSU with a 9-6 edge over the Cadets, while Auburn's Plainsmen stopped the Cougars, 30-0.

The Ags haven't beaten the Coogs at home in their home lair since 1952 and Maroon mentor Hank Foldberg anticipates a rugged contest in Houston before a possible sellout crowd.

"Houston is as big and strong as they were last year," said Foldberg, "and they have improved speed and quickness. We feel the Auburn score is very receptive since 21 of Auburn's points were from breaks."

"They're a much better ball club than that game indicates."

The Cougars will bring a two-platoon system into the contest similar to the Aggie substitution pattern. Reports indicate that the defensive line has stood out in Cougar workouts this week.

Houston will send many faces familiar to Aggie football followers into the Friday night fray. Senior quarterback Jack Skog displayed a potent passing arm in a futile effort against the Ags last year. The final verdict in that tilt was 23-13.

Battering ram halfback Joe Lopasky, a 210-pounder, also returns. Sprinter Mike Spratt will line up at flanker and serves as the Cougars' game-breaking threat.

Rugged tackle Gus Brazina and fiery linebacker Mike Payte are the top names in the Houston defensive picture.

The Aggies emerged virtually injury-free from the Bengal game and with two exceptions will send the same line-up against the Cougars.

Bobby Evans has been slowed by ankle trouble and will be replaced by 239-pound sophomore Lindy Endsley at right tackle on the defensive platoon. In the other change, Yancy Bounds will replace John Nilson at offensive left guard.

Safetyman Jim Willenborg's ailing foot is coming around and he may share punting duties with Phil Scoggin.

The Aggies jelled late against the Tigers and hope their momentum carries over into the Houston tilt.

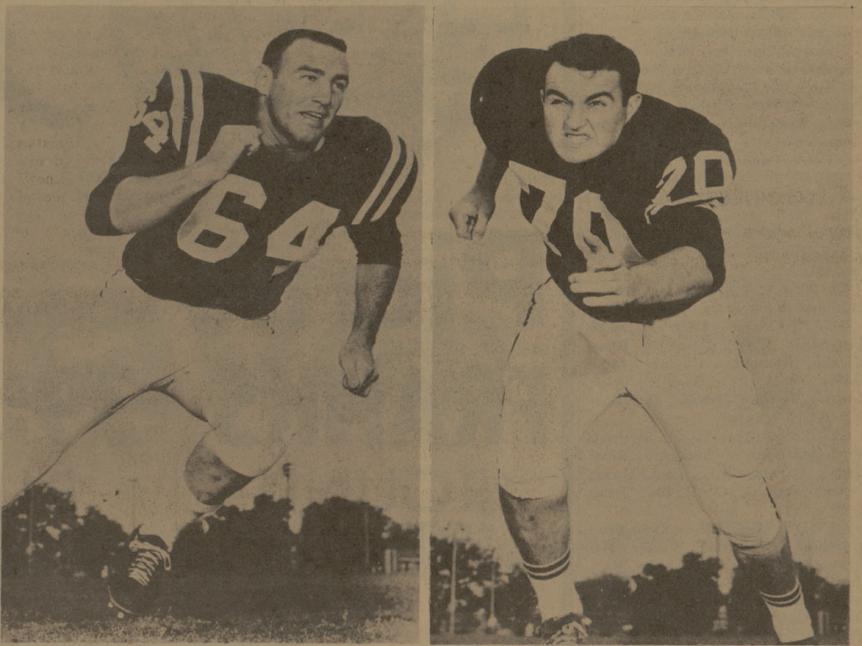

Foldberg has inserted several new plays into the Ag attack this week and will unveil them when game conditions warrant.

The contest pits head coaches Foldberg and Bill Yeoman against each other for the third time. Both played freshman football at Aggie land and both later became

All-Americans at Army in the 1940's.

The game will mark the 13th meeting of the two rivals. A&M holds the lead in the series with five wins against four losses and three deadlocks.

Aggie Rodeo Starts Oct. 1

The 43rd edition of the All-Aggie Rodeo, sponsored by the Saddle and Siroloin Club, will open the gates to all comers in six events Oct. 1-3 at the A&M rodeo arena.

Two night shows are slated for the annual affair, with performances starting at 8 p.m. on Thursday and Friday. Due to the A&M-Texas Tech football game, Saturday's show will begin at 2 p.m. The cowboy attraction is open to all Aggie students, university faculty members and farm employees, according to Gordon Sauer, rodeo spokesman.

Events listed on the program are tie-down calf roping, ribbon roping, bull riding, bareback bronc riding, steer wrestling and an open girls barrel race.

Entry fees have been set at $10 for tie-down and ribbon roping and steer wrestling. Bull riding, bareback bronc riding and the girls barrel racing fees are $5.

Deadline for entering the rodeo is 1 p.m., Oct. 1. Future rodeo contestants may contact Vinson Kirchner at H-13 Walton Hall.

Belt buckles will go to all winners, and National Inter-collegiate Rodeo Association rules will apply for All-Around Cowboy.
