

TT Spoils Ag Comeback, 16-12

A sputtering Aggie offense struggled for three-fourths of a football game in the depths of Kyle Field before it finally came to life, but only too late, and the Texas Tech Red Raiders claimed A&M, 16-12, Saturday night. It was almost a replay of the Aggies' previous week's battle, with the Maroon offense bogging down, and even giving the Raiders a safety, before quarterback Danny McIlhane took to the air in a surprise passing exhibition in the final minutes before intermission. Meanwhile, Tech, led by the Donny Anderson Destruction Co., piled up 111 yards in the first half to A&M's 53, despite hard play from a staunch Aggie defense. The Raiders first tally came easy on the fifth play of the game. A&M, held to downs on its 15, was forced to punt and Raider end Jerry Balch charged through the Aggie left side to block a punt off the shoe of Phil Scoggin.

The loose football rolled out of the end zone for a Tech safety and the visitors were ahead, 2-0, with only 1:38 gone in the game. Then it was A&M's turn to tally, only it was the Aggie defense that provided the punch.

CURINGTON BLASTS FOR SHORT YARDAGE ... Jim Wickerham moves in on play.

Following the punt after the safety, Tech quarterback Tom Wilson fired a pass which Maroon defender Mike Pitman nabbed on his own 30 and raced down the sidelines to the Raider three before Balch collared him.

Three plays later, McIlhaney squirmed over from the one, and the Aggies, for once, enjoyed a 6-2 lead with 10:30 left in the opening period. Glen Lindsey's point after attempt went wide.

The Aggies controlled the football only once after their defensively-earned drive before Tech started a scoring drive from the Cadet 40.

It took 10 plays, with Anderson picking up the most ground, before Wilson sneaked over from the one. With the tables turned, Tech led the Ags, 9-6, with 2:07 still left in the first quarter. The second half consisted of scoreless play confined to midfield. A&M did manage to develop one threat, a 37-yard pass from McIlhaney to halfback Lloyd Curington, in the final seconds.

Tech came back with another score the second time they owned the ball in the third period. This time the drive started on a covered Maroon fumble from the Ag 18.

Anderson rolled around left end from the three and the score was Tech 16, A&M 6, with 8:26 left in the period.

The Aggies managed to hold the Raider attack in the final stanza, and put on an offensive show of their own, controlling the ball almost all the quarter. On a drive that began on their own 48, the Cadets passed their way downfield to the TT 14. Then, with a play from McIlhaney to Curington to McIlhaney, the Pasadena senior nailed sophomore Lawson Howard alone in the end zone corner.

With only 3:06 left in the game and the Ags behind 16-12, a rugged Maroon defense came to the front to hold Tech on downs and into a punt.

But despite how hard they tried, time ran out on the Aggies for once, and history could not repeat itself.

5 Aggie Greats

1st Hall Of Fame To Induct 5 History-Making Athletes

An outstanding track coach, three great football players and the most versatile athlete in the school's history will be inducted into the first A&M University Athletic Hall of Fame here Oct. 16.

The five to be honored at the A&M Hall of Fame Dinner that night are Frank G. (Colonel Andy) Anderson, varsity track coach for 25 years; two-time All-America fullback John Kimbrough; all-time SWC scoring king Joel Hunt; two-time All-America guard Joe Routt and the versatile Bill (Jitterbug) Henderson who won 11 varsity letters in five sports while at Aggie.

Routt and Henderson are deceased. They will be represented by members of their families at the awards dinner. Anderson, Kimbrough and Hunt will be on hand to accept their awards.

Kimbrough was the big blaster at fullback when the Aggies were romping to 19 straight wins and a National Championship during 1939 and 1940. He was All-America both years and still is listed on the all-time teams of both the Cotton and Sugar Bowls.

Hunt, all-SWC quarterback three years (1925-26-27) scored 128 points in 1927 and that mark still stands as a SWC scoring record. His 30 touchdowns and 224 points are career scoring marks for A&M.

Henderson, who died in 1955, at age 36 of multiple sclerosis, won 11 varsity letters in five sports—football, basketball, baseball, track and swimming. In addition, he won intramural handball and heavyweight boxing titles.

Routt, who was killed in combat during the Battle of the Bulge in World War II, was an All-America

Tickets to the Hall of Fame Dinner, which is open to the public, are priced at $5 each and can be ordered by writing the Aggie Club, Box DN, College Station, Tex. The tickets also will be on sale at various Bryan and College Station locations, to be announced later. The dinner will be held in the ballroom of the Memorial Student Union on the A&M campus, at 6:30 p.m.

Morris Frank of the Houston Chronicle will be master of ceremonies. Anderson, who retired in 1957, coached the Aggies to nine SWC track titles. His teams never finished lower than third and only on three occasions did they finish that low. Four Aggies competed in the Olympics while he was coach: Jack Mahan, javelin winner in 1920, Art Harnden, member of the winning 1600 meter relay team in 1948, Darrow Hooper, second in the shot put in 1952 and Walter (Buddy) Davis, high jump winner in 1952.

Moose Writes Agnes Tech No Weak Sister

College Station, Texas Oct. 5, 1964 Dear Agnes,

Well, we did it again—lost, that is. And I guess you think I'm running my letters out of a memograph machine, because that's all I have to say. However, Agnes, I have confidence in the Aggies and I think we're gonna beat somebody — someday, somewhere.

In the meantime, I guess we all learned something. We found out that Texas Tech is no longer the patsy and weak sister of the Southwest Conference, and there isn't going to be many days when the Raiders will give anybody a ball game, like donating trading stamps.

Of course, that's a hard pill to swallow, but when the SWC breather knocks the wind out of you two years in a row you have to face the facts. Believe me Agnes, that's not easy, because when the patsy beats you, the rule of deduction points the big finger at you, leaving no one else as the you know what.

Right now we have to concentrate on our next game, the one with the University of Southern California in Los Angeles. Thinking about that one, and the idea of playing in the Coliseum, sort of reminds you how the Christians felt before being tossed to the lions. That's a thought to chew on.

Actually, maybe the game won't be so bad. I hear the bookies have us only a seven-point underdog, and you can't trust the bookies always. Then USC may still be down from their 17-7 loss to Michigan State. Of course, that's about as possible as me intercepting a pass from George Blanda. Hey, that is possible.

At any rate, I hope you won't give up on me yet, or the Aggies, Agnes. If I can't count on you, who else can I count on besides a roommate with athlete's feet. Gig 'em, Moose
