

American Olympic Drive Gaining More Momentum

TOKYO (AP) — World record holder Henry Carr and two teammates raced into the second round of the 200-meter dash Friday as the United States pressed its quest for a mushrooming number of medals in the Olympic games.

The Americans, making an unexpectedly all around showing, already had 34 medals in their bundle - 15 gold, 9 silver and 10 bronze. Russia, looking somewhat weaker than expected, had 7 gold, 6 silver and 9 bronze for a total of 22.

Carr, from Detroit, ran eased up and was just nosed out for first place in his seat of the 200 meters by Heinz Schumann of Germany. Each was timed in 21 seconds flat, well off Carr's world record 20.2.

Paul Drayton, 25, of Cleveland made the best showing of the three Americans, winning the first heat in 20.7. Dick Stebbins, 19, of Los Angeles, finished second in the eighth and final heat, running behind defending champion Livio Berruti of Italy.

Carr, a speedster from Arizona State University, was the United States' main hope of recapturing the medal lost to Berruti after five consecutive victories in Olympiads.

Carr nearly missed the trip to Tokyo. He won the qualifying race in New York but ran a poor fourth in the Los Angeles qualifier. Officials, however, dropped the No. 3 man in the second race and selected Carr. No. 3 was Bob Haynes of Jacksonville, Fla., who won the gold medal in the 100-meter dash Thursday.

Shortly before the first round of the 200-meter dash got under way in sunshine and temperature that was in the 70s, Russia's Elena Gorchakova smashed the world record for the women's javelin on her first qualifying throw.

Miss Gorchakova heaved the javelin 204 feet, 8 1/2 inches, nearly nine feet better than the old mark held by Elvira Ozolina, also of Russia. Miss Ozolina's mark was 196-1 1/2 while her Olympic record was 183-8.

The United States looked forward to adding to its medal crop later in this sixth day of the Games.

Cardinals Win Series Final

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Iron man Bob Gibson, working with only two days rest, pitched the scrappy St. Louis Cardinals to their first world championship since 1946 with a 7-5 victory over the favored New York Yankees in Thursday's crucial seventh Series game.

The rangy right-hander who once played basketball with the Harlem Globetrotters broke all Series strikeout records with a total of 31, including nine in the finale with big money on the line.

A crowd of 30,346 boisterous fans roared, trumpets blared and horns tooted as the Cardinals completed their rags to riches from seventh place July 24 to the championship of all baseball at the expense of the proud Yankees.

A tumultuous crowd poured out of the bleachers and surrounded the happy knot of white-uniformed Cardinals after Dal Maxvill snared Bobby Richardson's pop for the final out. Maxvill was warmly embraced by Dick Groat and then the whole club converged on the mound, pounding the exhausted Gibson on the back.

Gibson needed help from a burly cop and two special park attendants to escape from the well-wishers, finally scooting under the rail in front of the dugout.

Hundreds of youthful fans stood in front of the Card dugout for several minutes, chanting "We want the Birds. We want the Birds." Only a posse of police kept them from charging down the steps toward the clubhouse.

Obviously tiring under the heavy burden of pitching a 10-inning game in New York Monday afternoon and another complete nine-inning job in this one for all the dough, Gibson staggered a bit in the ninth. Solo home runs by Clete Boyer and Phil Linz narrowed his lead to two runs but Manager Johnny Keane never made a move in a fine tribute to his big pitcher.

Gibson's strikeout feast erased Sandy Koufax's total of 23 piled up in last year's Los Angeles Dodgers four-game sweep over the Yanks. It even surpassed the musty old record of 28 set by ancient Bill Dinneen of the Boston Red Sox in 1903 in an eight-game Series.

The victory was a sweet personal triumph for Keane, who had been reportedly on the brink of being fired in late season before the Cards started their spurt. It was equally sweet to Bing Devine, the general manager who was let out by the Cards Aug. 17 and later hooked on with the New York Mets.

The Cards nestled in fourth place in the National League, 11 games out, on Aug. 23 and still trailed the Philadelphia Phillies by 7 1/2 lengths as late as Aug. 31. They won the pennant, of course, on the last day of the season and followed it up by going the route in an exciting Series.

Gibson's opponent, rookie Mel Stottlemyre, also was attempting to come back with two days rest in his third starting job of the Series. The 22-year-old right-hander left for a pinch hitter in the fifth after his Yankee defense let him down in the Cards' three-run fourth inning. St. Louis added three more in the fifth, starting off with Lou Brock's homer off Al Downing, and finished their scoring with Ken Boyer's homer in the seventh.

Maroon Harriers Meet Baylor In Cross Country Meet Today

The Aggie Cross Country Team will defend its 1-1 record against Baylor at 5 p.m. Friday.

Track Coach Charles Thomas said that the Ag squad has been working hard the last week and is in better condition. The Ags ran a three-mile cross country for the first time last week against Houston. They have been accustomed to running a two-mile event.

Thomas reported that Danny Clifton, who won the last Baylor meet, has been impressive in practice. Clifton will be backed by Don Smith and Geoffrey Earl. These three runners make up the nucleus of the squad.

Thomas said that the Aggies need two more top runners. Gene Westmoreland, Bob Smith and Johnny Cosper are the leading contenders.

Baylor's hopes will ride with their ace runner, Rex Garvin. Garvin won the 880-yard run in 1963's Southwest Conference Track Meet. He came in second in the first A&M-Baylor cross country meet this season.

Clifton, the top Cadet harrier, is from Valley View. He won the schoolboy Class B mile in 1963 and captured the Regional mile three straight years.

OUR FUTURE IN COLOR TV LOOKS ROSY

The Color TV market is in full bloom—and GT&E along with it.

The reason? Our Sylvania subsidiary has made dramatic advancements in the performance standards of color TV sets.

In developing these new receivers, Sylvania drew upon the vast research facilities of GT&E. One result: the Sylvania "Color Bright 85" picture tube using a revolutionary new red phosphor that increases brightness on the average of 43 percent over the industry standard.

Our Sylvania Electronic Components Group is one of the two largest suppliers of receiving tubes and picture tubes... used by 7 out of 10 TV set makers.

As a major factor in all phases of communication through sight and sound, it is small wonder that GT&E has become one of America's foremost corporations.

If you're looking for a young, aggressive company with no limit to its growth, you may wish to view GT&E in the light of your own future.
