Ag Comeback Stymied

A late Aggie comeback was unable to overcome two disastrous first half miscues Saturday as TCU's Horned Frogs took a 14-9 decision from the Ags.

The game's opening kickoff set the mood for the rest of the contest. Maroon fullback Bubber Collins received the ball on his own 20 and raced to the Frogs 45 but an offside penalty rubbed it out. Two minutes later, Kent Nix dropped a bomb right in the hands of the lonesome Sanders for the tilt's opening TD. The swift senior crossed the goal line untouched to complete the 27-yard scoring play.

In the second quarter, Nix engineered a Purple march which carried to the Cadet 24. Maroon linebacker Jerry Kachtik intercepted a Nix aerial at the 16 to temporarily stave off the Christians.

Three abortive efforts later, the Aggies lined up in punt formation. Phil Scoggin fumbled the low center snap and tried to run with the ball.

Defensive end Joe Ball hit the Cadet kicker and shook him loose from the pignose. Giant Buffalo Nayfa booted the ball into the end zone and gleefully settled his 231 pounds on it for six decisive points.

The first half still wasn't over, though. Blitzing Ag guard Jerry Pizzitola forced Nix to throw a wobbly floater which Sherman DeBusk plucked out of the air and returned to the TCU 21.

On fourth and eight, the Aggies came out of the huddle in their placekicking formation. Kicker Glynn Lindsey snatched the ball from holder Mike Phillips, though, and scooted for seven yards to the Frogs 12.

The measurement showed the gain to be inches shy and the ball went over.

The half ended 14-0 and the A&M cause looked dim. The intermission entertainment perked the partisan crowd up however.

The halftime show featured a tremendous performance by the Aggie Band, the recognition of the 1939 National Champion Aggies, and the attempted larceny of a TCU band hat by a daring Aggie

The second half was a different ball game. With 10:05 to go in the 3rd quarter, Randy Howard threw a wild pitchout to Frog ace Jim Fauver. The sturdy half-back recovered it and allowed himself to be stopped behind the goal line for an Aggie safety.

With 5:30 left in the third period, the Cadets struck again. A pass interference penalty had given them new life on the Frog 14. Two plays later, Eddie McKaughan swung around right end, evaded a defender, and crashed in for the only Ag touchdown of the afternoon.

The fourth quarter was scoreless.

A&M substituted liberally during the game and 47 men saw action. 20 of that number were sophomores.

★★★ McIlhany Injured

Aggie quarterback Dan McIlhany was forced out of the TCU game Saturday with a knee injury and his playing status is indefinite.

McIlhany will miss the next two games and could be out for the season. Second-teamer Eddie McKaughan will probably step into the starting role.

I love a man in Van Heusen "417"!

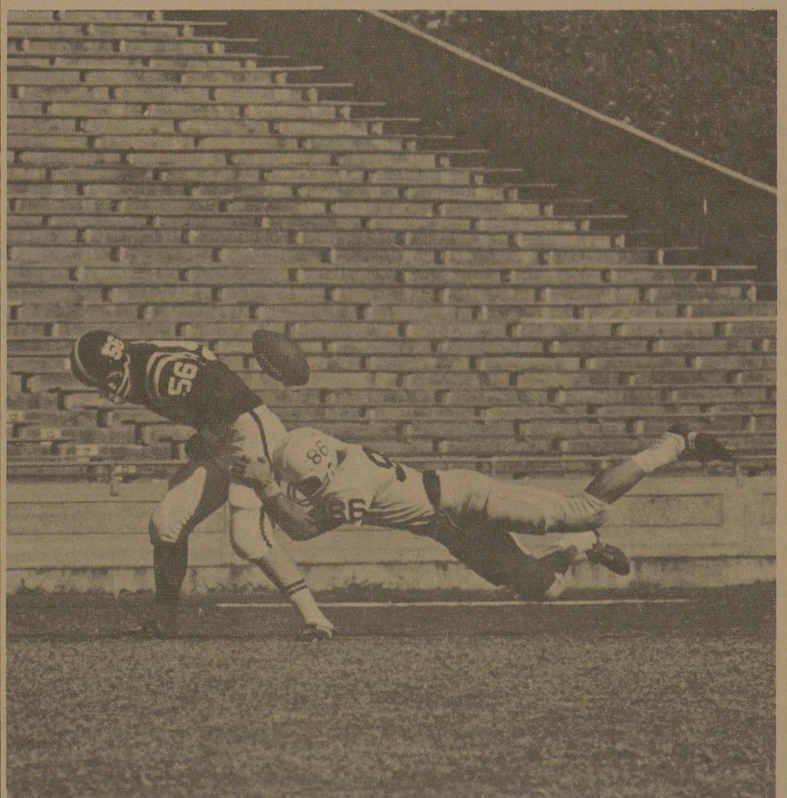

You can tell he's important, ready to move up. That "V-Taper" fits and flatters his rugged, rangy physique, and the executive styling of traditional button-downs or crisp Snap-Tabs should take him to the top. Broadcloth or oxford, in all the greatest colors, oh man... that's the shirt for my man!

Cadet Soccer Team Opens With Victory

The A&M Soccer team opened their season at home Sunday with a 2-1 victory over Juventus of Houston. The speed and stamina of the Ag squad was the deciding factor in the hard-fought match.

The outweighed Cadets employed their typical fast break and low pass game to open up a 1-0 half-time lead. A high wind favored the Juventus in the second half and helped them tie the score late in the game. Four minutes later, the Maroon offense raced to the deciding goal of the match.

Team captain Jasson Gryzagoridis praised the performance of each of his squadmen. He termed the victory a team effort and refused to single out any individuals.

Sunday the Aggies meet Sam Houston State College in Houston's Memorial Park at 1:30 p.m.

Missed PAT Pass Reception Deemphasized By Hog Coach

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Even if Texas' crucial pass for a two-point conversion in the waning minutes had been caught, Arkansas still might have come away with its 14-13 upset of the Longhorns Saturday night.

The reason: Hix Green was racing along about the one-and not in the end zone when Marvin Kristynik's hurried pass fell to the ground behind him.

"We could have made a stab at Green," Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Monday after viewing the game films.

"We were in position to tackle him but it would have been close. If it had been a good tackle, we would have had him."

Kristynik's pass, the difference between victory and defeat with only 1:27 left to play, went awry when Arkansas' Jim Finch charged through the line and put a hard rush on the Texas quarterback.

Broyles, still elated after two days of pandemonium in this mountain university town, said game films showed him nothing he didn't already know about the game.

"It was just two good football teams playing a great game," he said. Broyles said the Hogs did not work up anything new for the Texas game "outside of the little changes that you make for any game."

Arkansas, ranked eighth last week in the Associated Press poll, used an 81-yard punt return by Ken Hatfield and a 33-yard pass from quarterback Fred Marshall to end Bobby Crockett for its touchdowns. Tom McNelly kicked the extra points.

Texas drove 70 yards for its second touchdown late in the game and Ernie Koy went over from the two to make it 14-13. Then Texas went for the victory on the two-point conversion try.

Broyles said he agreed with Texas Coach Darrell Royal's decision to go for the victory instead of a tie.

"I don't think any football coach in America would have done differently," said Broyles.

Broyles said he had been on the telephone almost constantly after he returned from Austin after midnight Sunday.

"But I don't mind," he said. "They don't call you when you lose."

Although the victory broke Arkansas' record to 5-0, Broyles he still was not looking any further ahead than Saturday's nonconference game with Wichita State in Little Rock.

"They have more speed anybody we've played," he said. "They're big and they use a defense. It won't be a breeze for us by a long shot."

Broyles said Arkansas star Larry Lamb, who was injured in a Texas game, would not see action against Wichita.

The Arkansas coach said tumultuous welcome the Hogs when their plane landed at Fayetteville had him worried.
