

Dr. James Potter, head of the Department of Physics, has been chosen as a council member in Sigma Pi Sigma, the only national physics honor society. Potter learned of his appointment in a letter from Dr. Marsh W. White, executive secretary of the Sigma Pi Sigma. Said White, "The members of the Executive Council feel you have the desired qualities of leadership and administrative ability required to hold this important position." The Society has segmented the country into zones. The zone in which Potter was chosen is "O," and consists of all but far west Texas.

Dr. Don Ferris of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology will present a program for vocational agriculture teachers at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in Glen Rose.
