

Unitarians Get New Building

UNITARIAN CHURCH ... fellowship moves in Sunday.

A service to dedicate the new building of the Unitarian Fellowship is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Sunday, announced Henry Rakoff, chairman of the Fellowship. The new building is located at 305 Old Highway 6, South in College Station.

The Unitarian Fellowship was organized here in 1957 with only a few families and has grown in size since that time. Last year it was decided that because of the rapid growth and the recognized potential growth of the Fellowship that it should have its own building.

The building, which was formerly owned by the A&M Christian Church, was purchased by the Unitarians last July.

In addition to the main building, where the regular 8 p.m. Sunday meetings are held, there is also a Sunday School building on the property which accommodates the Unitarian Religious Education classes each Sunday morning at 10 a.m.

The College Station Unitarian Fellowship is a member of the American Unitarian-Universalist Association with headquarters in Boston and is also a member of the Southwest Unitarian-Universalist Conference.

Two Unitarian ministers will participate in the Dedication Service on Sunday. The Reverend Philip Schut, director of the Southwest Unitarian-Universalist Conference will present the opening words and the change to the congregation.

Battalion Church News

A delegation of 12 Aggies will travel to Sam Houston State Teachers College in Huntsville Thursday to present a vesper service at the Sam Houston Baptist Student Union.

This will be part of an exchange program being conducted between the two BSU's.

Prentiss W. Chunn, director of the local BSU, will be in charge of vespers at 7 p.m. Thursday.

"He Took It Upon Himself" will be the Rev. W. L. McPheerson's topic in a special Thanksgiving service at A&M Methodist Church at 10:55 a.m. Sunday.

"Providence and Predestination" will be discussed by the Rev. J. Phil Kirby as part of a series on "Great Ideas of the Bible" at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at the Wesley Foundation Building.

The last in the series of seminars sponsored by the University Lutheran Church will be at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Presbyterian Student Center.

Charles Reed of the A&M Department of Chemistry will speak on "The Mind of the Machine."

Lay Readers and men interested in becoming Lay Readers will meet at St. Thomas' Chapel at 8 p.m. Sunday.

A Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Faith United Church of Christ, the A&M Presbyterian Church, and the First Presbyterian Church of Bryan will be at 9 a.m. Nov. 26 at the Faith Church.

The Rev. Paul Baumer, pastor of Faith United Church of Christ, will speak, and the Rev. Richard Thomas, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will serve as liturgist.
