

Fish Standout Confident About Shorthorn Contest

By BOB SPIVEY
Asst. Sports Editor

"We will beat the hell out of the Shorthorns," predicts burly Fish tackle Howard Van Loon. "I feel that we found ourselves in the last half of the Texas Tech game."

The Fish are winless so far this season and the Shorthorns are undefeated.

The 6'2", 230-pounder says that key injuries and mistakes have hampered the Fish this season. He added "I believe that we have just as good a team as any other freshman club in the conference."

The mainstay of the Fish line this season has been the former all-stater from Rotan.

Fish Coach Dick Johnson says,

"Van Loon has played excellent ball for us this year."

The fledging Aggie lettered four years in football at Rotan. He captured all-area honors while a sophomore, made all-state his junior year and was picked to the super all-state team. After his senior year he was selected to play in the Big 33 game in Hershey, Penn. He was elected captain of the Texas squad by his teammates.

He took time out from football to letter three years in basketball and four years in track.

While a sophomore he won the state Class A discus and shotput crown. His junior year he won the state discus title and set a still standing mark of 175' 3/4". As a senior he returned to win the shotput event, setting a Class

A record of 63' 6".

He took part in the Red Raider Relays and threw the shot farther than any other high school student in the nation with a mark of 64' 5". With Olympian Randy Matson in the Varsity shotput and Van Loon as a freshman, A&M should sweep the weight next year.

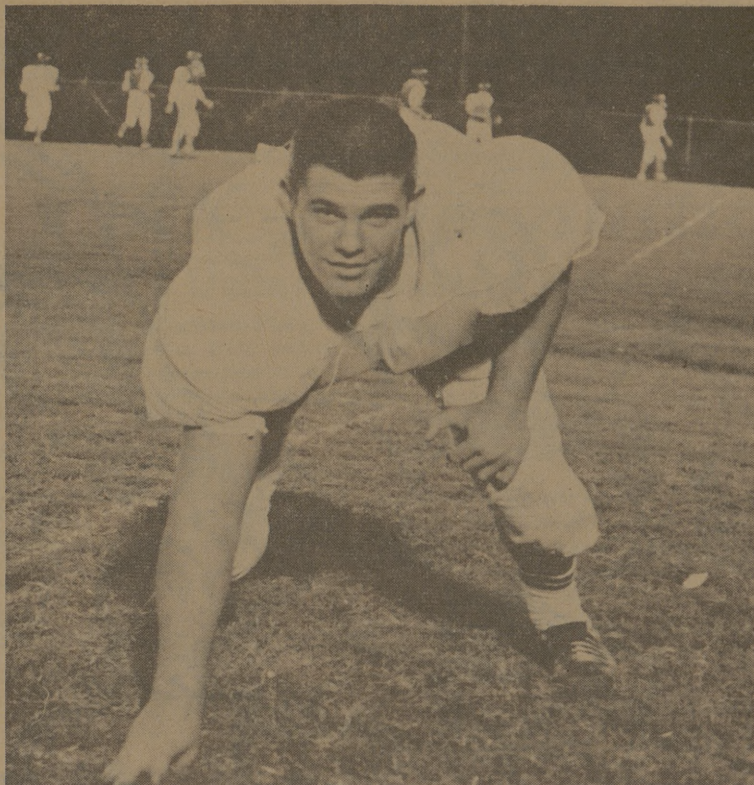

Van Loon has been a constant defensive threat as well as an offensive terror this year. He was constantly in both the Baylor and Texas Tech backfield.

The former Rotan "Yellowhammer" ace feels that he plays better on offense than on defense. However he must not be doing too bad as he has averaged 50 minutes a game this season.

Van Loon chose A&M for his college home because of the famous Aggie traditions, saying, "I like the way that the Ags always seem to stick together."

The P. E. major plans to make coaching his career after trying his hand in professional football.

Aggie supporters will be glad when the huge freshman dons his varsity uniform. If he continues to play the hardnosed brand of football that he has exhibited so far this season he will be a prime contender for coach Hank Fulberg's starting eleven next year.

TACKLE HOWARD VAN LOON ... goes against Shorthorns Saturday.

Ag Bowlers To Participate In Fort Worth Tournament

The Texas A&M Bowling team will journey to Fort Worth Saturday to participate in the second round of the Texas Intercollegiate Bowling Congress.

In the season's standings of the T.I.B.C. the Aggie Bowlers are up on top with 10 wins and two losses. Arlington State is in second place followed by Trinity and Texas.

The Aggies will be represented by a five man team: Perry Kinder, 191 average; Larry Glisan, Rich Rasmussen, Jim Milstead, all with 188 averages; and Bob Korose, with a 190 average.

Paul Nagid, who holds a 181 average will also attend the tournament as an alternate. The advisor for the team, Marvin "Pro"

Butler, will also be on hand to the meet.

This is the sixth year the T.I.B.C. has been in existence and the Aggies won the championship the first four years. In 1963 the Ag finished the regular season of play ending in a tie for first place.

The tournament will be held between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the G.S.L. Lanes in Fort Worth.

The other schools participating in the meet will be San Antonio College, T.C.U., University of Houston and Baylor.

The T.I.B.C. meets approximately once a month at the home lanes of one of the member schools. The tournament will be held at Texas A&M in March, 1965.

NOTES and QUOTES

By Spec Gammon

Aggie defensive guard Ronney Moore lauded Rice's line for its great blocking on pass plays. "Best I've faced," Moore said . . .

Jess Neely of Rice said his Owls played "our best balanced game of the year, both on offense and defense" . . . in the 19-8 win over the Aggies . . .

A&M's freshman basketball players will wear long Maroon socks this season . . . and, the varsity may don 'em next season . . .

Richard Barker, Texas Aggie who was SWC singles runner-up and a member of the SWC doubles championship team last season, recently received high praise for his sportsmanship in TENNIS, official magazine of Texas Tennis Association . . . Two letters to the editor from Tom Hill of Odessa included these statements . . . "Richard Barker, Texas A&M's No. 1 netter captured the affection of all the spectators during the Odessa and An-draws Highway 80 meets. A little shrug which was hardly noticeable, accompanied a glaring error. Then, when his opponent made a brilliant shot, Richard always commented with "great shot." . . .

After Barker won the sportsmanship trophy at Sweetwater, Hill wrote again . . . "Due to the magnetic personality of this ambassador for tennis, I would like to nominate him as the 'outstanding player' of the year for Texas Tennis" . . . Barker won the men's singles titles at Andrews, San Angelo and Sweetwater. He is a senior from San Saba . . .

When the Aggies drove 80 yards for a touchdown against Rice last Saturday, it marked the first time for the Owls to allow a TD in five home games this season. Other teams which invaded Rice Stadium and couldn't score a touchdown were LSU, Texas, West Virginia and Texas Tech . . .

Intramurals

D-3 captured the Class B bowling flag with an overall team series of 1697. Steve Hightower rolled a 570 to take high individual series for the D-3 threesome. William Kender added a 568 series while Ken Matton tossed a 559.
