Gymnast Club Represents A&M In Area AAU Meets

By LARRY JERDEN Sports Staff

On the A&M campus there are numerous organizations to serve the many varied interests of the student body. One of the most active of the several athletic clubs is the A&M Gymnastics Club.

The organization is one of the oldest athletic clubs on campus and since gymnastics is not a recognized Southwest Conference sport, it serves to represent the university in this competition.

N. A. Ponthieux is the faculty advisor of the group and Mike Beaumont is the president. The members work out as a team from 5:00 to 6:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings and every night during the week preceding a meet.

These group meetings represent only a small fraction of the individual member's effort, since some gymnasts work out daily or at least every-other-day.

Each year the club takes part in AAU-sanctioned meets throughout the state and occasionally in neighboring states. They also put on demonstrations for groups seeking their services.

Last year the group performed at halftime during an Aggie basketball game. Their next exhibition will be Feb. 23, when they entertain the Hearne High School students with their skills. Most of their meets are in March and April.

The first of these meets will be in Houston. The novice and junior divisions will be held April 9 and 10, while the seniors will perform April 23-24. Ponthieux said he had four boys who should letter this year, including three returning lettermen from the five who lettered last year. Letters are awarded members on the basis of points earned in the meets.

The team is untested in competition this year, but Ponthieux did give some indication of their chances based on past performances and individual workouts. The events scheduled for the Houston meet are free exercise, horizontal bars, parallel bars, tumbling, still rings, trampoline, sidehorse and longhorse.

Ponthieux said Mickey Batsell, one of the returning lettermen, should place well in the free exercise and longhorse events. On the parallel bars, the Aggies' chances should be well managed by Bill Farrell and Beaumont, both returning lettermen, and by Paul Maddox, considered by Ponthieux the most outstanding Fish on the team.

He will be entered in the novice division while the others will compete in the junior and senior bracket. Beaumont should also place in the horizontal bars with Farrell and also on the still rings. David Johnson on the sidehorse rounds out coach Ponthieux's pick of club members who should place in this meet.

The gymnastics program has been in operation a good while now, and Ponthieux feels the future should be bright. The continuing success of the club is the result of the hard work of its members and sponsor.

A&M doesn't give any finan-

cial aid to athletic clubs, so the members must pay at least part of their own way to meets and demonstrations. Part of their transportation costs to some of the meets are defrayed through funds from the Exchange Store profits.

Ponthieux commented that, "We don't get to go to some meets in Oklahoma and Louisiana each year due to a lack of funds."

Goldwater's Hook Kayos Spectator

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Like most duffers, Barry Goldwater complained Wednesday his golf handicap was too low, then later one of his straying tee shots landed and injured a spectator.

Playing in the pro-amateur competition preceding Thursday's opening of the 72-hole Phoenix Open, Goldwater hooked a ball the sixth tee. It struck a spectator in the face, standing about 100 yards away.

The spectator, Wilbur Allen, suffered cuts and was hospitalized. His condition was not believed serious.

Up until that accident was his round, Goldwater was playing with the quips.
