High School Cager Hits Long Basket

KINGSPOUR, Tenn. (AP)—The clock showed two seconds until intermission Tuesday night when Sam Bedford, Kingsport High School senior, grabbed a rebound off the opponents' backboard. He wound up, threw the basketball downcourt, and it swished through the net without touching the rim. A tape was brought out immediately and the shot was measured at 73½ feet.

Aggie Badminton Players Compete In Ancient Sport

By LARRY JERDEN Sports Staff

One of the oldest sports known to man is badminton. In America, and Texas in particular, it is a relatively new innovation. The sport was invented in India, and came to America by way of British colonialism through Europe.

Nowhere in America is it an intercollegiate sport, but everywhere it is a popular recreational pastime. As with all competitive pastimes, enthusiasts band together to promote and enjoy their sport. So it is with badminton at A&M.

The A&M Badminton Club has been organized for some eight years now, and has had its fair share of winning and losing. It has also had in its membership one of the greatest badminton players ever to reside in this country.

Today's club is guided by N. A. Ponthieux as faculty advisor, and William Milan as president. Its membership fluctuates around a hard core of eight men who compose most of the traveling teams. The club's activities range from intra-club contests to meets attracting teams from all over the South.

The major tournaments which the club attends each year are the Southwestern Badminton Association Tournament in Dallas, the Western Intercollegiate Badminton Tournament at Baylor, the Houston Tournament and the Denton Tournament.

One of the favorite activities of the club is the annual exchange matches with the coeds from Sam Houston State. The purpose of the matches is to give the Aggie practice at mixed doubles. The result is one of the year's high lights for the club members.

In last year's competition Bruce Darling and Milan teamed up to reach the semifinals in doubles at the Baylor tournament as Milan reached the same level in singles. At the Denton tournament the pair reached second place in the doubles.

In this year's Dallas meet an reached the semifinals in singles, Darling reached the quarterfinals in singles, and the team teamed up to reach the semifinals in doubles.

Their remaining tournaments are the Baylor meet March 1 and the Denton Tournament the first weekend in April. If time and time permit, they may enter the Southern Open in Natchitoches, Louisiana March 12 and 14.

One of the greatest players ever to be a member of the A&M Badminton Club was Nandi Wadhwa. Wadhwa was a student here three years ago, and he may return to do doctoral work at the University and, hopefully, compete on the Badminton team.

He is a native of India, and while at A&M he won nearly every tournament he entered. He would win the singles, pick a partner and win the doubles, the team up with a coed from another school and win mixed doubles. The "nearly" was a result of Tan Jo Hok.

Hok was a student at Baylor and is the only man ever to win the Thomas Cup three years in a row. The Thomas Cup is the "Davis Cup" of Badminton. Wadhwa was the only man in the state who could give him a match.

NCAA, AAU Begins Talks On Controls

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Union, which have been feuding for three years over control of amateur sports in the United States, held an amicable, top-level conference Wednesday and agreed to meet again soon in an effort to settle their dispute.

A terse, two-paragraph statement was issued after the six-day conference broke up: "At the invitation of the president of the NCAA pursuant to a resolution of the NCAA convention, there was a meeting of the representatives of the AAU, the NCAA, and the United States Track and Field Federation.

"Plans were drawn for subsequent meetings for further fruitful discussions."

The track federation is sponsored by the NCAA. Present at the meeting were Everett D. Barnes of Colgate, president of the NCAA; the Rev. Wilfred Crowley of Los Angeles, Calif., president of the track federation, and Commissioner William R. Reed of the Big Ten Conference, representing the NCAA.

The AAU was represented by Clifford T. Buck of Denver, its president; Bob Kiphuth, former athletic director at Yale, and Joseph Ehret Mahoney, immediate past president of the AAU.

It was indicated that the next meeting would be held within 30 days. The two powerful amateur groups have been at odds, chiefly in the area of track and field.
