A documentary film on poverty titled "The Captive" will be shown Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Biological Sciences Building lecture room.

The free showing is sponsored by the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology.

William P. Kuvlesky, assistant professor in the department, said recent federal government actions have stimulated interest in existence and persistence of poverty in the most affluent society that has ever evolved in the history of man.

He said "The Captive" communicates the subjective meaning of poverty—the feeling of poverty as it is experienced by an actual family.

Stephens gave a short talk about his recent book, "The Taft Ranch: Story of a Progressive Ranch, 1880-1930," and Nance discussed his second volume on the Texas-Mexican frontier. This volume is entitled "Attack and Counter-Attack: The Texas-Mexican Frontier, 1842." ## Cushing Dedicates Templeton Gift

The Templeton Memorial Collection of the Cushing Memorial Library was dedicated Friday. Participating were more than 50 persons including Mr. and Mrs. John Ben Templeton Sr., and the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Templeton, Jr., Dallas Freedom Forum representatives, A&M President Earl Rudder and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Templeton Jr., died late in 1963 in the crash of a plane at New Orleans. At the time of his death he was president of the Templeton Co., a building and investment firm in Dallas, vice chairman of the Freedom Forum steering committee, and an active member of the A&M Former Students Association. He also served as president of the Aggie Club, made up of former students who assist the university's athletic program.

Templeton received the Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering from A&M in 1950, four years after he graduated from Woodrow Wilson High School in Dallas.

"We take great pride in the many former students of Texas A&M who have made their mark in America . . ." President Rudder said. He declared that Templeton, with the enthusiastic support of his wife, Patsy Jo, took an active interest in A&M and frequently visited the campus.

"I do sincerely appreciate what all of you have done . . . I think it's a wonderful tribute," John Ben Templeton Sr., said.

Dedication of the collection on behalf of the Freedom Forum was made by P. W. Gifford. He was chairman of the Forum's steering committee at the time the Templetons were killed. He is president of Gifford-Hill and Co., Inc., a construction materials and products firm.

"Two of the finest young people I've ever had the pleasure to know," Gifford said of the Templetons, Junior.

"Both were great supporters of the philosophy of individual freedom . . . and these volumes are selected especially because of their relationship to individual freedom and classical economics," he continued.

MONUMENT AT SAN JACINTO BATTLEGROUND BY E. M. SCHWETZ

in 18 Minutes—Blessed Freedom!

At 3:30 P.M. on April 21, 1836, General Sam Houston launched his attack. So sure was Mexican Army Commander Santa Anna of his troops' superiority that he did not even post sentries during the customary afternoon siesta.

The freedom-inflamed Texans, shouting "Remember the Alamo!", sprang upon the enemy. In the incredibly short space of 18 minutes Texas' freedom was won.

Santa Anna was captured. Six hundred and thirty officers and men were killed; the rest taken prisoner. Texas lost only nine men killed or mortally wounded, with 30 less seriously wounded. When the captured Santa Anna ordered his troop commanders to leave Texas, the last threat to peace was removed. Texas was free!

FREE MEN DEPEND ON US!

Today, we cannot—with one decisive stroke—wipe out the threats to freedom that are all around us. Instead, we must join together for an almost unending task of holding at bay those who would destroy the liberty we hold so dear.

Our dollars, banded together in U.S. Savings Bonds, help keep our defenses strong—making sure that no enemy will smash through to victory over freedom.

You can be an active partner in defending freedom by buying U.S. Savings Bonds at your bank or on the payroll savings plan where you work.
