

People-To-People Selects Don Dietz For Summer Trip

Don Dietz III of Corpus Christi has been accepted as a student ambassador by People-to-People and will spend the summer in Europe.

Dietz, a junior economics major, is president of the A&M Chapter of People-to-People. The international program was inaugurated in 1956 by President Eisenhower to provide for greater contact between individuals around the world.

He is among 400 students accepted as student ambassadors for summer programs. The students, who pay their own expenses, will have varied opportunities to meet individuals in other lands.

Plans call for Dietz to spend a week in an English home, a week with a Scot family and the third week in Wales. Then he will travel extensively in western Europe.

The student ambassadors are to meet in Washington for briefings before flying from Baltimore to Brussels by chartered airliner. The flight is scheduled June 20 with the return flight set for Aug. 29.

Dietz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving M. Dietz Jr., of 455 Miramar, Corpus Christi. He graduated from W. B. Ray High School.

450 Enter Livestock Show

More than 450 Brazos County 4-H and FFA members have entered the Ninth Annual Youth Livestock Show in the Livestock Pavilion Sunday through Tuesday.

The show, sponsored by the agricultural division of the Bryan-College Station Chamber of Commerce, attracted more than 300 entries last year and an auction held at the end of the show brought contestants nearly $16,000.

Lloyd Joyce, agricultural division vice-president, is overall chairman of the event. Co-chairmen are Harold Franke, assistant professor of Animal Science, and Jim Holloway, agricultural vice-president of First Bank and Trust.

Joyce said entries will arrive at the pavilion from 2-6 p.m. Sunday. Judging will be held all day Monday starting with sheep and lambs at 9 a.m. and ending with poultry at 6 p.m.

Tuesday will be sale day. Commercial steer entries will be sold during an auction at Bryan Livestock Exchange from 1-2 p.m.

An auction for other entries will be held at 7:30 p.m. that night. Walter Britten will act as auctioneer and Marshall Peters of City National Bank will be sales manager.

Papers To Discuss Italian Renaissance

Italy's role in that great cultural and intellectual change called the Renaissance will be among the questions scholars will pursue in papers to be presented at the 14th annual South-Central Renaissance Conference March 26-27.

The conference will be attended by scholars from four states.

"The question of Italy's role has vexed the minds of scholars for many years," T. J. Mattern said. He is conference chairman and an assistant professor of English at A&M.

"A partial answer may come from the renewed interest in the great Tuscan poet, Dante, for this year we are commemorating the seventh century of his birth," Mattern continued.

Two of the papers to be presented will concern Dante. Dr. Joseph Satin of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls will speak of Dante as an influence upon Shakespeare's "Macbeth." Dr. Frederick J. Hunter of the University of Texas will read a paper on the problems of making "The Divine Comedy" into a play.

Three other papers by scholars from area universities will concentrate upon other aspects of the Italian Renaissance.

Dr. Ian Thomson of the University of Oklahoma will examine the visit of the Greek humanist Chysoloras to Italy in 1397.

Dr. William E. Painter of the University of Tulsa will probe the career of one Italian humanist in an attempt to correct the distortions of surface perception.

Dr. Denes Monostory of Southwestern University at Georgetown will talk on what shaped the mind of the writer Boccaccio and led to his collection of tales, "The Decameron." This collection of tales concerns 10 persons fleeing the plague to Florence.

Their solution to the pestilence will be one of the many facets of sickness and health that Dr. Ariel Bar-Sela of the Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston will discuss in his paper, "The Great Mortality."
