

New Net Courts Will Be Built

The Texas A&M Board of Directors has authorized the construction of four new tennis courts to be built on the campus for intercollegiate competition.

According to Omar Smith, Aggie tennis coach, the actual site of the courts has not been officially endorsed, but surveys have shown that the best location would be southeast of G. Rollie White Coliseum between the drainage ditch and Houston Street.

This location was chosen because of the wind protection afforded the courts by the gym, trees and slope of the land. Other advantages of this site are adequate parking areas, student accessibility, closeness of dressing rooms and a quiet atmosphere for maximum concentration.

"If the new Laykold courts are installed in the prospective drainage area they will, without a doubt, have the best setting of any court in the conference," remarked Smith.

A three-foot fence will surround the tournament-designed courts which are to be recessed five feet below the ground level, thus giving a stadium effect to the bleachers along the north end of the courts.

In addition to varsity contests the new asphalt base courts will be restricted to exhibition and other supervised matches.

"I feel that these new tennis courts are quite an asset to our tennis program in that they have become a decisive morale booster as far as our present team is concerned," Smith said.

"I also think that they will greatly help our recruiting program."

Smith estimated the cost of the courts at $20,000, exclusive of the cost of the stands.

Construction will begin this summer and should be completed by fall.

California Paper Says AAU Has Selected Matson

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Randy Matson, holder of the world shot-put record, has been selected for the U. S. track and field team that will meet Russia July 31-Aug. 1 in Kiev, despite his failure to compete in last weekend's AAU championships, the Los Angeles Times said Tuesday.

The Texas A&M sophomore set the world mark of 70 feet, 7 inches earlier this year, but had to pass up both the NCAA and the AAU championships due to knee trouble.

The Times said that AAU officials will announce their decision to add Matson to the team later this week, but that he will not unseat the two athletes who qualified Sunday. John McGrath of the Pasadena, Calif. Athletic Association won the event with a throw of 63 feet. David Maggard of the Santa Clara Valley, Calif. Youth Village was second at 62-3/4.

It was not clear whether Matson's position on the team would be contingent upon his demonstrating he could better McGrath's mark at a meet before July 31.

2 Schoolboy Athletes Sign

Texas A&M signed an all-state schoolboy pitcher and a champion pole vaulter during last week's recruiting action.

Bob Arnold, a lefthander from El Paso Austin, led his team to the semifinals this year in 4A baseball. He has been all-district for the past three years and made the all-state nine this year.

Arnold remained undefeated during district play and finished the season with 14-1 record, fanning 92 opponents in 54 innings, while walking only eight.

On the road to the semifinals he started in two games. In the first against Lubbock Monterey he pitched a shutout to win 1-0. Returning the very next evening he again stopped the team from Lubbock cold at 1-0. In these two games he struck out 46 men in a total of 22 innings.

His overall ERA was 0.39.

The eighth A&M track recruit is Kenny Walker. Walker, from Whitehouse, Texas won the class B state championship this year. He is 5-10, weighs 160 and has an all-time best of 14-6.

Summer Action Well Underway In Intramurals

The summer intramural program at Texas A&M is now in full swing.

Competition will be held in softball, bowling, and golf, a limited program in comparison with some in the past. W. L. Penberthy, Intramural Director for the summer, said the outlook was due to insufficient participation.

Softball has two six-team leagues that play Monday through Thursday at 6:30 and 8 p.m. on the lighted softball diamond across from the Grove. After the winner of each league has been determined, they will play each other for the championship of the first session.

Also competing Monday through Thursday are the four bowling teams. Each team is comprised of three men. At present the teams are vying in a two-round round robin competition with play starting at 6 p.m. in the MSC.

The latest standings in the competitions:
