

A&M's Journalism Workshop Lively

By HERLINDA DURAN

After registration on Sunday, the Journalism Workshop went into full swing. A Get-Acquainted Mixer for all delegates was held with entertainment provided by the Bryan Folk Singers. The various delegates were introduced by Mr. and Miss Workshop candidates, who responded with a loud yell or cheer. Afterward, a full "hootenany" came into motion as Mrs. Evelyn Orr presented the theme song for the workshop entitled "This Wonderful World of Journalism" to the tune of "Chim Cheri."

This was only the beginning of a long, exciting, week for the workshopers. First, the campus had to be explored. Aggie men viewed with interest the people carrying large white envelopes. Confused by the large campus of Texas A&M, workshopers asked the assistance of Aggie men, who were eager to offer information and a warm welcome. The girls especially felt welcomed. Later, new friends were introduced, and along with new friends there was also new interests, occupations, and talent to discover.

"Bye, Bye Workshop," a final night program and introduction of Mr. and Miss Workshop will be held Thursday night. Friday, an assembly will be held where awards will be given out to the outstanding workshopers and also to the members of the Sweatshopper and Workshopper staff.

Attendance at the Workshop has allowed high school students to get an insight to college life and to become part of it temporarily. As one student expressed regarding the Workshop and Texas A&M, "The whole thing is tremendous."

LECTURES FROM THE PROS
... top newspapermen give views during week-long meet.

after the Parade

The parade is over, and Tim is hot, dusty, and his feet hurt. This was his first parade, and somehow it didn't come off as he thought. He didn't expect to be the whole show, but he did think he and his tuba would stand out a little. As it happened, he was just "one of the band."

Later, he will realize that if each player weren't just "one of the band" there wouldn't be any band at all. He'll start thinking from there, and the parade will seem a lot better in memory than it does right now. For Tim has a good sense of value, for a boy his age—thanks in part, to the teachings of his church and church school.

Tim will weather his disappointments and march successfully through life, instead of giving up. Will your youngsters be as lucky?

Give your children the chance to go to church school.

Air pressure also helps to keep your telephone working

Strange as it may seem, we put dehumidified air in our telephone cables and keep the pressure constant with a pump. If a cable sheathing is pierced or fractured, air seeps out, the pressure drops, and we know about it in time to make repairs before damaging moisture can creep in and possibly put your phone out of commission. ■ This may sound like going to extremes. Actually, it's another example of how Gen Tel people and equipment work continuously to keep your phone in perfect working order.
